

North Carolina May Get Another Place In House

Washington, Dec. 1.—The Census Bureau tabulated the final 1940 census figures today and computed the probable appointment of Congressional seats for the next decade.

The results will be reported to the President tomorrow and are expected to be made public by the White House soon thereafter. Meanwhile, the census officials declined all predictions and tips on the figures.

It was learned, however, that the revised total of the April 1 population of the 48 states and the District of Columbia was slightly higher than the 131,409,881 preliminary estimate issued by the bureau about two months ago.

On Capitol Hill, the apportionment figures were awaited for their possible effect on the basis of individual Congressmen.

Reapportionment on the basis of the present 435-seat size of the House and the mathematical formula used in 1930—the procedure so far favored by Congress—may switch a number of seats.

On the basis of the preliminary figures, which are not expected to change much, California appeared to have won two more seats than the 20 she now holds. Other indicated gains were: Arizona, from 1 seat to 2 seats; Florida, from 5 to 6; New Mexico, from 1 to 2; North Carolina, from 11 to 12; Oregon, from 3 to 4; and Tennessee, from 9 to 10.

The indicated losers of seats were: Illinois, from 27 to 26; Indiana, from 12 to 11; Kansas, from 7 to 6; Massachusetts, from 15 to 14; Nebraska, from 5 to 4; Ohio, from 24 to 23; Oklahoma, from 9 to 8; and Pennsylvania, from 34 to 33.

One of the possibilities suggested by the preliminary figures was that California might get three, instead of two, extra seats in which case Iowa might have to surrender one of its 9 places.

Appointment is done by a complicated mathematical formula prescribed by Congress. Under a law passed last Spring, this is the situation:

The first week in January, the President will relay to Congress the census report he will receive tomorrow. Congress may take 60 days to decide whether it wants to change the apportionment method or the number of seats, or whether to have any reapportionment at all (after the 1920 census Congress decided not to

Telegraph Stamps, New Idea, Now Sold In City

Inauguration of issuance of telegraph stamps, which will be accepted in payment for any of the numerous telegraph services, took place at the local office of the Western Union Telegraph Company at Roxboro Monday morning.

Mrs. Mark Baldwin, of Arlington, Va., a guest at Hotel Roxboro obtained the first book of the new stamps for Manager W. E. Hood, of the Roxboro telegraph office.

It is the first time in Western Union's 89 years in business that anything of the kind has been provided for public use. The stamps, all bear likenesses of Samuel F. B. Morse, inventor of the telegraph, and are in five denominations and colors. The numbers and descriptions of the new stamps as they will be chronicled for inclusion in Scott's U. S. Stamp Catalogue are as follows:

16T99 T29 1 cent yellow green;
16T100 T29 2 cent chestnut;
16T101 T29 5 cent deep blue;
16T102 T29 10 cent orange;
16T103 T29 25 cent bright carnine.

They will be provided in books designed to fit the pocket-books and wallets of travelers, students, soldiers and others.

Issuance of the stamps now, according to Mr. Hood was arranged so as to be available for gifts at Christmastime but they will be useful when traveling, and as a convenience in meeting daily business and social correspondence needs as they may arise.

REFLECTIONS

By R. M. SPENCER
PAYING OUR DEBTS

Has it ever occurred to you the faith all of us have in Humanity? The man who does not pay his debts is so much in the minority that he is the exception. All of us contract obligations and with few exceptions, we pay them when we promised.

However, the debts I have in mind cannot be paid with money or its equivalent. They must be paid with deeds of kindness, thoughtfulness, smiles and words of cheer. Let me illustrate: a man was driving his car without a thought of trouble when it suddenly stopped. He was miles from help; within a few minutes another automobile came into view, stopping beside my friend. The driver asked, "May I help you?" He pushed my friends car several miles and when asked his charges he smilingly said, "Nothing at all. It is my way of paying a little debt I contracted when I had to be pushed.

All of us have had to be pushed one way or another and have been the recipients of acts of kindness. We should seek ways and means of repaying these debts. We cannot be at peace with ourselves if we take without giving.
