

Buyers Of Food Now Protected By State Law

Raleigh, April 25.—Housewives and other citizens of North Carolina can now buy their foods "with greater assurance of purity" as a result of the "rigid enforcement of the pure food laws and constant crusade against improper labeling or misbranding," Commissioner of Agriculture W. Kerr Scott reports.

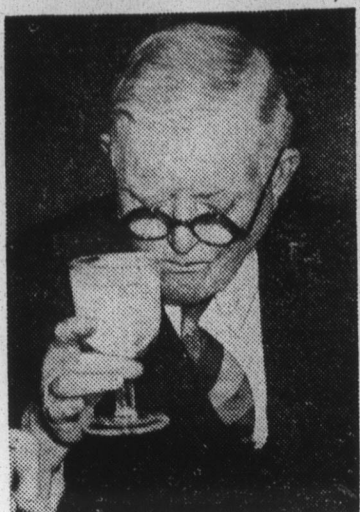

"When you call for your hamburger today, you can rest assured that it will be free from the injurious sulfites and other preservatives that were so prevalent a few years ago," Scott declared. "In fact, the virtual elimination of sulfites from meats has not only been a boon to the consumer but has resulted in the removal of inferior meats from the market and created a demand for quality products."

Commissioner Scott said that "the State Department of Agriculture has not paraded its program of consumer protection, but rather has worked quietly and effectively in policing the food industry", adding "this service has not only saved the purchaser from financial losses, but has given equal protection to the honest manufacturer and merchant."

"Even your dogs receive protection under the regulatory and inspection laws enforced by the Department of Agriculture. "Today standards for dog food sold have been adopted and our chemists are on the job to check on ingredients that may be declared to be injurious to the animal."

"North Carolina's fertilizer and feed laws have been revised to meet the requirements of a more progressive agricultural program. These changes and the strict enforcement of these laws have saved farmers from inferior products and at the same time created a greater appreciation of quality goods."

Real Indian Chief Appears In Film

The son of "Dark Cloud" and "Morning Star," Chief Thundercloud, a full-blooded Indian, is one of the outstanding members of his race.

Born in Muskogee, Oklahoma, he went to work in the Arizona mines at an early age, and there he was discovered by a motion picture troupe on location. He was brought to Hollywood and has been prominently featured on the screen since.

His most recent screen appearance is in "Young Buffalo Bill", Republic's latest Roy Rogers vehicle which comes to the Dolly Madison Saturday. Pauline Moore plays opposite Rogers in the feminine lead.

Joseph Kane was the Associate Producer-Director in charge.

Winners Chosen In Farm-Home Progress Contest

Raleigh, April 25.—A three-year Farm and Home Progress Contest in Iredell county has ended, and $1,800 in cash prizes were presented to 21 farm families at a luncheon meeting in Statesville. The contest was sponsored by the Statesville Chamber of Commerce, of which John W. Wallace is president, and was directed by the county farm and home agents of the State College Extension Service—A. R. Morrow, Miss Anne Tucker, D. T. Redfern and J. W. Pou.

First award of $500 for the most farm and home improvements in the county over a three-year period, 1937-39, went to Mr. and Mrs. William Pressley of Stony Point. Second prize of $300 was awarded to Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bell of Statesville, Route 1, and third prize of $200 went to Mr. and Mrs. William R. King of Statesville, Route 2.

The contest was judged by Miss Ruth Current, State home agent; F. H. Jetter, agricultural editor, and R. W. Shoffner, farm management specialist, all of State College. Editor Jetter spoke at the luncheon and presented the prizes.

The township winners, each of whom received $50, were: Coddle Creek Mr. and Mrs. Mac Sample; Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Benfield; Barringer, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Brawley; Bethany, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Adams; Concord, Mr. and Mrs. J. Tilden Morrison; Cool Springs, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Ellis; Chambersburg, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Reitzel; Eagle Springs, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Angel.

And, Fallstown, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Collins; Sharpesburg, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Weber; Shiloh, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Winters; Statesville, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Cloaninger; Turnersburg, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Horn; Union Grove, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Alexander; New Hope, a tie between Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Thompson, and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Sprinkle ($25 each); and Olin, a tie between Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Vanstory and Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Moore ($25 each).

CAREFUL CHOPPING INCREASES YIELDS

Not Enough Plants Left By Many Cotton Farmers, Agronomist Says.

Raleigh, April 24 — Too many cotton growers make the mistake each year of not leaving enough plants when chopping their cotton, says Paul H. Kime, agronomist of the Experiment Station at N. C. State college.

This practice often results in reduced yields. Cotton left thick in the row will put on more bolls early in the season and will be better able to produce higher yields under boll weevil conditions, an important factor in lint production.

Kimé recommended that on the heavier soils of the Coastal Plain area hills should be spaced 10 to 12 inches apart in the row, leaving two to three plants in the hill when possible. This will mean an average of approximately one and one-half plants per foot or 18,000 to 20,000 plants to the acre.

On the lighter soils of the Coastal Plain section and in the Piedmont, the State College cotton expert said a closer spacing of the plants is probably advisable.

Cotton should be chopped when the weather is warm the second set of leaves is about three-quarter ters grown.

Kime explained that if the cotton is chopped much earlier, some of the remaining plants are likely to die, leaving a poor stand. If the chopping is delayed too long, the plants will become tall and slender and will tend to fall down badly when chopped.

"Because of the revived interest in the production of better yields and a higher grade lint this year," the State College man said, "growers should exert every effort to follow recommended practices that will aid in reaching this goal."

Beer License Renewals

May is the month when city and county authorities have the responsibility of passing on yearly applications for beer licenses.

It is the hope of the Brewers and North Carolina Beer Distributors Committee that local authorities will scrutinize the record of each applicant, and will deny renewals to the few who have abused the privilege of a license.

Careful selection of licensees fosters better law observance, requiring a smaller expenditure for enforcement and allowing larger sums for welfare and school purposes.

All Aboard for All America!

9,000 Miles for $90

THAT headline means just what it says.

You can step aboard a railroad train in your home town—and put as much as nine thousand miles of America behind you before you return—all for the price of $90, if you ride in comfortable air-conditioned day coaches—or $135.00 (plus $45 for one or two persons in a lower berth)—if you travel in spacious Pullmans.

You can take sixty days to do it—go by any established route—stop off wherever you wish.

See with your own eyes the grandeur of this land you live in—there's no other nation like it in the world.

So think of the things you'd like to see—the New York World's Fair—the Golden Gate exposition—the multicolored canyons carved by western rivers and the man-made canyons of Manhattan—elm-shaded villages of New England and sun-drenched pueblos of the southwest—the unspoiled natural wonders of the great National Parks and the sophistication of storied cities you've read about—the shores of the Atlantic, Pacific, the Gulf of Mexico, and those inland seas, the Great Lakes—the land of Dixie and the great Northwest—the towering Rockies and the forest-clad ranges of the East—landmarks hallowed in your nation's history—and landmarks of a civilization so old it has been forgotten.

All these and more can be included in a vacation which starts the moment you step aboard a train.

It's the kind of vacation you've always dreamed of taking—and now the American railroads are ready to make it come true.

And in addition to the fascinating places you will see, you'll find new interest and luxury in today's trains, with their modern roomy coach and Pullman equipment—smart styling—ever faster schedules—and air-conditioned comfort and cleanliness.

Better talk it over with your local ticket agent now. He will help you take full advantage of this golden opportunity.
