Plastic Surgery Works Miracles

Too-long nose may hinder her ambition.

Tip shortened, she is eligible for television.

Hump may make face seem older and coarser.

Straight nose plays up youth and refinement.

STIMULATED by the problems they faced in rebuilding war-ruined faces, plastic surgeons have advanced by leaps and bounds in knowledge and technique since the World War. Today, writes Ruth Murrin in the November Good Housekeeping, an unshapely nose may be completely remade in the short space of a week's time.

Since the nose is such a prominent feature, more people are sensitive about them than any other feature. A deformed nose, she says, attracts the eye so that other pleasant normal features go unnoticed. Under these circumstances, it may be a handicap to both social and business success. Plastic surgery, therefore, has come in for a great deal of public attention, and surgeons all over the country are successfully remodelling thousands of ugly noses. Their results bring new personalities as well as fresh faces.

If you are planning such an operation, Miss Murrin advises a thorough check on the surgeon. Make sure, she warns that you are in good health—no cold, sinus or skin difficulties to make complications. In most cases four or five days in a hospital are all that is necessary. After the operation there is a slight scar which completely vanishes in three or four weeks. Pictured below are two examples of actual cases. Notice what great skill the noses have been reworked.

Miss Vickers and Mr. Shotwell Wed

In a quiet ceremony witnessed only by the bride's mother and two sisters, Miss Anne Vickers, daughter of Mrs. G. C. Vickers and the late Dr. Vickers, of Person county, was united in marriage with James Shotwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Shotwell, also of Person county, at Trinity Episcopal church, South Boston, Va., on Saturday, October 26, by the rector, the Rev. Mr. Shiet. The impressive Episcopal ring ceremony was used.

For her nuptials the bride, who is a member of a family long prominent in Person county, wore a costume of Moss Rose crepe, with black accessories and a black felt off-the-face hat. Immediately following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Shotwell left on a brief wedding trip. They are now at home at their residence on the South Boston highway, where the bridegroom, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Shotwell, is a well-known farmer.

Mrs. Shotwell's sisters, who witnessed the rites are Mrs. Richard Young and Miss Docie Vickers.

OPEN FORUM

Roxboro, N. C. October 31, 1940

To Parents of Pupils at Central Grammar School:

Due to an extremely crowded condition existing at Central Grammar school both on the playground and in the building we are asking the kindest consideration on the part of the parents as well as the whole-hearted and sincere cooperation with the school and faculty. The schools first consideration is the child—therefore with that one phase in mind a new and changed schedule is being set up.

This is our earnest request, that the parents help in the problem for greater safety and an all-around happier situation by earnestly endeavoring to keep the town children at home as long as they possibly can both in the morning and at the lunch hour.

Please note the general regular daily schedule. Teachers on duty at 7:35 daily to receive Truck Children Only. Building opened to town children at 8:35, therefore parents are urged to keep every town child at home until 8:15. Central school can be reached in twenty minutes from any point in town.

The noon recess has been divided into two periods of 25 minutes. During the first half the Primary grades play out while the Grammar grades eat lunch. During the second half the Grammar grades play out while the Primary grades eat lunuch. All town children have 50 full minutes for lunch. Will you help relieve the crowded playground by letting your child play at home until 12:30? All Primary children go directly to their rooms when they return. The Grammar grade children stop on the playground. This plan should give you child a comfortable 50 minutes relaxation period.

On rainy days every town child has 30 minutes to go home and come back. It would be better to give your child a lunch rather than have him out in the rain. On these days Primary town children will be out at 1:50 and Grammar grades at 2:50. The teacher will be on duty until 4 o'clock or until the truck children have gone. Thus you see a teacher has a full day from 7.35 a. m. to 4 p. m. or later. your cooperation is needed.

Inda Collins, principal, Central Grammar School.

HELP

The planting of winter grazing crops is helping those mountain farmers who had their hay supplies washed away in the recent flood, report farm agents of the State College Extension service.

Wood Range Purchased By Olive Hill PTA

Proceeds realized from the recently held Halloween party and tobacco sale sponsored by the Olive Hill P. T. A. have been used to purchase a wood range to be used in the cafeteria, and new cooking equipment, consisting of large pots, pans, soup bowls, plates, silver cups and saucers, according to announcement made today.

The cafeteria is functioning unusually well this year with approximately 100 children getting their meals there daily.

The Olive Hill P. T. A. wishes at this time to thank the more than 50 merchants of Roxboro, Olive Hill, Wooddale and Chub Lake for their generous response to requests for the Halloween party program.

EXHAUSTED

The total supply of 81,600 lbs. of Austrian winter pea seed ordered through the AAA grant-aid plan for Bladen county farmers has been exhausted completely, reports Farm Agent R. B. Harper.

Miss Hunter Has Dance For Class

Miss Rebecca Hunter delightfully entertained her ballroom class and their guests at a Halloween dance at the American Legion Hut on Tuesday night.

With black and orange as the color scheme, the hut was beautifully decorated in the Halloween theme. Cats and witches adorned the walls and two large cat heads holding lighted candles were on the mantle.

Miss Clara Raynor, dressed as a fortune teller, dipped up fortunes from the witch's pot to the guests.

Miss Betty Gay Masten was awarded the prize for the best costume among the girls, and Roy Cates, Jr., received the prize for the boys. Miss Masten and Mr. Cates led the grand march, and Miss Hunter and Miss Raynor gave each guest favors of Halloween whistles and spiral rolls of confetti.

Punch was served throughout the evening.

Those enjoying the dance included Misses Nancy Masten, Janie Murphy, Margaret Anne Clayton, Marion Long, Lelia Day Monk, Marie Deering, Betty Gay Masten, Anne Harris, Mary Louise Harris, and Marjorie Monk, and Roy Cates, Jr., Charlie Harris, Martin Michie, Jr., Jack Hughes, Jr., Charles Hughes, Gus Deering, Pete Pridgen, Bill Spencer, Bill Sparter, Buddy Thomas, Bill Kirby and John McWhorter.

The next dance scheduled for the junior ballroom club will be a tea dance.

the weekend with her niece, Miss Marie Spencer, in Richmond, Va.

Mrs. T. H. Hamilton spent several days here this week with her sister, Mrs. J. S. Merritt.

Dr. and Mrs. G. W. Gentry, Mr. and Mrs. Reade Gentry and George Wesley Gentry spent Sunday motoring over the Skyline Drive and visiting caverns in the Shenandoah Valley.

REFLECTIONS

SILVER-TIME

The silver found in Mother's and Father's hair has deeper significance than all the hard metal in existence.

Silver hair is the "Paid" sign on the bill of life. One acquires it only after deep and glorious living. Our life is not given to us, it cannot be hypothesized nor can it be changed. Disappointments, disillusionments and the realization of a few of our dreams is the price we must pay.

The brilliance on an early morning sun throws everything in deep relief; the after-glow of a late afternoon sun softens the landscape; the silver radiance of the moon is indiscriminate with its paint brush. Then all things are made into silver! this is the silver light of age—beautiful, soft, and reminiscent.

When Silver-time comes, enjoy it. It has a wealth of compensations! No one can buy them; they must be lived. Silver-time is peace-time.
