NEGRO WOMAN IS PLACED IN JAIL AFTER SHOOTING

Wounds Jack Moore, Negro Of The Bushy Fork Section Early Sunday Morning.

Lizzie May Pass, young Negro woman about 20 years of age, daughter of a tenant on the Paul Solomon farm, Olive Hill township, was placed in Person County jail early Monday morning following issuance of a warrant charging her with assault with a deadly weapon upon Jack Moore, 25, Negro who resides on the Ellis Wade place, Bushy Fork township. The Pass woman, according to Person Sheriff M. T. Clayton, is alleged to have fired at Moore at close range with a shotgun, wounds being inflicted in both legs slightly below the hips.

The shooting is said to have taken place early Sunday morning near the Pass home, the woman reporting that Moore had a short time previously insulted her in a cornfield nearby and that she threatened to shoot him if he followed her to the house. Moore received treatment by a Roxboro physician and has since returned to his home, although the wounds were described as being somewhat serious. In default of a $500 bond the woman remains in prison, pending trial in county court. Moore at first refused to divulge the woman's name and for that reason arrest was not made until Monday morning.

COMMISSIONERS HEAR PETITION MONDAY MORNING

Request Made For Agricultural Building For County Library Committee Named.

Meeting in regular monthly session the Person County Board of commissioners, of which Phillip L. Thomas is chairman, on Monday morning named the county library committee, attended to various financial matters and heard a delegation composed of representative citizens of the county request consideration of plans for a proposed county agricultural building to house various agricultural departments now operating in the county.

Named to the library committee were: Mrs. John H. Merritt, of Woodsdale, chairman; D. M. Cash, of Moriah, Mrs. E. P. Warren, of Hurdle Mills, and F. O. Carver and Dr. A. L. Allen, of Roxboro.

It is understood that this committee will make recommendations as to books to be purchased for the local Roxboro library and for the State Library commission's book truck now in service in the county.

Heading the delegation in favor of the agricultural building was E. Y. Floyd, of Raleigh, with local spokesmen being Claude T. Hall, County Agent H. K. Sanders, J. S. Merritt, Miss Velma Beam, J. W. Noell, Percy Bloxam, Allen Hester and Mr. Green. The matter of the need for such a building was first presented to the commissioners two or three years ago, although it was not acted upon at the time.

Members of the committee reported today that it is hoped that WPA assistance for the construction of the building can be secured and that the need for such a building is now even more acute than it was three years ago, since the agricultural program is constantly expanding. The commissioners took the petition under advisement, with action deferred until a later session.

Howard Stuckey Selected To Speak At Council Meeting

Guest of honor at a dinner to be given Friday evening for the executive committee of the Cherokee Scout Council by members of the Person County executive council of the organization will be Howard Stuckey, of southern headquarters of the Boy Scouts of America, Atlanta, Ga., who will be expected to make a brief address and afterwards lead in a round-table discussion pertaining to scouting, it was announced here today.

Fire Drills At High School Are Satisfactory

Six hundred students at Roxboro high school left the building in 90 seconds in a fire prevention week drill held there yesterday morning, according to a report filed by Fire Chief Henry E. O'Briant, who said that this was a very satisfactory record.

The series of drills was continued during the day in other schools in the city and fastest time out was reported at East Roxboro school, where 80 students were out of their building within 40 seconds. Next best record was made at Person County Training school for Negroes, where 700 students marched out in 50 seconds, and 192 pupils in the annex left in 70 seconds.

At Roxboro Central Grammar school 456 children "made their escape in 75 seconds. Drills were all unannounced and were in compliance with an ordinance requiring that at least one fire drill be held in each school each month during the school year. Full report of yesterday's drills was made by Chief O'Briant to City Manager Percy Bloxam and to H. C. Gaddy, supervising principal of city schools.

PERSON FARMER DIES SUDDENLY ON COURT STREET

S. Robert Young of Near Ca-Vel Stricken Yesterday With Heart Attack. Rites Held Today.

S. Robert Young, 63, Person county farmer who lived on the R. L. Harris farm near Ca-Vel, died yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, a few minutes after being stricken with a sudden heart attack while standing on Court street, Roxboro, near a tobacco warehouse. A physician who was immediately called from a nearby office diagnosed the case and reported that Mr. Young was nearly dead when first examined. The deceased had just left the warehouse when he fell to the street and death occurred at a funeral home next door, where Mr. Young was taken after he had fallen.

Final rites were held this afternoon at two o'clock by the Rev. Lex Chandler at the H. W. Wilson family cemetery where interment took place. Kerr, of Durham, and Mrs. Ralph Walther, of Cedar Grove, and four sons, Harry Foushee, of Cedar Grove, Robert Foushee, of Hurdle Mills, and Baxter and Ranney Foushee, of Cedar Grove, while from the second union survivors include three daughters, Misses Bettie, Evelene and Mildred Foushee, of the home and five sons, Clarence H., Alex R., Richard, Lorinie and R. T. Foushee, Jr., all of the home.

Also surviving are: four sisters, Mrs. Walter Jacobs, of Reidsville, Mesdames Susan Tillman, A. P. Clayton and Sam Wren, of this city; a brother, George Foushee, of Roxboro; two half-sisters, Mrs. O. B. McBroom and Mrs. Robert Jackson, of Roxboro, and two half-brothers, J. R. and J. H. Foushee of this city.

School Children Receive Health Inspections Here

Main effort of the Person County unit of the tri-county health department during the past month was inspection of school children for skin and scalp disease, of which less than usual was found, according to the September report released today by Dr. A. L. Allen, director, who also said that disease prevalence, except for slight measles and some syphilis, was negligible.

Inspection of children through the 7th grade was accomplished during the month, of which 1,410 were examined by the health department staff, after attention had been called by teachers, who are this year doing gross inspections. Total number of children inspected was 5,720.

In maternity care 35 mothers were examined and three were given contraceptive advice, while in the syphilis campaign 505 treatments and 99 blood tests were given, with 14 reportable cases. Typhoid vaccinations were given to 89 and smallpox inoculations to 27, whereas toxoid was administered to 47 persons. In tuberculosis control, 97 persons were fluoroscoped and 11 home visits were reported.

Included in Sanitarian T. J. Fowler's record for the month were 35 cafe inspections and 96 complaints answered. New privies installed reached 62.

VERY ILL
Mrs. Frank Breeze, mother of Mrs. A. H. Rimmer of Roxboro, is quite ill at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rimmer.

Nicks And Bloxam Will Go To Municipalities Session

'Small Business'

Tuesday Night Toastmaster At Charlotte Session Will Be R. L. Harris.

Roxboro representatives at the three day League of Municipalities session, to be held October 14, 15 and 16 at Charlotte will be Mayor S. F. Nicks, Jr., and City Manager Percy Bloxam, according to announcement made today by Mr. Bloxam, who said that authorization for their attendance was granted at the regular monthly session of the city council held this week.

Also present at the Tuesday evening session of the league will be R. L. Harris, of this city, who will be toastmaster. Mr. Harris, a leading Roxboro citizen is Democratic nominee as lieutenant governor of North Carolina.

Most important item handled by the city council here was the naming of George W. Kane and Preston Satterfield, Sr., as members of a committee to appoint a zoning committee for the city. Requests for street lights on Foushee street and Morehead street and for traffic signal lights at Court and Lamar and at Court and Main streets were referred to Commissioner of Public Safety, George W. Kane, for further consideration.

The City Manager was authorized to prepare a new map of the Burchwood or city cemetery, showing grave plots and setting out a number of single and double graves. Chief of Police S. A. Oliver was given temporary permission to reside outside of the corporate limits and the City Manager and the City Water Works superintendent were authorized to prepare a sewer and water program suited to needs of the moment and to report to the finance committee composed of Gordon C. Hunter and Mr. Satterfield, Sr. A report was presented by Miss Velma Beam, Home Demonstration agent, in regard to the city's part in support of the curb market.

Registrars To Get Instructions Here Tonight

At a morning session held Monday the Person County Board of Elections, of which F. O. Carver, Jr., is chairman, considered plans for the Selective Service registration to be held at various polling places in the 18 precincts in the county on Wednesday, October 16. Members of the board also discussed plans for conducting the general election in November and ordered ballots printed for this election. Registrars in the various precincts have been requested to meet Thursday night of this week at 7:30 o'clock at the Person County Court house to receive selective service registration instructions.

Due to the fact that Superior Court will be held next week at the court house and that various warehouses here will be in use during the day, Selective Service registrations for the four precincts of Roxboro township will be held at the American Legion hut, Chub Lake street, this city, instead of at the court house and the warehouses, according to an announcement made by members of the Person Board of Elections, who met again Tuesday to make plans for the October 16 registration. A spokesman for the group emphasized the fact that Selective Service registrations in all other townships in Person county will be conducted at regular polling places designated as such for general elections.
