WRITER TURNS MODEL

JANE HALL, who posed for the cover of October Cosmopolitan, painted by Bradshaw Crandell, is one of the promising young writers of the fiction and movie field. Miss Hall, who is in her early twenties, commutes between New York and Hollywood. She has a passion for smart clothes, hats and accessories and a penchant for "21", New York's super nightspot. She had rather be considered a glamour girl than a successful writer and says her secret ambition was realized when Bradshaw Crandell asked her to pose for him. Miss Hall's constant companion is her wire-haired terrier, Kathleen Scarlett, better known as Kate, about whom there are fabulous stories. Kate flies across the continent with her mistress and is otherwise no mere dog.

Miss Edwards Weds Mr. Williams In Impressive Private Ceremony

In the presence of only the immediate families and a few intimate friends, Miss Nell Edwards became the bride of Frederick Nelson Williams yesterday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Edwards on South Main street. Rev. B. F. Boone, of Zebulon, N. C., brother-in-law of the bride, officiated at the ceremony.

The vows were spoken before an improvised altar in front of the living room windows. Before a background of evergreens and ferns, tall floor baskets of white snapdragons were flanked by two seven-branched cathedral candelabrae.

The home was decorated with arrangements of snapdragons and chrysanthemums.

The bride, who was unattended, wore a costume suit of mist blue. Her accessories were of black and she wore a corsage of Briarcliff roses and valley lilies.

Miss Williams, who is an alumna of Louisburg college, is a popular resident of this city, while the groom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Williams, of Fairmont, is connected with the Roxboro branch of the Carolina Power and Light company. After a brief wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Williams will be at home in Roxboro.

Bride-Elect Feted Thursday Evening

As a pre-nuptial courtesy to Miss Nell Edwards, bride of the week, Miss Gladys Lawson entertained at her home on the Durham road Thursday evening. Guests were received at 8 o'clock and invited to the living room where four tables were placed for games of court whist.

High score was won by Mrs. Benjamin F. Boone, of Zebulon, sister of the honoree, who gave a reception last week at her Zebulon residence for Miss Edwards, and at which Miss Lawson and Mrs. Numa Edwards, of this city, were present. Low score was won by Mrs. Burley Day, but both Mrs. Boone and Mrs. Day gave their prizes to the honoree of the evening.

Also presented to Miss Edwards, as gifts from the hostess, were a shoulder corsage and crystal in her wedding pattern.

For refreshments a salad course with Russian tea was served by the hostess, who was assisted by Mrs. Mattie Lawson and Miss Foy Lawson. Decorations in the home were tasteful arrangements of potted plants.

Book Program To Be Given By Club

The February meeting of the Roxboro Woman's club will be held Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Community house, Chub Lake street, according to announcement from the club president, Mrs. R. C. Hall, who reports that a special program on "Books" will be presented.

For many years the Woman's club in this city has been especially interested in supporting the local library now located in the Community house and in continuance of this support each member will be requested to bring at least one book to the club Monday. Such volumes as are received will be added to the library collection.

Mrs. Hall said today that despite assistance from the State Library commission, many more books are needed at the local library and that contributions of well-written and worthwhile books will be greatly appreciated.

Literary Club Has Regular Session Here Thursday

On Thursday evening Mrs. Wheeler Newell was hostess to the Thursday Literary club at her home on South Main street. Guests were received at 6 o'clock and were invited to the dining room for dinner, where Valentine decorations were effectively used to create a festive atmosphere.

Program for the evening was "Recent Books" and the first paper was presented by Mrs. Robah F. Baynes, who reviewed, "Lincoln Talks," a volume dealing with the Civil War president's own writings and opinions. Second review on the program was given by Mrs. Lillian Foreman, who discussed Mrs. Bernice K.

Harris', "Purslane", a novel of North Carolina rural life. Members of the club found both reviews entertaining but were especially interested in "Purslane" because of its Tar Heel theme.

Following the reviews, a musical program was presented by Mesdames George Walker, Wheeler Newell and E. E. Bradsher.

Mrs. Roy Cribb Thursday Hostess To Study Club

With Mrs. Roy Cribb as hostess, the regular meeting of the Study club was held Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Hotel Roxboro. Presiding officer for the afternoon was Mrs. R. M. Spencer, vice-president, and the roll call was answered by "Ideas in Decoration", a theme connected with the program on "Interior Decoration."

First paper of the afternoon was presented by Mrs. T. B. Brooks, who discussed the "Art of Creating Delightful Homes", while the second paper, on "Furniture and Arrangements", was given by Mrs. L. H. Umstead.

Dinner was served at 5 o'clock in the hotel dining room, where decorations of red and green were used. Special guest was Mrs. James Newman.
