

New Publications Ready For Farmers

Three new publications of interest to farm people have been prepared by the State College Extension service and are available to citizens of North Carolina free for the asking. Two are Extension Circulars and the other is an Extension pamphlet, as follows:

Extension Circular No. 241, "The Use of Disinfectants in Poultry Production," written by Prof. R. S. Dearstyne, H. C. Gauger, and R. E. Greaves of the college Poultry Department.

Extension Circular No. 242, "Growing Small Grain in the Coastal Plain," by E. C. Blair, Extension agronomist.

Extension Miscellaneous Pamphlet No. 42, "Making a Cotton Mattress," by Miss Pauline E. E. Gordon, Extension home management specialist, and Miss Willie N. Hunter, Extension clothing specialist.

Any or all of these publications will be mailed free, post-paid, to persons writing to the Agricultural Editor at State College, Raleigh.

A full discussion of germicidal substances in the prevention and control of poultry diseases and parasite infestations is contained in the Circular No. 241. The poultryman recommends, however, that sunlight, burning and boiling are the most satisfactory disinfectants when they can be used conveniently.

Copper Atom Interests Aquacade Mermaids at New York World's Fair

This quartette of bathing beauties from Billy Rose's Aquacade are fascinated by the mystery of the Copper Atom, one of the features of the Copper & Brass Industry Exhibit, during their tour of the Industry and Metals Building. An Atom is one of the smallest possible divisions of any material. In fact it is so small that you cannot see it with your eyes. You cannot see it through a microscope. This model is enlarged more than twenty billion times. It is explained through a hidden voice and attracts hundreds of thousands of visitors to the Fair from throughout the United States as well as many from foreign lands.

points out that oats, wheat, rye, and barley usually make better yields in the Coastal Plains than on comparable soils in the Piedmont and Mountain sections.

The mattress-making pamphlet is expected to be of value in the project for low income families which the Extension Service is directing in every county in the State, in cooperation with other agricultural and welfare agencies.

CORK

The Amur cork tree—introduced from Asia as an ornamental—has proven satisfactory for williculture to prevent erosion in country.

When Acid Indigestion, Gas on Stomach or Heartburn make you feel uncomfortable or embarrass you, try Alka-Seltzer, which contains alkalinizing buffers and so helps counteract the associated Excess Stomach Acidity.

But the relief of these minor stomach upsets is only a small part of what you can expect Alka-Seltzer to do for you. You will find it effective for Pain Relief in Headache, Neuralgia, Colds and Muscular Aches and Pains. It contains an analgesic, (sodium acetyl salicylate), made more prompt and effective in its pain-relieving action by alkaline buffer salts.

When hard work or strenuous exercise make you feel tired and dragged out, enjoy the refreshing effect of a glass of sparkling, tangy Alka-Seltzer.

leaf seedlings—an average of two seedlings from each pound of mulch.

"The study will observe for several years the survival and height growth of the seedlings resulting from this simple and inexpensive scattering of pine needle litter over the bare area to a depth of about one inch.

"If only one-fourth of the existing seedlings live for 5 years, the area will be well planted, Lee declared.

In conclusion, he suggested that North Carolina farmers try this method of controlling erosion, one of the major agricultural problems of the State.

Director Simon An Authority On "Stage Freight"

S. Sylvan Simon, who directed "Sporting Blood", story of southern horse racing showing at the Dolly Madison theatre starting tomorrow, confessed to his cast during the production of the picture that when he had his one opportunity to appear before the camera he suffered such stage fright that he couldn't go through with it.

It was during the first day of production on "Sporting Blood" when both Robert Young and Maureen O'Sullivan were saying that the first scene of a new picture always scared them silly but that once it was over they felt perfectly all right.

"I have to be sympathetic with all nervous actors because of what happened to me," admitted Simon. "I once wrote a short subject showing how films are made. I was to direct it and also play the role of the test director in the picture. When the time came for me to step in front of the camera I simply couldn't do it. I got cold feet and had to hire an actor to take my place."

It's Etiquette For Andy Hardy

A gift made forty years ago to a member of the company of "Andy Hardy Meets Debutante", coming Monday to the Palace theatre, found its way to the screen in this latest episode of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's series about the Hardy Family.

The gift was a time-yellowed book on the social graces, published in 1881 and entitled, "Our Deportment, Manners, Conduct and Dress of the Most Refined Society," and in the picture it was used by Mickey Rooney to determine how, as Andy Hardy, he might crash the acquaintance of a modern glamour girl.

But forty years ago it had been presented for a more realistic purpose to John Miller, property man on the Hardy Family series, by his parents who hoped thereby to improve him socially.

Pine Needle Mulch Aids Reforestation

Mulching with pine needles, or pine straw, to preserve moisture and hold the soil is familiar in many parts of North Carolina, but this practice will serve another purpose, says W. D. Lee, Extension soil conservationist of N. C. State College.

A pine needle mulch will stimulate reforestation of eroded and denuded areas, he stated. This has been proven conclusively in tests, and scores of farmers have reported a growth of pine trees in areas where they have covered ditch banks or idle fields with pine straw.

Lee said that the Southern Piedmont Soil Conservation Experiment Station at Athens, Ga., conducted these tests to demonstrate this method of reforesting old fields or clay gall areas.

"Seeking an economical way of seeding eroded areas, the station mulched four clay-galled plots with 800 pounds of pine needle litter from adjacent woods. In five months, a healthy mixed vegetation developed, including more than 1,600 short-
