The Golfers Are Golfing . . . . .

Seen on the Roxboro golf course last Thursday afternoon—Jimmy Long, Jr., Mrs. Jimmy Long, John Fitzgerald, Henry Gates, Guthrie Gentry, C. A. Harris, Martin Michie and Bill Walker.

The course seems to be getting better each day and we still insist the big thing that is needed is playing. A hundred people walking over the course each day will improve it to no little extent.

Sooner or later this little course is going to be considered one of the best around here and that time can't be so far off.

What's Wrong Howard? . . . . .

Dear Howard Strang:

The other day this writer was passing your nice village of Ca-Vel and noticed that your fence around the tennis court was being torn down. He also noticed that the court had grown up in weeds. Evidently the court is now a thing of the past.

It's really bad, Howard, when boys get too old to play tennis and have to resort to other sports, but why couldn't you let the court stay where it was so that Baxter Mangum's children could have a place to play or you could have invited Bill Walker to play on your court.

Seriously speaking we do hate to see Roxboro lose a tennis court and hope that it does not mean that interest in this game is dropping off.

Yours in sport,
Ye Editor,

Moonlight Golf . . . . .

Below is an account of a Moonlight Golf tournament. As far as we know it is one of the first, if not the first of its kind:

Sanford — Something new under the moon was Sanford's moonlight golf tournament, held here this week and won by Buckie Williams, young son of Mayor Warren Williams. Local golfers believe their moonlight tournament, played beneath a full moon, is one of the few ever held in the country.

Williams, after playing six holes, had a score of 30 and was adjudged winner of the tourney. Warren Grover, Jr., with a 29, was low-scorer, but as he is lessee of the local club he was ineligible for the prize.

Only two balls were allowed players—and flashlights were prohibited, although matches could be used in searching for a contrary ball. Lost balls eliminated players.

Dots and Dashes . . . . .

Ca-Vel seems to be going fine and East Roxboro is also doing O. K. . . . Both are playing real ball . . . Wonder if Longhurst is going to do anything? . . . Banks McFadden of Clemson is going to play pro football this year and will probably get plenty for doing it . . . Ace Parker is not expected to play, his broken leg will hardly heal in time . . . Carolina expects to have a good football team this year . . . So does Duke . . . Better see about getting your tickets now . . .

Who's Afraid of the Big, Bad Pups? Not Susie!

Jack fell down and lost his crown (as best pet), and Jill came tumbling after. Both pups were decidedly glum after Susie, coy maiden in the center, was named blue ribbon winner in the New York Boys' club sixth annual pet show. And look at the kittenish twinkle in her queenly eye as she lords it over the droopy-eared pups. Jack, incidentally, is pictured on the left.

Home - Grown Talent On Tar Heel Freshman

Freshman spring sports teams at the University of Maryland did well this year, turning in 16 wins against only five defeats . . .

Only the tennis aggregation, with a record of one win and two losses had a mark of less than .750 . . .

Joe Murphy, the Old Liners' midget football and track ace, won both the 100 and 220-yard dashes in the Southern conference meet for two years in a row . . .

And the Terp netters scored four shutout victories in nine matches. All of the starting members of the University of North Carolina freshman baseball team were batting over .300 when the season ended . . . The leader was outfielder Jack Roberts, of Cedar Grove, who belted the horseshoe for a neat .429 average, or a total of 15 hits in 35 times at bat . . .

And Bob Saunders, another North Carolina boy who will be making a close fight with "Bo" Reynolds for the first base berth on next year's varsity, was the slugging champion with a total a total of three home runs, four triples, and a double — driving in 14 runs . . .

Winning Outfit Being Sought By Greenville Team

Greenville, May 24 — If officials of the Greenville baseball club do not assemble a winning team, it will not be for lack of trying, as changes are being made in the line-up almost daily in an effort to provide a winning combination.

Bill Shelton, of Danville, Va., who has starred at shortstop on the East Carolina Teachers college team for four years, is the latest player to be signed. Drodz is being released to make room for the college ace, John Walters joined the team yesterday and caught in last night's game, and showed up very well.

Maine Governor Wins 'Doughnut Duel'

Which state can claim honors for being the home of the inventor of doughnut holes? That question was decided in a doughnut-frying contest in Bangor, Maine, between Gov. Lewis Barrows of Maine, right, and Secretary of State Harry Jackson of New Hampshire. Barrows' claim that Hanson Gregory, a deceased Maine sea captain, invented the hole in the doughnut was upheld when he was declared winner of the contest. James Chute, hotel employee, dressed as the sea captain, stands in center.

Negotiations for two pitchers from Oglethorpe university, from which Greenville secured Andy Johnson and other star players of former days, have been completed and the new men will probably arrive here Monday. Negotiations are also under way with Duke and Carolina players in an effort to bolster the local team.

David Williams, a pitcher, has been released to make room for Walters.

Beer Dealers Are Getting Response From Their Drive

Raleigh, May 25 — The campaign initiated by the Brewers and North Carolina Beer Distributors Committee against retail beer outlets which permit practices contrary to law and decency is making progress, State Director Edgar H. Bain announced today.

Formed on May 18, 1939, by a majority of shipping brewers and beer distributors of the state, the committee has translated its promises into performances and won the support of public officials, community leaders and the public.

Greatly improved conditions in retail beer outlets throughout North Carolina have sustained the widespread public interest generated by the committee's formation. Director Bain reported today that the committee, during its first year of operation, inspected 727 outlets in 73 counties, warned 113 dealers to correct certain unsatisfactory conditions, and secured the revocation of the retail beer licenses of 78 dealers in 30 counties. In addition, four dealers were placed on probation by local authorities upon petition of the committee.

"I am pleased with results in our drive to weed out establishments which have no regard for law and public opinion," Colonel Bain remarked. "We commend the law enforcement officers and law-abiding retailers in their efforts to enforce and observe the laws regulating the sale of this beverage."

"Our efforts have been encouraging this first year, and we hope to make even greater progress during the next 12 months in our campaign to rid communities of undesirable beer outlets."

"Social case work" is a process of personal council which emphasizes a full understanding of the problems of the family individual in trouble and stresses an attempt to work out, with each family or person, an individualized plan of treatment to help meet those particular needs or problems in such a way as to conserve the individual's own ability and right to help himself.

"Categorical relief" is relief to special groups in their own homes.

There is one condition common to all who receive public assistance; they must be in need.

If the rest cure is properly carried out, practically all cases of early tuberculosis can be cured.

Chicago Turf Season Opens 25 Days Late

Chicago, May 24 — Twenty-five days late, Chicago's 1940 turf season of 114 days opens tomorrow with 25-day meetings at Lincoln fields. Failure of Aurora to take up its dates caused the delayed opening.

From tomorrow on, there will be continuous racing in this area until at least October 5 with a total purse of $1,500,000 at the four major tracks, Fashionable Arlington park with its rich stake program, will follow Lincoln fields. Washington park and Hawthorne come next in order. The season may be extended to October 31, provided the Illinois racing commission grants dates to Sportsman's park.

The commission refused to grant dates to Sportsman's park; a half-mile track, following the unsolved slaying of Eddie O'Hare, president of the operating company shortly after the close of last season. The commissioner demanded a management re-organization.

Lincoln fields will offer six takes of $5,000 and a total distribution of $200,000. Tomorrow's attraction is a six-furlong dash. Top weighted and probable favorite the Calumet farm's Easy Mon carrying 122 pounds.

More than 1,500 horses from Churchill Downs, the west, south and eastern tracks are quartered at Lincoln fields, with the overflow at nearby Washington park.

The rise in the pari-mutual "take" from 6 1-2 to 7 1-2 per cent will be used to increase the value of purses. An innovation that will be watched is the new electric starting gate which encloses each horse in a separate stall, with front doors that close and spring open at the touch of the starter's button.
