Gossip Column

By Anita Kirby

Dear Santa Claus; We got this idea of writing to you from Mr. Merritt, but we know you can answer them because you are good to all. Yours truly wants a lot of things, but we'll give you what some fellow students want first.

Betty has some catts, but she wants Moore Carrs.

Elmo wants some suckers' cause birds of a feather must flock together.

Dorothy could use suckers too. Ida Frances wants a little plump doll with blond curly hair.

At a recent party both Mary Lou and Eleanor received cans of butterbeans, as Christmas gifts, but they weren't satisfied with the brand. They'd like to have human beans.

Please bring Harry Kirby gas money. He likes to ride on North Main Street so much, Gordon.

Marion James wants some flea soap.

Jackie Gordon would like a bicycle built for two with a Jack on one seat.

Just bring George Long some Christmas cards. He has too long a list (of shes) for presents.

Flash Newell still has an ad for a Dale. See what you can do about it, Santa.

Gordon wants a first class ring to make Annie Marie jealous.

Everyone except Red, wants him to get a beautiful voice to help out in the Glee Club.

Please bring Robert Wagstaff a little negro doll.

Margie is dying for some Rye-Krisp. It's no fun to be fat and forgotten, is it, Margie.

Olivia wants bus fare to Fort Bragg, and she hates uniforms. Remember Glenn!

Tommy Woody wants clarinet reeds. There's your next year's supply Betty.

Charlie Harris and Elsie Mae found a dime in front of Shank's. Please put some more there.

Can you picture Roy Cates playing golf; but that's what he desires most.

Kathryn Tapp wants new brakes for Harry's car so that it won't run in ditches. Same for Charles' (Gates).

Just bring George Long some Christmas cards. He has too long a list (of shes) for presents.

Louis Day wants a little Rose

Yuletide Season At Roxboro High

By Clarie F. Gentry

Editor's note—This was written before the close of school last week.

The Spirit of Christmas runs within the students of Roxboro High School. If one visits the school during this period, carols may be heard throughout the building. The Glee Club deserves credit for adding to the festivity with songs of Christ's birthday such as: "Silent Night, Holy Night and "Oh Come All Ye Faithful," etc.

Every student is beginning to feel this holiday so strongly that school and studies have become a second thought.

The home rooms are decorated with Christmas trees, and pictures of Santa Claus and the Christ Child adorn the boards and walls. An attractive poster "Peace on Earth, Good Will Toward Men" may be seen when you visit the library. One of the prettiest Christmas trees I've seen is the one so prettily decorated in Miss Kathleen Soles' room. Miss Roxannah Yancey has drawn a picture of Santa Claus on her board and it is so artistically drawn, it seems almost lifelike.

Students group together and discuss their plans for the coming year. Some are planning to spend the holidays at home; while others plan to go out of town.

Names have been drawn and gifts will be given out Friday when school closes, ending school days for this year. But we all plan to begin a happy and successful New Year at Roxboro High in 1941.

The Roxboro High faculty and members of the student body join with me in wishing everyone the merriest Christmas possible.

HI-Y MEETS

The Boys' Hi-Y met on Monday at the Roxboro High School. Glenn Titus, faculty advisor, took charge of the program since the president was sick. Christmas provisions for the poor were discussed and it was decided to have a Christmas tree, and for each Hi-Y member to bring one person to a Christmas Party in the high school building.

Flash Newell still has an ad for a Dale. See what you can do about it, Santa.

Annie Laurie wants her ring back.

Elizabeth has a portrait of Tom. How Tom Hill wants a portrait of Elizabeth.

Yours' Truly wants everyone to have a Merry Christmas and during the New Year continue to cooperate as you have in the past or we'll be out of our jobs.

Aid To Britain To Be Discussed

The Debating Society of Roxboro High met Wednesday to assign parts for the next debate—"Resolved that the United States should send material aid to Britain". The question debated will be at the first meeting after the Christmas holidays. Arlene Newell, Violet Stark and Marie Deering will debate the affirmative; Celia Barrett, Janie Pearl Crumpton, and Frances Mangum, the negative. Sam Umstead and John McWhorter will be on the affirmative rebuttal; Bernice Dixon and Hazel Green, the negative rebuttal. The judges will be H. C. Gaddy, Mrs. A. F. Nichols, and Mrs. B. G. Calyton. Mrs. Rynd plans to give the club a party in her apartment on the evening of Friday, December 27th.

New Rooms At School Finished

The Roxboro High School Vocational Education Class recently completed two new rooms in the basement of the High School as its project for the year. The work was done entirely by the class under the supervision of the teacher, Glenn Titus. The work of building the rooms consisted of: removing dirt, laying brick, installing electric wiring, drain pipes, windows, doors, ceiling and laying a cement floor. The class is made up of the following people: Edward Bradsher, Reginald Carver, Reams Clayton, Lawrence Harris, Irvin Morton, Zachariah Oakley, Giles Oliver, Thomas Pleasants, Bradsher Pulliam, Robert Rudd, Bill Stephens, Joe Tatum, Earl Wade, Thomas Whitfield, Frank Whitt, Lewis Watson, and Lindsey Wagstaff.

Editorial

This week we write about a man we will know. Mr. 1940. He is a very old man and he has not long to live. Father time is killing him, but in his place he has appointed a baby 1941. We all hope it will bring good times. We hope that he will bring peace to war-torn Europe. We hope that no American boys are in the trenches in 1941 or any year after that. We hope that 1941 may bring peace and good will. And now this reporter bids you goodbye till 1941. "Merry Christmas" and a "Happy New Year."
