

Streets should be "residential" in character to best preserve a residential neighborhood, according to Federal Housing Administration land planning officials. Neither too wide nor too narrow to accommodate local traffic, the roadway should be paved in a permanent manner and provided with a low curb and gutter for neatness and low-cost maintenance. Well-placed large trees do much to create a desirable environment. "Street trees" are not always essential.

STREET REPAIRS

It has been pointed out that information in the "Rates" bulletin which was prepared at the express invitation of the City Manager, with full cooperation by representatives from various Roxboro insurance, building and loan and real estate men, will also furnish desirable information as to local insurance rates and it is said that this is the first time that such a formal report has been filed for Roxboro.

First indication of the approaching biennial municipal election in May was council appointment of A. S. de Vlaming as registrar, Henry L. Crowell and E. G. Long as judges. Minor matters consisted of approval of placement of a street light near the municipal water plant and hearing of a petition with regard to increasing water facilities in Woodland Heights. Following investigation by the City Manager, report on this petition will be made at a later meeting.

WHAT'S IN A NAME SAYS MR. McNAIR

Rocky Mount, March 15.—John McNair, Negro farmer serving a jail sentence for drunkenness, blames his misfortune not only on corn liquor, but on his name.

He was fixing a flat tire when two police officers stopped to watch. All went well until one of the officers asked him his name.

"McNair, suh, John McNair."

"What!" the patrolman exclaimed. "You sorry scoundrel, and you running around here drunk."

The patrolman's name was John McNair too, and the good Scotch name of McNair had been insulted. He locked the other McNair up.

Key West, Fla., March 15.—The second attempt of Betty Compton, former English show girl, to obtain a divorce from New York's former playboy mayor, James J. Walker, on the grounds of cruelty comes up before Circuit Judge Arthur Gomez today.

Miss Compton, whose original proceedings March 5 were dismissed by Judge Gomez because testimony was "insufficient" to establish cruelty, was expected to spare no punches when she testifies at today's hearing.

SINGLETON LUMBER CO.
Charles Street Phone 94 So. Boston, Va.

Each year buildings, both private and public, become more complicated in construction. The modern building of today is an entirely different structure from one that was now thirty years ago. Yet, in spite of this progress, modern buildings are constructed just as quickly and are far more lasting. That is because modern building material firms such as this one are providing a more highly specialized service.

This modern firm has supplied the lumber and mill work for some of the largest and most modern buildings in this section. They have a large supply of building materials on hand, and make a specialty of quickly making or securing anything called for in specifications that is not common to the trade.

The heads of his firm particularly enjoy being of service to home builders. And home builders will be surprised at the number of ways they can assist them with their problems. Estimates and suggestions are freely and willingly given, whether purchases are made or not.
