We Pick As Follows

It's hard to tell who will win and why, but anyway we select the following to come through with victories:
 Rose Bowl — California vs Tennessee. It looks like California is a little too strong and they are playing at home.
 Sugar Bowl — Texas A. and M. - Tulane. Texas has been rated as one of the strongest, if not the strongest, in the nation. Our vote goes to Texas.
 Orange Bowl — Georgia Tech vs Missouri: Our head is nodding toward Georgia Tech.
 Cotton Bowl — Boston vs Clemson: It looks like we are selecting Clemson solely on account of McFadden.

Humphrey Bogart Tells On Filmland

Hollywood is a goofy place. Charles Laughton said that once, and now Humphrey Bogart seconds the motion.

Laughton only said it. He didn't prove it. Bogart not only says it, but he says he can prove it. He did some sleuthing and researching between gun battles on the set of "Invisible Stripes", the picture which will start a two-day showing Monday at the Dolly Madison theatre and has emerged with the following cryptic notes:

In Hollywood—Mike is not an Irish comedian. It is the microphone that picks up the actors' voices.

A beard is not a chest protector. It is the covering for the microphone.

A baby does not have to be diapered or fed from a bottle. It is a small spot light.

A three-step is not a new dance. It is a short stepladder.

Donald Meek, Ex-Sketcher

Donald Meek, who plays the irascible editor in "The Housekeeper's Daughter," Hal Roach's new comedy romance, has some experience of his own to model the character on. Meek, at one stage of his theatrical career, drew sketches for newspaper drama sections, and had his own tangles with editors in the course of his work for them. Philadelphia was the scene of this experience.

"The Housekeeper's Daughter," stars Joan Bennett and Adolphe Menjou and is the current United Artists release at the Palace theatre Monday and Tuesday.

BIG BRITISH LINER ARRIVES IN U. S. THIRD TIME OF WAR

New York, Dec. 27 — Carrying $750,000 in gold and 224 passengers, the armed British passenger liner Lancastria slipped into port today for its third visit here since the war started.

The 16,243-ton vessel brought 180 Jewish refugees from Germany, Austria and Poland and 3,000 tons of cargo. Captain Ernest M. Fall reported an uneventful crossing.

KERR RESPECTS VOLTS

San Francisco, Dec. 27 — University of Tennessee's chances against Southern California in the Rose Bowl look pretty good to Andy Kerr, shrewd football coach at Colgate.

"Tennessee has a good chance to win as any Southern team in recent years," he said. "It is stronger on defense than offense. The presence of Halfback George Gafego will mean a lot, of course.

"Until the Notre Dame game, I thought Southern California was a cinch to overpower completely any team it met. I'm not so certain now."

NEW PAINT JOB

Des Moines, Ia. — Workmen moving filing cabinets in the State Supreme Court Clerk's office exposed a patch of wall that had not been repainted since the capitol was finished in 1886.

Evidently the cabinets hadn't been moved during previous decorating jobs. Now they're going to paint all the walls, all over, for the first time in 56 years.

NOT GUILTY

Kansas City — Mrs. J. William Henderson found her dining room radiator half-covered with melted crayons. "Who did that?" she asked her son.

Jimmy, 4-year-old radio fan, retorted:
 "The little man who wasn't there."
