LIBRARY CORNER

Library Hours: 12:00-7:00

The junior Literary Guild has chosen the following books of excellence for the month of December. Jacobs, Emma Atkins: The Trailer Trio.

Adventurers on the road—that's what the three Dunsmuirs, Anne, Rod, and Maleta, decided they would become. Anything would be better than the dust-choked Dakota farm they were leaving behind, but what of this little plot of land of Uncle Bezes in Idaho to which they were going? Could they make the deserted cabin liveable? After all, they couldn't spend the winter in the trailer.

Watson, Henel Orr, Top Kick: U. S. Army Horse

Everyone knew Top Kick was a superior horse, from the Colonel to Ben, the young soldier, who tended him, for hadn't the little rascal jumped over the pasture gate when he was only two weeks old? So when he was old enough to join the Army, off he was sent to Fort Riley, Kansas, where he carries different officers in riding classes.

McMeekin, Isabel McLennan: Journey Cake

Along on the Wilderness Trail! That was a dangerous situation for the sturdiest scout in the days of pioneers, but for the six Shadow children, guided only by their two faithful family servants, it was indeed a perilous venture.

Sewell, Helen: The Blue Eyed Lady

Wonderingly, small Pip and Nan gazed at the beautiful lady sitting in the shop window, for kindly Auntie Finn, who took care of them, said she looked just like their lovely mother, who had gone to heaven long, long ago. Then, as they turned around for a last glimpse of the charming creature, Pip and Nan thought they saw—yes, they were sure they saw the lady smile at them!

State Collects Large Sum From Beer Industry

RALEIGH, Jan. 16. — The State of North Carolina collected $2,688,741.38 in beer taxes during the calendar year 1942, according to figures compiled by the Brewing Industry Foundation's North Carolina Committee.

This all-time high was $577,369.79 ahead of the $2,111,371.59 collected by the state in 1941, and more than double the amount of $1,321,024.37 received by the state from beer taxes in 1940.

These totals do not include the taxes the North Carolina beer industry paid the federal government and the local units. Since beer was re-legalized by the 1933 State Legislature, the State has collected $11,000,000 in taxes.
