Mrs. C. E. Brooks New Vice Chairman Of Eighth District Federation Of Clubs

New chairman of the Eighth District Federation of Home Demonstration clubs, who will serve for two years, is Mrs. Winston Strayhorn, of Orange county, who, with the new vice chairman, Mrs. C. E. Brooks, of Person county, was yesterday elected to office at an annual district meeting held in Roxboro, where registered attendance reached more than 500, with many additional women and not a few men as guests.

Chief speaker was A. C. Kimrey, dairy specialist, of North Carolina State college, Raleigh, who had as his topic, "The Value of Milk in the Rural Home". Mr. Kimrey sought to impress upon his hearers the fact that there are in North Carolina approximately 92,000 farm families who do not have milk and who make no attempt to supply it by establishing a dairy or even attempt to keep one cow to supply milk for themselves. Mr. Kimrey emphasized the importance of milk in the family diet, especially for growing children, and urged the assembled club women from five counties to see to it that this most important item be supplied to farm families, not as a money making proposition but as a source of food supply vitally important to their families.

Extending greetings of the city and the county were Mayor S. F. Nicks, Jr., of Roxboro, and R. P. Burns, county attorney, who represented county commissioners. The gathering came to a close in the early afternoon with a generous picnic luncheon served by members of the Person clubs, acting as hostesses for the day. Later in the afternoon numbers of the visitors inspected places of interest in the city, paying particular attention to the rural center and to other activities here carried on for benefit of farm women in this area.

Those in charge of the meeting were especially pleased at the large attendance at the meeting, which was held at Roxboro high school, where the scene was one of continuous activity from ten o'clock in the morning until mid-afternoon.

Miss Nell Woods is spending a few days in Durham with Mrs. A. W. Clayton, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Baxter Wade of Greensboro spent the weekend here visiting friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Howard spent Sunday in Fuquay Springs.

A. M. Burns, Sr., has been visiting his sister in Monroe.

Mrs. Baynes Has Club At Residence

Entertaining at her residence on Morgan street, Mrs. Robah F. Baynes was hostess to her bridge club Tuesday evening. The games were played at two tables, with club high score going to Mrs. E. M. Hedgepeth, while visitor's prize was received by Miss Claire Harris.

Decorations were attractive arrangements of sweet peas and roses and refreshments consisted of a delicious salad course and punch. Only guest of the evening, other than members, was Miss Harris.

'Pinocchio' Comes As Disney Feature

A large cast of typical Disney characters are to be seen in "Pinocchio", Walt Disney's second feature-length production, an RKO Radio release, which opens today at the Palace theatre.

They include Geppetto, the kindly old wood-carver who lives with his pets, Figaro the kitten, and Cleo the gold fish. He carves the little wooden puppet Pinocchio and in answer to his wish for a real boy, the Blue Fairy endows the puppet with life, appointing Jiminy Cricket as his conscience. The Fox (J. Worthington Foul-fellow) and the Cat (Giddy) are small-fry comic villains who sell Pinocchio to Stromboli, the unscrupulous puppet master. The Coachman buys stupid little boys and takes them to Pleasure Island where they eventually turn into donkeys. Lampwick is the toughest of the little boys on Pleasure Island; and Monstro is the Whale who guards the entrance to Pleasure Island and swallows ships.
