Research Club Has Meeting With Mrs. E. P. Dunlap

With Mrs. E. P. Dunlap as hostess, members of the Research club met Wednesday at Hotel Roxboro to enjoy a program on "Humor", presented by Mesdames R. L. Wilburn and W. C. Bullock.

In presenting her treatment of the subject Mrs. Wilburn reviewed "Mark Twain's America" and read passages from the book, as well as from an "Uncle Remus" story by Joel Chandler Harris, while Mrs. Bullock chose "Greatest Pages From American Humor" and read quotations from Will Rogers and Edgar A. Guest.

Dinner was served in the hotel dining room, where the table decorations consisted of jonquils, spirea and japonica. In addition to club members, those present included Mrs. W. C. Martin and Miss Myrtle McDade.

Roxboro High School Juniors Give Seniors Elaborate Dinner - Dance

Gayest and most colorful event of the week and outstanding on the social calendar of the spring season was the first formal Roxboro High school Junior-Senior dinner-dance given Friday evening at Hotel Roxboro, where more than 160 young men and women, together with sponsors, faculty members and special guests enjoyed the hospitality of the Juniors.

The Juniors, who staged the affair, with the capable assistance of their faculty committee, composed of Miss Lucy Bowers, Miss Ruth Johnson and Mrs. Leo Rabon, prepared for food and merriment on an elaborate scale. Senior colors of blue and silver and Junior colors of rose and green were accented throughout the dining room-ballroom with effective decorations suspended from the ceiling and the chandeliers and which were repeated in floral decorations on the tables.

Place-card booklets also serving as programs for the evening, had an attractive cover designed by Miss Marjorie Monk, of the Junior class, who assisted with serving, added to the brilliance of the scene, which sparkled all around because of the vari-colored evening gowns of the young hostesses and their guests.

At the dinner the formal program included an address of welcome by Hassell Whitfield, president of the Junior class, with a response by Miss Louise Walker, Senior president. Toast to the Seniors was given by Miss Arline Newell, with a response by George Cushwa, Jr., while H. C. Gaddy, supervising principal, responded to a toast to the faculty presented by Billy Newell, of the Junior class.

Faculty members present, in addition to Mr. Gaddy and the Junior advisers, were George Wirtz, Glenn Titus and Mrs. A. F. Nichols.

Class officers, in addition to Miss Walker and Mr. Whitfield are: Seniors, Wallace Moore, vice-president; Marion Bradsher, secretary and Lois Pickering, treasurer, and for the Juniors, Emma B. Jones, vice president; Marjorie Dickerson, secretary and Arline Newell, treasurer.

Boys and girls of the Freshman class who assisted in serving were Martin Michie, Jr., Charles Harris, Jr., James Winstead, James Warren, Robert Wagstaff, Wallace Kirby and Jack Hughes and Misses Mary Louise Harris, Lelia Monk, Anne Marie Umstead and Jean Kirby and Nancy Masten.

Mrs. Frances Morton, of Gastonia, and Miss Helen Morton, of Raleigh, spent Friday here attending the funeral of Zeb Morton.

The Rev. James P. Burke, Rector of St. James Episcopal church, Hendersonville, and Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Graves, of Yanceyville, were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Carlton this week.
