"Love And Music" Program Enjoyed By Thursday Literary Club Members

Mrs. E. E. Bradsher, Sr., was hostess at regular meeting of the Thursday Literary club last week at Hotel Roxboro, where an entertaining program on "Love and Music" was presented by Mrs. George W. Walker, Mrs. Kendall Street, Mrs. H. Wheeler Newell and Miss Billy Street.

Both program papers and music were effectively combined into a theme particularly appropriate to the Valentine season, and table decorations, with a bowl of red roses, as centerpiece, were in Valentine tradition. Refreshments served included a salad course.

Roll call was answered from questions on "Love and Music." Program features were papers on "Love and Music" and on the "Business Side of Opera." First was presented by Mrs. Walker, second by Mrs. Kendall Street. Illustrations of the "Love and Music" theme were presented by Mrs. Newell, Miss Street, Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Street.

Mrs. Walker's discussion of the "Love Life of Richard Wagner" was followed by his "Evening Star", as a violin solo by Miss Street, of Philadelphia, who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kendall Street, for a few days. Vocal solo by Mrs. Newell, "I Would That My Love", was used as an example of Mendelssohn's work, as was his duet, "Oh, Rest in the Lord", from the oratorio, "Elijah", sung by Mrs. Newell and Mrs. Walker, and the "Spring Song", by Miss Street.

Miss Street also rendered "Ave Maria", by Gounod. Accompanist for all selections was Mrs. Street, pianist. Assisting the hostess, Mr. Bradsher, were her daughters, Mrs. Tucker Burrows, of Raleigh, and Mrs. Ben

Brown. Also assisting was Mrs. R. A. Bullock.

TRUSTEES DESIGNATE WHITFIELD

The building, on Chub Lake street, was originally designed for use of civic clubs and kindred organizations, including Boy Scouts of America. Scout troops, including one Cub Pack still use one basement room.

TWO PERSON MEN GET OFF WITH LIGHT SENTENCES

(continued from front page) Mooney was sentenced to serve three years on the roads, to pay $250 for use by the Wilkerson family, and to pay costs of court. His road sentence was suspended and he also was put on probation for five years under the same terms as Oakley. Mooney is about to be inducted into the Army; therefore Judge Thompson ordered that the probation period begin immediately after the defendant's discharge from the armed forces.

The North Carolina driver's license of each defendant was revoked for a period of three years.

Mooney allegedly was the driver of the death car, but according to evidence submitted Oakley "jerked" the steering wheel, causing the car to swerve across the road and into Wilkerson who was walking with a group of Negroes. Mooney failed to stop the car after the crash, but was arrested that night by Patrolman C. M. Byrd who fitted pieces of broken glass found at the scene of impact, into a headlight on Mooney's car.

LIBRARY CORNER

Library Hours: 12:00-7:00

A tally has been made of the 6:00-7:00 opening hour at the Person County Public Library on Chub Lake street. So few do come in during this hour that we are in doubt if it is a good hour. We are inviting your criticism between now and the first of March. If requests have not been voiced for this hour by telephone or in the library, the library will begin closing at 6:00 instead of 7:00, the first of March.

When you make your regulation book reports try living them up with some information on the author from the Junior Book of Authors, edited by Stanley J. Kunitz and Howard Haycraft. Each biographical sketch of living authors is written in story form by the author or authoress.

When Charles Dickens was ten years old he went to work in a rat-infested warehouse in London pasting labels on pots of shoe-blackening. He lived in a dingy garret and ate frugal meals of bread and cheese. Saturday night it was his great treat to walk home with six shillings ($1.44) in his pocket and look in at the shop windows and imagine what he might buy. Sundays were spent at the prison where his father was being held for inability to pay his debts and where the rest of the large family lived too.

What could be more interesting than "David Copperfield," which was written by the English author, Charles Dickens?

FOUR-H PROGRAM OF MOBILIZATION BEING

"Last year, during the Mobilization Drive in North Carolina, Person County led the State in the number of new members—boys and girls—enrolled. We feel that 4-H members want to live up to their motto: "To Make The Best Better".

"The Extension Agents are distributing to school children a list of the projects that are included in the 4-H Victory Mobilization. The children will take these lists home with them. An appeal is made to the parents of each child that they counsel with their boys and girls in selecting the project which they are best able to carry out."
