Golf On July 4th

Forty-five people entered the "blind bogey" golf tournament at the Country Club Thursday, July 4th, and approximately sixty-five people played golf on the course that day.

All of this proves that golf is becoming very popular in this city and county. The course was crowded with good golfers, fair golfers, poor golfers and really bad golfers, but everyone had a big time and went home well pleased with the day.

Rain in the morning made quite a few feel "down in the dumps" as it looked like there would be rain the entire day. However, it cleared up by one o'clock and everything went into full swing including baseball, golf and picnics.

White Hope ?

Maynard Daniels, Manteo's contribution to the prize ring, captured a close 10-round decision over Young Allen, Georgia boy, before a turnout of more than 599 fans at Manteo on July 4.

Daniels, who fights out of Washington and is billed as the "U. S. Marine Corps' bid for heavyweight honors," offered a good left hand but was wild in trying to land telling blows with his right. Allen proved to be a good defensive fighter.

Although rainy weather cut down the crowd, truck loads of fans from many seacoast communities came.

A number of people think that Daniels is the man who will beat Joe Louis. At the present time he is little more than a promising boxer, but he does seem to have something that might take him somewhere.

We Only Hope

This writer hopes that Jack Dempsey has ended his boxing career and that he never makes another serious attempt to box again.

We had much rather be able to tell the younger generation about all the fights he won and not have to mention a comeback attempt.

Holding Up Well

Big league baseball proved holiday entertainment Thursday for 214,743 fans with more than half of all this number jamming two parks to see the headline battles for first place.

The largest turnout was 57,633 at Briggs Stadium, Detroit, where the Cleveland Indians split a doubleheader to retain control of the American League. It was the biggest throng ever to see a ball game there.

Another capacity crowd of 54,306 filled the Polo grounds in New York to see the Brooklyn Dodgers sweep two contests and continue in front in the National League.

All of this goes to prove that in spite of the fact that baseball teams see action about every day, it is still a popular sport. We often wonder if football attendance would hold up as well if there were as many games played as in baseball.

More Refugees Coming To Wake Forest Haven

Wake Forest, July 6 — The potential number of British refugees in Wake Forest advanced by three this week with receipt of a cablegram from Mrs. Emilie Taylor Holmes, American-born wife of a British Naval officer, saying that she and their two children were about to sail for the United States.

Mrs. Holmes is a cousin of Dr. C. C. Crittenden of Raleigh, and is also related to Mrs. E. B. Earnshaw and Mrs. E. T. Crittenden, both of Wake Forest. Until now a resident of Droxford, England, she cabled that she and the children would arrive on the Liner Washington.

Dr. Crittenden said his relatives in Wake Forest would receive the refugee family for the war's duration.

Wake Forest became a center several weeks ago for making plans to receive British refugees. The Don Johnston and L. D. Smart families announced intentions to receive personal friends or relatives from England.

A group of citizens led by Dr. J. A. Easley of the school of religion is endeavoring to take in a group of 25 British children. Homes have been pledged for them, but immigration details have not been worked out.

The State Board of Charities and Public Welfare, meeting in Raleigh recently, asked all North Carolina communities to hold their refugee plans in abeyance until assurances could be made that the children would not become public charges.

The board's request specifically exempted children with close relatives or friends in the State.

Dr. Easley said yesterday that he had read a set of regulations propounded by the children's bureau in Washington, outlining conditions for placing refugees in the State.

He said he interpreted the regulations as prohibiting volunteer committees, agencies and delegated this function to state welfare boards or recognized welfare agencies designated by them.

This, he said, would prevent the type of group immigration his committee had in mind, making it necessary to handle each case individually through the State Board of Charities and Public Welfare, but would not affect the plans of the Johnston, Smart, and Crittenden families.

Joe Louis To Cut Down On Defenses Of Championship

New York, July 5 — Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis will make but two defenses of his title in 1941, his co-managers, John Roxborough and Julian Black announced today. Both defenses will be in outdoor bouts.

That procedure will be followed each year thereafter, as long as he holds the crown. The co-managers believe that too many Louis defenses have tended to "cheapen the title and lessen the gates."

Sen. Glass and Bride at Honeymoon Home

Carler Glass, the senior senator from Virginia, is shown with his bride, the former Mrs. Mary Scott Meade, at their Montview Farms, Va., home near Lynchburg. The senator is 82 years old. His bride is 50. A leader in the senate for the past generation, Glass is known as an expert on currency and fiscal matters.

Coach John Caddell Dies At Home In Wake Forest.

Wake Forest — Wake Forest athletes acted as pallbearers yesterday at the funeral of Coach John Calhoun Caddell, 59, who died Friday morning at his home here of a stroke of paralysis which he suffered a year ago.

"Coach John" resigned his position as baseball coach at the college last Spring. He had been the mentor of Wake Forest baseball teams for the past 15 years. The funeral services were held at 3:30 o'clock from the home with the Rev. Dr. J. B. Cullom officiating. Burial was in the Wake Forest cemetery. Active pallbearers were John Polanski, Tommy Byrne, Bob Reid, Jack Williams, Dick Hoyle and Dave Fuller.

Caddell piloted the Deacons to several state titles during his career and saw some of his students make good in professional baseball. Tommy Byrne, left-handed pitcher who was coached by Caddell in 1939, recently signed a contract with the New York Yankees and will report to their Newark club. Other boys whom the coach saw make good in professional baseball are Vic Sorrell, Junie Barnes, John Gaddy and Buddy Lewis.

Honorary pallbearers were J. H. Weaver, A. A. Dowtin, T. T. Rogers, D. C. Walker, P. M. Utley, Walter Holton, E. R. Walker, Murray Greason, Dr. George Mackie, Dr. T. D. Kitchen, Prof. J. G. Carroll, Dr. A. C. Reid, William Royall, Wait Brewer, Dr. John Powers, Dr. Tolbert Wilkinson, W. W. Holding, T. E. Holding, Ray Branson, W. M. Fuller, Dr. O. C. Bradbury, Dr. D. B. Bryan, Willis Satterwhite, R. B. White, L. H. Warren, H. L. Macon, and R. H. Garner, all of Wake Forest; George Pennell of Asheville, Albert Fleming, Dr. R. H. Freeman, Dr. John S. Rhodes, C. G. Doak of Raleigh; Bunn Hearn of Chapel Hill and John S. Coombs of Durham.

A son of the late Mary Brooks Caddell and J. C. Caddell, the coach was born in Wake Forest in 1881. In 1912 he was married to Miss Ella Gill, also of Wake Forest. He attended Wake Forest College from 1902 - 1906. He returned to his alma mater in 1922 as the coach of freshman baseball. He coached the freshman team again in 1925 and 1927. For the remainder of the time to last year he was the pilot of the varsity nines.

Besides his wife, the deceased is survived by two sisters, Mrs. B. F. Keither, Jr., of Wilmington and Mrs. R. H. Griffin of Florence.

Just 'Two-Ton'

This weird apparition is not a visitor from Mars, but simply Tony ("Two-Ton") Galento, heavyweight pugilist. Tony is hiding behind his new training mask which saves his face from disfigurement.

S. C. A son, John, Jr., was killed in 1931 in a train accident in Wake Forest at the age of 18.

Ca-Vel Wins Fourteen Frame Game June 26

One of the best ball games of the season was won by Ca-Vel on June 26th, by a score of 3 to 2 when Graystone of Henderson was defeated.

The game went for fourteen innings. Sam Shotwell of Ca-Vel pitched for the locals.

This game was played before a large crowd of people on the high school diamond in Roxboro.

WAIT FOR BABY

New York, July 5 — John Hay Whitney's Wait for Baby, which started only twice as a two-year old, made her first three-year old start today and won in the Tuxedo Purse at Empire City. The winner was three-quarters of a length in front of Oasis. North Anna was third, Wait for Baby paid $14.70 for $2. It was a 10-horse field.

SEED

As a result of the European war, United States farmers may be called upon to produce a larger portion of American seed supplies than they have for many years.

Park Dedication Will Be 'Touch and Go' Ceremony

Washington, July 5 — The dedication of the Great Smoky Mountain National Park will be a touch and go affair decided on the spur of the moment and run off as swiftly as a train can get President Roosevelt from the Capital to the Smokies.

Nobody knows or has any idea when that will be, but the National Park Service is expecting it at any moment, according to A. E. Demaray, associate director of the service and active promoter of the park.

Asked today if the dedication would be held up indefinitely for the President, Demaray reported that it would, since Mr. Roosevelt had shown an expressed desire to dedicate the park.

"The chances are it will be a lightning action," Demaray said, "and there will barely be more than enough time to get the principal figures of the dedication together."

This was explained, of course, as a necessity due to the threatening and ever-changing scenes in Europe as well as to the continually increasing demands on the domestic front concerning national defense. Until Hitler and the British fleet and Soviet Russia and American legislation experienced a temporary lull in their actions simultaneously, or the President can sandwich in the time for it, there will be no dedication.

LUCK NO BETTER

Hemp, July 5 — Clifford Barnes, young Carthage man, is in Moore County Hospital, Pinehurst, recovering from an operation for the removal of 12 brass thumb-tacks from his stomach and six from his intestines.

Young Barnes, who was working in a Carthage store, was holding the tacks in his mouth while putting up some signs. Someone entered and spoke to him and with his attention diverted, he began to answer and swallowed the tacks.

Hospital experiences are not new to Barnes, for during the past year he has had more than his share of ill luck. He attended Pfeiffer Junior college, Misenheimer, last year, and in September fell from a diving board and injured his back. His physician warned him to be extremely careful on this account. A short while later he slipped on icy pavement. At Easter he was struck by an automobile. Young Barnes is a son of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Barnes of Carthage.

CHANGES MIND

New York — Neville (Tiger) Beech, promising young Memphis heavyweight was ready to join the army when he got his chance to fight in a preliminary to the Louis-Godoy bout. Two straight victories since his Eastern debut have changed his mind. Beech and Pat Comiskey were the best-looking heavies on the Baer-Galento card, including the principals.

DOUBLED

Turning under green soybeans on his land last year has resulted in twice as much wheat on the land this year for S. H. Hicks, of Snow Hill, reports Greene county Assistant Farm Agent J. W. Grant.

MATRESSES

Approximately 400 low-income farm families of Craven county are expected to file applications under the Federal-State mattress-making program, reports Paul M. Cox, assistant farm agent.

DEMONSTRATION

T. S. Miller, demonstration farmer of Stony Fork township in Watauga county, believes that a good demonstration program should include the appearance of the farm and home and its surroundings.

LIME

Cherokee county farmers are reporting excellent results from the use of lime on their pastures, reports A. Q. Ketner, farm agent of the N. C. State College Extension service.

BRIGHTENED

The National defense program has brightened the domestic demand for farm products, since increased industrial production should mean larger consumer incomes during the last half of this year.

TULIPS

Of the 100,000,000 tulip bulbs shipped into the United States each year, the Netherlands was responsible for 98,500,000, so a new industry may be created in this country through necessity.

LOCKERS

Although primarily designed for farm families, freezer lockers are rapidly becoming accepted "food banks" for city residents, who find the lockers cut down on food bills.

HENDERSON WINS

Warrenton, July 5 — Henderson triumphed over Warrenton, 25 1-2 to 22 1-2 in a golf meet played here.

Sam Shotwell, former Bethel Hill high school star, is going strong with the Ca-Vel pitching staff.
