Four-H Project Plans Proposed For New Year

Six or Seven Major Projects Including Beef Cattle Will Be Carried Out.

Six major projects are to be included in the program of 4-H club work in Person county during the coming year, according to plans prepared by Assistant County Agent, J. B. Snipes. Club members will carry on projects dealing with the raising of beef cattle, pigs, chickens and calves and will also do project work in corn and tobacco, in vegetable gardening and in forestry.

The beef cattle project will be started in this county for the first time, Mr. Snipes said. As announced at the 4-H Club Achievement day program, officials of the Peoples bank have expressed a willingness to co-operate with the installation of the beef project by rendering financial assistance through loans to the boys and girls who desire to purchase beef cattle, and it is expected that a number of club members will avail themselves of this opportunity to undertake a new problem in rural development.

Members who are going to grow an acre of corn for a project have been drilled in the methods of selecting an acre of land suitable for growing corn. Also, they have been advised about preparing the soil, of fertilizing the crop, of planting the corn, of cultivating the crop and of harvesting.

Tobacco has been chosen by some members and they have been warned about growing the best quality tobacco possible in order to receive the highest prices.

The proper method of preparing the soil, fertilizing, diseases, and cultivating the vegetables have been discussed with the members who plan to carry out a garden project in 1940.

The value of forestry as a cash crop has been gone over with the club members. And such details as cutting out the underbrush, properly thinning the trees and preventing fires as aids to increase the cash income, have been presented.

Stress has been placed upon securing a registered or good grade calf to the members with these projects. The methods of feeding and caring for the animals were called to the club members' attention.

Baptists To Hold Special Service

The annual Thanksgiving sun-rise service of the First Baptist church will be conducted Thursday morning by the Rev. K. D. Stukensbroke, of New Bern, in the absence of the pastor, Rev. W. F. West, who has been ill with influenza at Community hospital for several days.

The service will begin at 7 o'clock and afterwards an offering for the Thomasville Baptist orphanage will be taken up. A large attendance is expected at the service, said to be one of the most unique Thanksgiving services in the state.

RETURNS HOME

Miss Sue Bradsher will return home today from McPherson hospital in Durham, where she underwent a sinus operation. She is getting along very nicely.

St. Mark's To Have Morning Service

Under the direction of E. B. Ferguson, Jr., acolyte of the church, Thanksgiving services will be held Thursday morning at 11 o'clock at St. Mark's Episcopal church. Special morning prayers will be read and a sermon will be delivered. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Rev. W. C. Martin Preaches Initial Sermon At Church

Preaching from the text from the first chapter of "Romans", "I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ", Rev. W. C. Martin, newly arrived minister at Edgar Long Memorial Methodist church, delivered his first sermon at the Sunday morning service before a capacity audience.

"St. Paul", Mr. Martin said, "was not ashamed of the author of the gospel". Elaborating his thesis, the minister declared that, "Salvation is not to be gained by creed, doctrine or by ceremony, but by and through Jesus Christ, for Christ alone has power to save the world."

Mr. Martin, who arrived here last week, has been pastor of Hay street Methodist church, Fayetteville, and he and Mrs. Martin have established residence in the parsonage. They have three sons, all graduates of Duke university, and now living in Durham, Winston-Salem and in Kentucky.

W. L. POWELL OF RALEIGH SPEAKS TO CIVIC CLUB

Safety Supervisor Explains Work Of North Carolina Industrial Commission.

Speaking on the accident prevention work of the N. C. Industrial commission, W. L. Powell, of Raleigh, safety supervisor for the Commission, told the members of the Roxboro Kiwanis club, at their weekly meeting held Monday night at the Hotel Roxboro, that one of the chief functions of the commission is the protection of the interests of both employers and employees.

The North Carolina Industrial commission, Mr. Powell said, was established in 1929, and prior to that time courts in the state were heavily burdened with suits brought against employers by employees who had been involved in accidents in various industrial plants. The established theory at that time was that the employer was usually to blame for any accident occurring in his plant, although subsequent investigations have shown that only a small percentage of industrial accidents can be said to be caused by negligence on the part of the employer.

The first state industrial commission was established in Mass-

MRS. CRISPELL IS SOCIAL AGENCY DINNER GUEST

She Speaks On Sale Of Christmas Seals To Be Held Here.

Addressing members of the Roxboro and Person Council of Social Agencies at a luncheon meeting held Wednesday, Mrs. R. S. Crispell, of Durham, discussed the forthcoming sale of Christmas Seals, annually sponsored here by the Roxboro Woman's club as an aid in the prevention and cure of tuberculosis.

Mrs. W. P. Few came to Roxboro with Mrs. Crispell, and also attended the meeting.

Mrs. Crispell suggested that sale of the seals could be stimulated locally by use of a carefully chosen mailing list. She said this plan had been used with considerable success in Durham county. She also gave some figures pertaining to the mortality rate from tuberculosis in Person county. The report compiled indicated, she said, that 17 persons in the county died from the effects of tuberculosis during the past year.

For many years the familiar double-cross Christmas seals have been helping to make possible the eradication of tuberculosis, the speaker declared, although the seals are not sponsored or sold by the American Red Cross, as many believe, but are prepared by a separate and individual Christian Seal organization.

Orphanage Class Presents Program

Before a large and appreciative audience members of the Oxford Orphanage Singing class gave a concert in the Roxboro high school auditorium. The program was presented under the auspices of Person Masonic Lodge No. 113.

The 14 boys and girls in the group were directed by Mrs. Sadie T. Hutchinson, with S. F. Paul, as associate manager. First on the program was a "Chapel Choir", followed by solos, quartettes and a minuet dance by six boys and girls. Part II was composed of similar numbers and the finale consisted of a "Scotch Folk Dance".

Sponsors of the program reported considerable financial success and said they were well pleased with public response to the attraction.

Observe Precaution

Citizens of Roxboro are requested not to burn off lots or to pile up leaves during the present dry season, according to announcement made today by City Manager James C. Harris. Mr. Harris said that two out of three fires reported in the city during the week were grass fires. Such fires can be especially dangerous at this time of the year, it was said, and people are urged to be careful.

HOEY TALKS TO COUNTY LEADERS

Mrs. Wagstaff And Others Attend District Welfare Conference At Carthage.

Speaking at the Central District Welfare conference of which Person county is a unit Governor Clyde R. Hoey said "There can be no government that does not have financial cares," but added that there is no section of the state "so poor that it cannot join in the federal aid programs. Progress in public welfare cannot be measured in dollars and cents, and North Carolina cannot afford to neglect the care of its old people and dependent children," the governor added.

The meeting was attended by three Person county representatives, Mrs. T. C. Wagstaff, Administrator of WPA and Public Welfare, and by Mrs. Glen Brandon and Miss Marjorie Griffin, case workers for the departments.

Many counties, Mrs. Wagstaff said, also had representatives from members of the boards of county commissioners, and other interested county officials.

Governor Hoey asked North Carolinians to help find jobs for persons who have broken the law, and "have paid their debt to society by a term inside prison walls." It is difficult for a former prisoner to find employment, he said, and it is difficult for a man to "go straight" unless he has a job.

Much juvenile delinquency in the state derives from lack of home discipline and "lack of

NO SERVICES

No services will be held Thanksgiving morning at Edgar Long Memorial Methodist church, according to announcement made Wednesday morning.

Hunting Season Calls Many Local Nimrods Into Fields

Today Marks Opening Of Season For Quail, Rabbits And Grouse.

Thanksgiving plans for many Person county and Roxboro citizens include a day of hunting, for today marks the opening of the state hunting season on quail, turkey, grouse and rabbit, according to announcement made by the county game warden, R. G. Reynolds.

Many hunters, Mr. Reynolds said yesterday, will be hunting Thanksgiving quail, and in this connection he cites the following announcement made by the State Department of Conservation and Development in regard to statewide hunting rules:

Quail—The season ends February 15, except in Union county, where it opens December 10 and closes January 10. Quail shooting will be allowed only on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays in nine counties—Lenoir, Duplin, Craven, Carteret, Pitt, Greene, Jones, Onslow and Pender. In all other counties bird shooting will be permitted every day except Sunday.

The bag limit is 10 a day and 150 for the season, and the possession limit is 20—meaning that a hunter may keep as many as 20 quail in his refrigerator or may put that many in cold storage for his personal use until 10 days after the close of the season. After 10 days, he may not have any in his possession.

Wild turkey—The season is the same as that for quail. However, the bag limit is one a day and three for the season, and the possession limit is two until 10 days after the season ends. Hunting of wild turkeys this season will be confined to eastern and piedmont counties because the season will remain closed in and including all counties west of Alleghany, Wilkes, Burke and Rutherdale, and in Surry and Yadkin counties.

Grouse—The season ends January 15. The bag limit is two a day and 10 for the season, and the possession limit is two. Grouse are to be found only in the mountains or mountain meadows in higher altitudes.

Rabbit—The season continues to February 15. The sky's the limit on the poor cotton-tails—no bag, season or possession restrictions have been made, and they are the only game that may be sold during the open season. The game division said hunters should find a plentiful supply in nearly every section of the state.

The deer, bear, and Russian boar seasons already have opened and will continue until January 15.

Tobacco Market Is Closed For Holiday Season

About 400,000 pounds of tobacco were sold on the Roxboro tobacco market during the three-day pre-Thanksgiving short week which closed at noon yesterday, according to reports made yesterday afternoon. This brings the total amount of tobacco sold on the Roxboro market during the present season up to 4,746,862 pounds, in round figures.

An official average for the week was not obtainable at the noon hour, although the average was reported as a "Fair Price". The market here will re-open Monday after closing for the holidays, and heavy sales will be expected during the next week.

Knight Makes A Fine Record

Mr. Knight just received word that he only needs to write an application each week for three weeks longer to finish out five years for producing an application each week for The Ohio State Life Insurance company.

He appreciates your business and since the company is completing a $100,000,000 in just this year he will appreciate all the business you can give him.

They write policies that pay good dividends or non-participating. If you need any insurance see Knight's Insurance Agency.

CORRECT DINER SCORE

The sanitary rating accorded the Roxboro Diner, in a story released Sunday morning in this paper, should have read, 95, instead of 90, according to a correction reported by the Department of Health. The error in figures was contained in the office report prepared by the department.
