

Taking Lessons . . . . .

There must be a few people in Roxboro who want to play better golf. Fred Main, our golf "pro" has been giving a few lessons. His pupils have shown fair progress and they know that the lessons have helped.

Fred is very reasonable in his charges. One dollar per hour is all, and he really gets across some information in that hour. Then if you want him to prove that he knows what he is talking about he will place one on the first green for you in one shot.

Football Tickets Ready . . . . .

Orders are now being taken by colleges and universities for football tickets to games to be played next fall. Tickets are generally offered to alumni first and next the general public.

All of this is simply to remind you that Duke and Carolina are expected to play a swell game this year and that the game will be played in Chapel Hill where seats are rather scarce.

What's Wrong, Jule? . . . . .

This column has been wondering about Jule Warren's Five Forks baseball team. When the season started the boys had new uniforms and were supposed to play good ball. We have had no recent reports from this team and we want to know what is wrong.

Jule also said that he had two good pitchers who were supposed to have something on the ball. Where are they?

Mebane Takes On More . . . . .

The Dogwood golf course of Mebane officially opened the additional 50 acres recently improved and added to the present course Thursday, July 4, which was the occasion of the annual club membership tournament.

C. L. Malone, with a net score of 73, was winner of the tournament in which 28 members participated. Prizes for the most pars was won by Robert A. Wilkerson, who counted six pars in his round. Mrs. Louis Corbett, L. P. Best and Louis A. Corbett each had par on five holes. Prizes for birdies were awarded Rev. A. C. Hamby, J. J. Carroll, and Mrs. Louis A. Corbett.

Roxboro and Mebane should get together on a series of match between players of each club. Both have new courses and players in the two clubs are probably about evenly matched.

Businessmen To Get Work

Atlanta, July 8 — "We're giving them the works."

With this brisk promise, Lieut. Col. Clifford R. Jones arranged for arrival of approximately 160 business and professional men who are to spend the next 28 days learning what it means to be a soldier.

verging on Fort McPherson from eight southern states, was due at the military reservation today, and others were expected to register through Thursday.

All between the ages of 25 and 50, the enrollees are paying $41.50 each for board and expenses, will get in return what army spokesmen describe as "basic infantry training." Included and drill, orders, scouting and patrol work, guard duty, some signal practice and a nodding acquaintance with anti-tank guns and similar weapons.

Buster Maynard Home-Running In Excellent Style

Richmond, Va. — A sensational spurt, which started early in June, has carried James Walter (Buster) Maynard of Richmond's Piedmont League Colts into contention in the circuit's interesting homerun race.

The speedy center fielder from Roxboro, N. C., hit his fourteenth four-master, June 27, to pull within three of his league leading teammate, Bill Prout, and within two of second-place Sherry Robertson of Charlotte.

Maynard, playing his first year as a class man after a period of service in the Coastal Plain League, suffered a brief slump recently when he was brought in to play third base in place of the veteran Ernie Horne, who was injured. However, since returning to his regular position, the North Carolinian has been hitting with his customary regularity.

Maynard and Prout, incidentally, are under bond of $300 each to answer charges of felonious assault with a deadly weapon in Nash County (N. C.) Superior Court at Rocky Mount in August. They were accused by Russell Innes, Rocky Mount amateur boxer of attacking him there, May 4. The two Colts denied the charges and waived preliminary hearing last week.
