At this dinner meeting Miss Julia Fisher made a very interesting talk to the group, telling of the good work being done by the Red Cross.

RED CROSS PROCLAMATION
By The President of The United States of America—A Proclamation

Whereas The American National Red Cross during the first year of our participation in the war has rendered vital humanitarian services to the members of our armed forces and to their families; and

Whereas the demands made upon the Red Cross are steadily increasing from day to day as it is called upon to accompany our Army and Navy into worldwide theaters of action, to provide blood plasma for our wounded, to send relief to American and United Nations prisoners of war, and to expand its preparations to meet emergencies at home; and

Whereas The American National Red Cross is under the necessity of raising further funds, in order that these essential services may be continued and expanded;

Now, Therefore, I, Franklin D. Roosevelt, President of the United States of America, and President of The American National Red Cross, do hereby designate the month beginning March 1, 1943, as "Red Cross Month," and I request that during that month our people rededicate themselves to the splendid aims and activities of the Red Cross. I summon the men, women, and young people of our country, in every city and town and village, in every county and state throughout the land, to enlist in the army of mercy mobilized under the banner of the Red Cross and to contribute generously to the Red Cross War Fund in order that the sum of One Hundred Twenty-five Million Dollars, every cent of which is needed, may be raised promptly.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington this twenty-third day of February in the year of our Lord, nineteen hundred and forty-three, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and sixty-seventh.

To Our Friends and Customers:

To you who have bought furniture from us and have been our friends in the past we want to thank each of you for what you have done to help us. Our aim has always been to sell our customers the best and most satisfactory furniture we could sell them for the price they had to pay.

With conditions as they are today we want to do all we can for our country and to help the boys in service. This is from the bottom of my heart as the writer spent thirteen months in the other war with ten months and twenty days foreign service.

Most of the furniture factories are producing war necessities with the small percent of men they have left, with an additional number of women to work. Other factories have been compelled to curtail their output or close down completely on account of not being able to secure labor, lumber, and other materials. Some factories are making substitutes for some lines of furniture. The writer has visited a large number of factories and examined quite a few pieces of this new made furniture. We are not going to stock this new furniture.

We have purchased a large stock of regular made furniture which was made before the factories changed their line or which they had stored in their warehouses. We are selling this furniture to our customers for much less than we believe we will be able to sell the same quality of furniture for one year or more after the war is over. Very little season lumber or better material will be available for the furniture factories for several months after the war is over.

We are going to sell the furniture we have in stock and all the good used furniture we can get. We will buy or trade for any piece of good used furniture you have that you can spare.

We will be glad to sell you any piece of furniture we have in stock and we believe that anything you buy from us will be a good buy before you have an opportunity to get more furniture of the same quality at the same price.

Yours very truly,
