

Teachers Not Now Protected During Summer Season

Raleigh, Mar. 14 — North Carolina teachers are not protected by the State Unemployment Compensation Law and would not be eligible for unemployment benefits during the three or four months of school vacations in the summer if they were subject to the law, Charles G. Powell states, replying to inquiries in recent weeks.

Teachers are State employees and as such are classed with all other employees of Federal, State, county, municipal or other governmental agencies, as well as agricultural or domestic workers and a few smaller classes of workers who are specifically exempted from the provisions of the law. Even if they were included, they would not be eligible for benefits during the summer vacation months because of an amendment to the State law, adopted in 1939, which provides for "seasonal" employment, and specifies that seasonal workers are not eligible for benefits after the season for their type of work ends, but may draw benefits if otherwise eligible, if unemployed during the season, Mr. Powell said.

Teachers are protected by the Workman's Compensation Law and may draw benefits as the result of loss of time from accidents arising out of and in the course of their work, Mr. Powell said, adding that teachers may be brought under the Unemployment Compensation Law in the future, though action of the General Assembly.

BENEFITS PAID RESIDENTS NOW IN OTHER STATES

Former N. C. Workers Receive Sum From State Unemployment Commission.

Raleigh, Mar. 14 — Of the $13,217,637.70 in unemployment benefits paid by the State commission through February 29, last month, $217,187.56 was distributed to former North Carolina workers through 43 other states in which they were residing while drawing benefits. Such workers established wage credits while at work in this State, later moved to another state, became unemployed and filed claims and were paid benefits from this State.

No payments have been made to former residents of this State living in five states, Maine, Nebraska, Nevada, Utah and Wyoming, nor in the territories of Alaska and Hawaii. Just about 1,900 checks have been issued to residents of the other states and District of Columbia. The states are now all under the Interstate Agreement, by which the state of residence acts as agent for the liable state in handling claims for compensation. Some of the states were not ready to handle these claims until last year, however.

The amount of benefits paid to North Carolina residents who had accumulated wage credits in other states is not available now. Soon the Unemployment Compensation Division of the Social Security Board will have these figures for all of the states.

INTERESTED

Nash County farmers are exhibiting a lively interest in the 1940 agricultural conservation program, says H. E. Alphin, farm agent of the State College Extension Service.

HOME-MADE

J. V. Allen, Lauada, has a home lighting system which he built himself for a total outlay of only $20 but which is giving excellent service, reports H. R. Clapp, farm agent of Swain County.

FOR RESULTS, ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

Dalai Lama

New spiritual and temporal ruler of Tibet, the world's only theocracy, is a six-year-old Chinese peasant boy, Ling-erg La-Mu-Tau-Chu, whose elaborate enthronement recently took place. He is accepted as the reincarnation of the thirteenth Dalai Lama, who died in 1933. Until Ling-erg is 18, a regent will perform administrative duties.

Mind Your Mind

By JAMES WATSON, M. D., Division of Mental Hygiene, State Welfare Department.

(Editor's Note: This is the first of a series of articles on mental health which will be a weekly feature of The Person County Times each week. Any inquiries relating to mental problems may be addressed to Dr. Watson in care of this paper.)

"It makes much difference whose child it is." This observation was made during a discussion following an address in which I had stated that one out of every 22 boys and girls now in our public schools will spend some part of his or her life in a mental hospital.

That means that a million or more children now in school will someday be declared insane. "Yet," says Dr. Hincks of the National Committee for Mental Hygiene, "at least one-half of all mental illness could be prevented if we acted in time."

Mentality is the highest attainment of the race. Using the word "mind" in the broadest sense, it is with the mind we love, think, know, appreciate beauty, enjoy life, worship God. To lose one's mind is life's greatest tragedy!

The one child out of 22 who is going to do this may be your child, your grandchild, or your neighbor's child. Authorities say that at least one-half of the million could be saved from this tragedy. Few people seem inclined, however, to do much about it.

CROTALARIA

Harnett County farmers believe in crotalaria, but they want only the Striata strain, according to Joe B. Gourley, assistant farm agent of the State College Extension Service.
