During the demonstration she gave many helpful suggestions to the group gathered there, not only for canning but for making a canning budget, how to use canned products to prevent monotony in the daily diet and how to store canned products successfully.

City Commissioners Approve Planning-Zoning Committee

Impressive Service Marks Ordination Rites Held Here

Rev. Rufus J. Womble Of St. Mark's Episcopal Church Elevated To Priesthood In Morning Ceremony Yesterday. Bishop Penick Officiated, Prof. Mollegen Delivers Sermon.

In accordance with the impressive rites of the Protestant Episcopal church, the Rev. Rufus J. Womble, who has been for nearly one year Deacon-in-charge of St. Mark's church, this city, was yesterday morning, in the church of which he is now Rector, ordained as a Priest.

Sermon for the occasion was delivered by the Rev. Albert T. Mollegen, of Alexandria, Va., and rites of ordination were in charge of the Rt. Rev. Edwin A. Penick, D. D., of Raleigh, Bishop of the Diocese of North Carolina, assisted by many visiting clergymen from that diocese and from eastern North Carolina and Virginia.

The Rev. Mr. Mollegen, professor at Virginia Theological seminary, from which the newly ordained minister was last year graduated, had as his text, "God is Love," from St. John's gospel, and in his message impressed upon the congregation that it is not a simple task for a minister to act as the interpreter of the love of God.

"Knowledge of the meaning of God's Love," said the speaker, "requires an understanding of ecclesiastical background, especially of the first century of the Christian church in comparison with the church of the present day. God must be thought of as a God of power and righteousness still, before we can discover the persistent cause of man's sense of estrangement from God, although His love is a gift to sinful man."

"The doctrine of loving thy neighbor as thyself has its difficulties," said the Rev. Mr. Mollegen, particularly in a world at war when groups are arrayed against groups, but if God is love it is the task of the Church and of her ministers to show this at all times."

Special tribute was paid to the Rev. Mr. Womble, by both Bishop Penick and by the Rev. Mr. Mollegen, the latter characterizing him as one who according to his abilities best exemplified the traditions of the Church (Continued On Back Page)

This was the second recent fire at the house. Several months ago a barn on the property was destroyed.

Naming Of New Civic Group To Take Place At Later Date. Appointment Will Fill Long Felt Need in Municipal Circles.

Agreement that appointment of a zoning and planning commission shall be made, was most important business transacted at regular June session of Roxboro City commissioners' board meeting held Tuesday night.

Membership on the zoning and planning commission will be announced at a later date, but it is expected that this commission will do much to facilitate problems pertaining to buildings and to street and road layouts in the city and decision to have such a commission is looked upon as a progressive step in the direction of municipal affairs, a step desired for some time by civic authorities.

Much discussion was devoted to the 1941-1942 municipal budget, which in tentative form runs to about the same amount as it did for the previous year. On second and final reading, petition of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telephone company for toll lines here was granted for a period of 30 years.

Subject to WPA final approval, commissioners' approval of a WPA project for repairs to the municipal dam and to Durham road, Brooks and Bumpass streets, was granted. Introduced was a resolution of thanks to George W. Kane, former commissioner, now Highway and Public Works Commissioner for this district, for work and services rendered to the City during his time on the city board.

Meeting was then closed, following agreement that there shall be an adjourned meeting on Tuesday, June 17, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon for purpose of further consideration of the budget, civic appointments, and membership on the zoning and planning commission. All council meetings, it was agreed will henceforth held in the afternoon, rather than at night.

Man's Lung Power Wins In Contest With Auto Blaze

Clyde Atwater, Roxboro fireman, has lung power: evidence of his ability was shown here Monday when smoke began to pour from the hood of a parked automobile on South Main street, near First Baptist church, across the street from the fire station, and Clyde and other fireman rushed to the scene with booster tank equipment. Clyde raised the hood, took one look at the small blaze, caused by a short-circuited wire, and then took a deep breath before he literally blew the fire out. Back to the station went the unused booster and the men who accompanied it.

Less fortunate was Ben Harris, Negro, city sanitary department employee and driver of a department truck which caught fire and burned up the same day, near the municipal dumping ground. Harris reported that the blaze developed when he stepped on the starter. Loss was covered by insurance.

George Brooks, of Kinston, former Roxboro resident, was a visitor here this week.
