Physical Training and Sportsmanship

Physical training is one of the best thing that youth of today could be taught and along with it goes sportsmanship. These two very important topics are the main objectives of the Roxboro high school Ramblers, under the direction of Coach George Wirtz, and in last Friday night's football game the objectives came to light and local fans made favorable comment. In the game the Ramblers were against some tough customers who, on several occasions, used questionable tactics in trying to gain ground, but the Wirtz-trained boys took their opponents' unsportsman-like actions in a way which made Schoolfield look sick, and while the locals were up and back in the huddle after a hard play, the Schoolfield boys were still picking themselves up from the ground. Coach Wirtz has been working his boys pretty hard this season, but now they are having a harvest-time, and all the players appreciate the training they have been receiving.

Roxboro's Athletic Club

During the past several weeks several of our local former athletes and would-be athletes, who are yet too young to be called old, and yet have shown some signs of getting that way, have been trying to form an athletic club. This club which is greatly needed here, needs more support. The way in which they plan to work is this: starting with basketball right away, they plan to get together a number of men and "chip-in" to buy some equipment, get Rev. Rufus "Chub" Womble to coach, then schedule games with high schools and other cities in surrounding territory. We think it is a good idea and are sure that it would prove beneficial to the city and all members concerned.

Tom Lawrence

Person sportsmen, especially those connected with the county basketball tournament, will share with Durham its sorrow for the sudden death of Tom Lawrence, Durham athletic director, who frequently came to Roxboro to officiate in basketball games at the high school gym. A bright young man, whose interest in boys was as genuine as his friendly smile, Mr. Lawrence will be greatly missed by all who knew him. He had that ideal combination, grace of body and strength of mind.

Bowl Game

It has been said that Stanford and Tennessee may play in the Rose Bowl this season. Of course either team could be defeated before the season is over, but right now they look good. We doubt if Tennessee gets defeated or even comes close to it.

Then after you pass the Rose Bowl there will be other Bowls and teams will be needed to play in them. Duke, defeated once, has been mentioned as a Bowl possibility, but this writer doubts if Duke would be interested in a Bowl bid even if she gets through the rest of the season.

Wake's Stadium

Last Saturday found us at Wake Forest college, right in the new stadium that has just been completed. This stadium is one of the nicest that we have seen. It is not as large as some of the others, but will take care of a crowd of about 20,000 and everyone can see the game.

This new stadium will help football and all other sports at Wake Forest. When a school has a good football team it needs a good stadium and even after seeing the Deacons last Saturday we are of the opinion that they have good team-plenty good.

Duke Rated Bowl Prospect, Despite Loss To Tennessee

New York, Oct. 29 — The football season has just reached the long pants stage, but already the fans are assured a revised cast of characters for the major bowl shows next New Year's Day, what with four of this year's bowl teams saddled with enough defeats or ties to make them extra-premium risks and the other four facing games which may leave them in the same class.

The Orange Bowl at Miami is assured a complete change of cast. Georgia Tech and Missouri the 1940 headliners, each has been set back twice this year, and even one defeat leaves a team second-rate goods as far as bowl committees are concerned.

Tulane, which shared the spotlight in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans, started this season by losing three straight, quite an accomplishment for a team as good as the Greenies. Southern California, the West Coast's Rose Bowl representative last New Year's Day, has been defeated only once, but it was fit to be tied twice, and was, so the Trojans will be sitting up there in section H when the 1941 contest is played.

The four other 1940 bowl teams—Tennessee, Clemson, Boston College and Texas Aggies—still are going strong, but only Tennessee with its walk-awhile-and-rest awhile schedule seems to be on Easy Street.

Texas Aggies face four tough cookies in a row in Arkansas, S. M. U., Rice and Texas. Clemson has Tulane, Auburn and Furman in front of it, and Boston College has undefeated Georgetown, and Auburn.

With hitherto undefeated teams dropping off like dead leaves every Saturday, the list of bowl prospects is dwindling down rapidly, and considering that several teams which might be considered box-office choices are prevented from competing in post-season games by conference rules, gentlemen's agreement or personal independence, the bowl committees already can count the possibilities on their fingers.

Orphanage Coach Says He Misplaced Letter From Wirtz

Because Jesse O. Sanderson, coach and principal of Methodist Orphanage, Raleigh, misplaced a March 21 letter to him from Coach George Wirtz, of Roxboro high school, scheduling a football game between the two institutions, and because Sanderson has in the meantime arranged for the Orphanage boys to play Spring Hope, the Roxboro Ramblers, who have cleaned up everything in sight this season, won their district championship and scored 102 points to their opponents' 30, are looking for a suitable opponent with whom to play on Friday, November 1.

Error in schedules was discovered yesterday after Sanderson received a follow-up letter from the Ramblers' coach inviting the Methodist squad to Hotel Roxboro for dinner in the evening. That's sad news for the Orphanage lads.

INSURANCE

Approximately 75 percent of all life insurance policyholders' deaths in 1939 were under policies owned for more than 10 years. Thirty-nine percent of life insurance deaths claims were on policies which had been in force more than 20 years, while 13 percent had been in force more than 30 years.

game, the Colonials took possession of the ball on their 45 yard line. Joey Kaufman tossed a pass to End Farris on the Deacs' 32 yard line. Three plays failed to gain and on fourth down Kaufman tore around end from that wide spread formation to Wake's 10. Here a first down pass fell incomplete, but Kaufman rifled a second into the arms of Jay Turner for the touchdown and the game ended on the play.

Now the renewal battle is just around the corner. It appears from the sidelines that the two teams will line up for the kickoff just about equal in strength with G. W. holding an edge in reserves. In any event, it is possible that a cool night would offset this and make the ball game a toss-up. Last Saturday Duke's reserve power and a hot sun beat the Deacons into submission in the last half.

Demon Deacons To Engage George Washington There

Wake Forest, Oct. 31 — After discontinuing grid relations for two seasons George Washington and Wake Forest take up their football warfare again this year, clashing in Griffith Stadium, Washington, D. C. Friday night of this week.

The last time the two ball clubs met was in the same stadium in 1937, and the Colonials whipped Wake badly 34 to 6. But that was during Coach Peahead Walker's first season at the Deacon helm and there was a famine of football players. Why during that campaign Duke beat Wake Forest 67-0 and the Deacons only won three games. Since then, however, Wake's football stock has risen rapidly.

In '38 the Deacs won 5 list 4 tied 1. Last year they won 7 and lost 3, and to-date in the current campaign they have won from William Jewell 79-0, North Carolina 12-0, Furman 19-0, Marshall 31-19. Duke has beaten them 23-0 and Clemson holds a 39-0 victory. However, in spite of these two defeats, for a club that could win but three games three years ago to come back and win from a national power such as North Carolina and to hold pre-game chances of winning from Duke and Clemson is an accomplishment not to be sneezed at.

The year before Coach Walker came to Wake, in '36, Wake Forest and G. W. really put on a knock-down-drag-out battle in Griffith stadium. The Cols won 13-12, but the score wasn't anything compared with the ball game. The Colonials took the first lead 7-0, then the Deacs came back for one touchdown to trail 6-7, and with two minutes to go tallied another on a pass from Hobo Daniel to Bert Shore, holding a 12-7 margin.

The game took all honors for thrills and spectacular play. Long passes, long runs, booming punts, close decisions all added up to give the fans a long dollar's worth but the outstanding feature of the fracas was that last touchdown drive put on by G. W. that spelled victory.

High Point College To Meet Elon

High Point, Oct. 30 — High Point college's arch rival, Elon, will be here Friday night, November 1, for a joust with the Purple Panthers.

The Panthers will enter the game as underdogs but the Elonites will not have an easy time with the locals. Elon will outweigh High Point about 10 or 15 pounds per man.

Last year Elon scored a 19-0 victory over the Panthers in their North State Conference game played here.

Fordham Regulars See Tar Heel Plays
