Sunbeams Meet At Home Of Janice, Grier Park

Sunbeams of Roxboro First Baptist Church met with Janice and Grier Park at their home on Lamar street on Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock, with an attendance of seventeen. Program given was "HAPPY NEW YEAR."

A resume of the past year's accomplishments was given and it was felt that these little folks, under the leadership of Miss Lucille Davidson, have completed a very satisfactory twelve month's work. $67.00 has been contributed to all causes. Some act of kindness has been done each quarter, a little gift, a basket of fruit, a card, to someone in trouble, some one sick, or a shut-in, has been most willingly engaged in by the little boys and girls.

It is hoped that Baptist mothers of children from six to ten years of age will realize the value of this missionary training received in the Sunbeam Band and enter their son or daughter at the next meeting which will be held on Monday the twenty-second of February with Larry and Billy Ellis at their home on outh Lamar street.

Baptist Workers' Meet At Church For Conference

On Tuesday evening the Sunday School teachers and officers of First Baptist Church met in their regular monthly council. Supper was served on a beautifully appointed "V" shaped ta-

Miss Dorothy Mills Clay Weds Mr. Woody In Private Rites

Announced today is the marriage of Miss Dorothy Mills Clay, of Roxboro, daughter of Mrs. Omega Mills Clay and of the late Patrick Henry Clay, of this City, to Arch Daniel Woody, son of Mrs. Lillian Woody and of the late Jesse Woody, of Mill Creek, Person County, on Monday, Jan. 12, the officiating minister being the Rev. Russell H. Caudell, of the Baptist church, Durham. The bride, who was educated ble with patriotic decorations being carried out both on table and in the room.

Rev. R. W. Hovis who is pastor of Longhurst Baptist and several other churches in the Beulah Association, brought a most inspiring and helpful message. He spoke on "THE VALUE OF THE TEACHER AND TEACHING." He also sang, to the enjoyment of all present. Mrs. Hovis who is an accomplished pianist accompanied her husband.

This meeting is one of the highlights of the activities of the Sunday school and always proves of great interest and benefit. Thirty-nine were present to enjoy the fellowship and give reports of the last quarter's work. Plans were formulated for the work of the new year. It was decided that the whole Sunday school would come together for the closing assembly in the church auditorium once each month, beginning Sunday morning, January 24th.

Mr. M. Banks Berry, capable superintendent of the First Church Sunday School urged everyone to strive toward a goal of 500 present each Sunday.

The February meeting will be held on Tuesday, 16th at 7:00 o'clock.

After a brief wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Woody are now at home at Mill Creek.

LIBRARY CORNER

Library Hours: 12:00-7:00

Inky And Pinky, by Charims, is the story about two little sisters. They were twins. Jane was the name of one and Judy was the name of the other. Jane was very, very good but sometimes Judy was very, very bad. Inky and Pinky, the kittens, change the bad and the good.

All the animals on Mother Etienne's farm were treated with loving care and rare attention. And so, when poor Yollande shivered and suffered in the poultry yard after Germaine, thinking her dead, had plucked her, Mother Etienne came kindly to her rescue. She contrived for Yollande a handsome wardrobe and kept her happily by her fire side. Vimar's The Curly Haired Hen, is a tale of chuckles.

Fiddle Away, by May Justus, tells the story of the chorus of an old mountain ballad that drifted up the hollow. The "Swapping Song", which was Joe John's favorite fiddle tune was most often heard. Merry words, and a merry tune when played on his old red fiddle, but somehow they sounded rather doleful when we enter the story.

Following the adventures of two children, Around The Clock, with Lora Z. Jackson makes it easy to learn how to tell time. Beautiful photographs and a simple story dramatize the hours of the day, and on each page with each adventure, a clock shows the time.

Rosebud is eight, and the most beautiful shade of caramel fudge. To her loving Mammy and Pappy she is known, on approximately alternate days, as "Angel" and "You devil child". It was on her devil child days that Rosebud tied the knots in the shirts that Mammy had taken in for washing, and poured the whole of the vanilla bottle into the lamb stew, just, she said later through bitter tears, to "flavor it up some".

On her angel days Rosebud is equally imaginative even if a more restless occupant of the little shack down on Vinegar Hill. Once when Mammy was out doing day work, Rosebud got a wave of cleaning fever and scoured every pot and pan in the kitchen so that they literally glistened. Another day, left alone, she tidied up Mammy's and Pappy's room to such a point of apple-pie order that it was a week before Pappy could find an undershirt.

Rosebud is a great reader of the newspapers. Mammy and Pappy don't take one, but there are plenty of perfectly good newspapers blowing round Vinegar Hill. It was out of one of them that Rosebud got her idea for spending the ten cents the Bunny had put under her pillow the night her tooth came out. After breakfast Rosebud disappeared down the Hill and reappeared soon after with a beautiful ten-cent War Stamp pasted firmly into a brand-new book with neat little squares for more stamps. She displayed her investment to Mammy. "I declare you're an angel child," Mammy said. Rosebud went on sitting on the kitchen floor staring with large brown eyes at the empty squares in her book. From time to time she took hold of one or another of her teeth and wiggled it gently.

Mammy was engrossed in a particularly big washing. Rosebud was as quiet as a mouse and Mammy forgot about her until, coming in from the yard with her arms full of dry sheets, she encountered her child with a large hammer in her hand. Scenting the devil in her angel child, Mammy shouted at her, "Rosebud! Come yere with that hammer! What you planning on doing?" But what was done was done. In Rosebud's other hand was another tooth. Her mouth was stretched in a broad if slightly bloody smile. "I ain't doing nothing, Mammy," she said. "I'm just filling up my stamp book."

1943 Farm Program For Person County

MEAT

Hogs

1. Feed at east twice as many hogs as needed for home consumption and sell surplus.
2. Keep one or more brood sows and breed twice a year.
3. Hog feed has advanced 18 percent since January 1942, the price of pork 25 percent. Feeder pigs can be bought and raised at a profit. A simple self feeder saves labor. A mineral mixture of 10 lbs. ground limestone, 2 lbs. salt and 5 lbs. steamed bone meal should be kept before them at all times. Green crops for grazing greatly reduces feed cost.

Beef Cattle

1. The Farmers Mutual Exchange will loan to approved keepers several purebred beef bulls. If your community does not have one investigate this plan.
2. Grow veal calves to weigh 200 to 300 pounds and discontinue sale of good heifers.

Broilers

1. Utilize tobacco barns, brick bat-tards or lamp brooders as wartime measures to produce 2 1-2 to 3 pound broilers. Remember the Pre-Flight boys at Chapel Hill eat 3000 per week! How many would it take for Camp Butler!
2. The Farmers Mutual Exchange will supply chicks and feed to approved farmers and take cost out when broilers are marketed.

Our Slogan: "A Ton of Meat From Every Farm (Tobacco farmers included) (4 cattle ox, 8 hogs or 300 broilers will produce a ton of meat).

MILK

Dairy Cows

1. Produce more hay, dig a trench silo, plant temporary and permanent pastures, feed one pound concentrates to every 3 pounds of milk.
2. While beef prices are high cull out low producers and replace with heavy milkers.
3. A high producing bull costs little more than a scrub-use the best.
4. Do not sell heifers for veal, raise them up and add, a few more gallons to your milk route. The price of milk is up 16 percent above last year, while the price of feed has advanced only 12 1-2 percent.
5. The Farmers Mutual Exchange working with Agricultural Workers will try to bring in bred cows and heifers.
6. A serious shortage of milk and dairy products has developed. Let's all help increase production.

FEED

Crops and Pasture

1. Success in livestock depends on growing an ample supply of feed and pasture.
2. If you are short on small grain this year make it up in corn.
3. Grazing crops are the most economical. Plant temporary pastures for supplemental grazing. An electric fence with a small supply of wire can be moved around.
4. Permanent pastures are necessary. Good ones must be supplied with phosphate and lime. A simple wartime pasture, mixture for one acre is: 5 pounds Orchard grass, 4 pounds of Blue grass, 8 pounds Herds grass, 10 pounds Lespedeza, 1 pound White Clover and 5 pounds Rye grass.

EGGS

Hens

1. Due to war there is a shortage of some ingredients in all poultry feed. It is essential to supplement this feed with home grown green feed. Make plans to do this now. This is important.
2. Provide ample house space, water and balanced feed at all times.
3. Give an extra care to sanitation. It's mighty easy to relax when help is short.
4. Get chicks from heavy laying stock. Breeding in poultry pays just as it does in livestock.
5. The Farmers Mutual Exchange has plans made to assist in marketing eggs all through the year.
6. Poultry feed has advanced 15 1-2 percent since January of last year. The price of poultry and eggs are up 31 percent for the same period.
