Special Composition . . . . .

Don't you worry, don't you fret
Enos will get a few hits yet
Right now he is off his stride
But before long he will take them for a ride.

It's hard to get a hit each day
But Enos is in the big leagues to stay
He's worth the Cardinals' money any time
We'll bet on the Person boy even if this is a poor rhyme.

"Bolo" With Redskins . . . . .

WILLARD (BOLO) PERDUE

For the first time in history Duke University will be represented on the Washington Redskins professional football team this season.

The Redskins have announced the signing of Willard (Bolo) Perdue, outstanding end of the Blue Devils for the past two years. At the same time it was also announced that another North Carolina boy will be playing with the Redskins this coming year, Charles (Chuck) Slagle, University of North Carolina guard, having also signed a 1940 contract.

Perdue, a rotund figure, is best remembered in the Tar Heel State for blocking a Pittsburgh kick in the last minutes of their game in 1938, which enabled Duke to defeat the Panthers, 7 to 0, and go into the Rose Bowl undefeated, untied and unscored on.

Slagle comes to the Redskins highly recommended by Henry Bartos, a member of the 1938 Redskins and now line coach at North Carolina.

Mangum Resigns . . . . .

Baxter Mangum manager and coach of the Ca-Vel ball team, has resigned his position at Collins and Aikman. This news was read with regrets by many baseball fans in this section last week. Since Mangum has been in charge at Ca-Vel he has done much for the ball team. His team has been good year after year and he has sent several players into higher company. Enos Slaughter of the Cardinals is the best example.

Coach Mangum did everything possible to have a winning team. He worked with the boys and was popular with all the players. Each year he produced a good combination. It will be hard to find a man to take his place.

Schacht To Be In Durham For Show Today

Durham, June 2 — Packing a new line of stunts and inimitable baseball antics, Al Schacht, the "Clown Prince of Baseball" will be featured here today, as the Durham Bulls and Rocky Mount Red Sox clash at Durham Athletic Field in a scheduled Piedmont loop game.

Schacht, who has not been here for several years, has entertained millions of fans during the world's series and at ball parks all over the United States and Canada.

He has a style of buffoonery all his own and gives a hearty, laugh-provoking exhibition prior to the game. He is one of the cleverest pantomime artists in the amusement field today, and the fact that he was formerly a professional pitcher and coach in the majors and minors, makes his show particularly adaptable to baseball.

This past spring, Schacht went to Florida training camps along with the baseball clubs, having two objects in mind. Working the way he does, he must be in as good physical condition as the players, and he spent much of his time in the south "getting in shape".

Then, too, he had some new ideas along the stunt lines that he wanted to try out. Perfecting the routine of these acts, he appeared before the spring exhibition crowds in Florida to test the reaction of the fans to his performance. The stunts that went over best were selected for the program he will put on during his Durham engagement.

He clown to please a big crowd at Tampa before the spring all-star game of the two major leagues put on for the Finnish relief fund.

The famous clown of the diamond, who has been in vaudeville and who toured with Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen, the French tennis star, is one of the greatest side-shows in baseball and packs 'em in wherever he plays.

He will start stunting at 2:30 during his local engagement, with the ball game getting under way at 3 p. m.

Clinton Winstead Has High Rating For Past Season

Greenville, May 31 — Clinton "Windy" Winstead, Roxboro boy and ECTC junior, who played three positions on Coach Bo Farley's East Carolina Teachers college baseball squad this season, has a batting average of .481.

During the season just ended Winstead received assignments on the mound, in centerfield and behind the plate.

While a student in Roxboro high school Winstead played football and baseball; and was active in these same sports at State college before he transferred to ECTC.

This summer he will play with the Southern Virginia league team at Emporia, Va.

Winstead's batting average and playing ability are equalled only by his fine sportsmanship.

Claud Wilborn Breaks Up Ball Game In Ninth Inning

Ca-Vel won a nice ball game from Boydton last week by the close score of 3 to 2. The game was won by Claude Wilborn in the ninth inning when he knocked a home run scoring Carlton Slaughter ahead of him to break up a pitching duel between Clayton and Crowder of Ca-Vel and Elliott of Boydton.
