

FARM QUESTIONS ANSWERED

Question: It is too late to seed pastures?

Answer: The best dates for seeding in the spring is from February 15 to April 1. Carpet grass, dallis grass and lespedeza should be seeded during this period and may be sown on top of other grasses and clovers planted the previous fall. Bermuda grass seed is rarely used in this state, but if the seed is used, they should be planted in May or June. Cuttings from this crop are usually set out in February or March.

Question: What is the best control for tobacco bud worms?

Answer: The poisoned corn meal bait is the best known control. This is made by carefully mixing one pound of Arsenate of Lead with 50 pounds of corn meal. Applications of this poison should be made early in the morning when the bud is open. A small pinch of the mixture should be dropped in the center of the bud. Applications should be made every week or ten days until the plants are topped. One peck of the mixture will be sufficient to cover one acre of tobacco.

Question: When should culling be started in the poultry flock?

Answer: For best results, culling should be a continuous process, but in the young flock the bird should be culled when eight to twelve weeks old. This is especially true when cockerels are to be raised for breeders. All through the growing period the birds should be carefully watched and all cockerels or pullets showing lack of vigor and development should be culled.

All-Year Farm Placement Plan Has Been Created

Raleigh, April 10.—A definite, permanent, all-year farm placement program has been outlined for North Carolina by the State Employment, Service Division of the Unemployment Compensation Commission, under C. W. E. Pittman, State farm placement supervisor, and submitted to Washington officials for consideration and possible approval.

The program calls for the use of about 15 specially trained farm placement workers at key places, particularly in the eastern farm area, to handle placements in

Wade Barber Joins Wilkins P. Horton Staff In Raleigh

Raleigh, N. C., April 10.—On the organization side, an important development of the past week in the campaign of Lieutenant Governor Wilkins P. Horton, of Pittsboro, Democratic candidate for Governor of North Carolina, was State Campaign Manager Daniel L. Bell's appointment of Senator Wade Barber as a member of the State headquarters staff.

Senator Barber, who for some years has been engaged in the practice of law in Pittsboro, is a native of Wilkes County, a son of Wade and Mary A. Hayes Barber. After completing his studies in the schools in Pittsboro he received his A. B. degree from Guilford College in 1914, and later he took a law course at the University of North Carolina.

At the 1939 session of the General Assembly Mr. Barber was a State Senator from the Thirteenth District, composed of Chatham, Lee and Wake counties. He was Chairman of the Senate Committee on Public Welfare. In 1925 he was a member of the State House of Representatives. He is a former Chatham County prosecuting attorney and a former Chairman of the Chatham County Democratic Executive Committee.

During the past week Lieutenant Governor Horton, among other addresses, made two out-and-out political speeches. The first of these was delivered in the Dare County courthouse in Manteo Monday night and the other was made at noon Wednesday at the Stokes County courthouse in Danbury. Prior to this week his speeches have been made preponderantly at meetings of civic clubs and other organizations.

Claim Deputies Meet In Raleigh

Raleigh, April 10.—The eight claims deputies, that group of officials conducting hearings and passing on contested or disputed claims for benefits, for the N. C. Unemployment Compensation Commission, held a two-day study conference in Raleigh recently with S. F. Teague, chief claim deputy; members of the Commission and Director E. W. Price, of the Unemployment Compensation Division.

These deputies hold hearings over the State of claimants and employers and determine their rights. Appeals from their decisions are passed upon by Chief Appeals Deputy Charles U. Harris, and appeals may go on to the Commission, and from there to the State courts.

The eight deputies, located in Employment Service offices and operating over several counties, included Mark Edwards, Asheville; Wade H. Williams, Charlotte; A. Carlton MacDonald, Raleigh; John C. Memory, Fayetteville; John W. Hester, Greensboro; R. B. Overton, Rocky Mount; Zeb V. Gambill, Winston-Salem; C. C. Buchanan, Hickory.

UNCLE NACHEL SAYS...

ALWAYS DRINK PLENTY O' MILK SONNY. IT'S NACHEL FOOD-NACHEL...YAS SUH!

THAT'S good advice from Uncle Natchel. Milk is Nature's food for growing boys. And Natural Chilean Nitrate of Soda is Nature's food for growing crops. Into Chilean Nitrate, Nature has put practically the same elements that milk contains. These protective elements are in Nature's own balance. They combine with Chilean's quick-acting nitrate to nourish your crops and improve your soil. Whenever, wherever you use Nitrate, be sure it is Chilean Nitrate of Soda, the only natural nitrate in the world. No price increase; plenty for everybody's needs.

seasonal crop gathering throughout the year. If approved in Washington, the work will include placing strawberry pickers around May 1, pea pickers around May 10, dewberry pickers and potato diggers about June 1, tobacco field workers about July 15, peach gatherers and cotton pickers about August 1, with work in smaller crops of beans, lettuce, tomatoes and other truck crops as needed. The fall and winter months would be devoted to placing share croppers and farm tenants for the next year.

Four Washington officials, Chairman Charles G. Powell, Mrs. J. B. Spilman, commissioner; Director R. Mayne Albright, of the Employment Service, Mr. Pittman and managers of several eastern Employment offices outlined the program last week in a three-day conference in Raleigh.
