Miss Begonia, Of Chicago, Marries Enos Slaughter

Announced this week by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Krist Begonia, of Chicago, Ill., is the marriage of Miss Josephine Antonette Begonia to Enos Bradsher Slaughter, of Roxboro and San Antonio, Texas, son of Mrs. Zaddock Slaughter and the late Mr. Slaughter, of Allensville, on Saturday, February 13, in Chicago.

Slaughter, formerly a right fielder with the World Series winning St. Louis Cardinals, entered the United States Army Air Corps at the end of the last season and is now stationed at Randolph Field, San Antonio. The formal announcement carries an at home card, 9018 Buffalo Avenue, Chicago.

Jacob, Smallest Triplet, Gains Weight Fastest

Jacob, smallest of the Day triplets and the one with greatest lung power, now weighs six pounds and apparently thrives most on home care, having gained two and one half ounces and caught up with six pound Isaac after one week in the tenant cabin of James and Mabel Day, Negroes of the Concord section. Largest gain, six ounces, is by Abraham, who now tips the scales at six and one half pounds. Nurse Mary Mills, Negro staff member of the Person Health department, who visits her charges every day or two, says that their latest benefactor is John Hall, known as one of Roxboro's oldest Negro bricklayers.

One of the three cribs is now almost completed but mattress pads and many other items must be bought. Those interested in contributing may see Nurse Mills, or leave contributions with Thomas J. Shaw, Jr., at the Times office, or with W. Wallace Woods at Roxboro Chamber of commerce office.

LIBRARY CORNER

Library Hours: 12:00-7:00

There are just a few months until school is out and eighteen and nineteen year olds will be ready for the draft. May we urge each one of you to see the books in the library on aviation, paratroops, submarines, army, navy, marines, or any branch of the service that you might be interested in.

It may be that you will want to study up on your mathematics or foreign languages. Take advantage of the books on these subjects that you will find in your Person County Public Library, Chub Lake Street.

We are so confident of our usefulness because we have actual statements from the boys that have gone into various branches of the services concerning their advancements due to the hours they spent studying library books. Not just one but several have said that they are beyond the "buck private" stage because they studied and were ready to take over more advanced duties. Why not profit by the experience of others and use your library to the best advantage.

It may be that you will want library to the best advantage.

Start Work On Gardens Now

Don't wait for spring blossoms to remind you, but begin now to clean-up and plan the home yards and gardens, urges John H. Harris, Landscape Extension Specialist of N. C. State College. March is the last month before next fall for the planting of fruit trees, grapes, strawberries, dewberries and other small fruits.

Harris points out that rose bushes, fruit trees and diseased shrubs should be fertilized with manure and perhaps some phosphate. No fertilizer containing inorganic nitrogen can be used for this purpose under present regulations.

As to pruning, he suggests that it be done so as to preserve the natural shape of the plant to be pruned. Flowering plants that bloom before July should not be pruned.

Trees and shrubs should not be allowed to rock around in the wind and wear a hole in the soil around their base. Anchor them with string and stakes and keep the soil packed around the roots.

As to spring yard cleaning, he gives the following pointers: Don't burn over the yard and don't use a brush broom. Use a rake to remove the coarse trash and allow the fine material to remain.

He reminds all gardeners that it is time now to plant water lilies. Use three parts of good soil and one part of well rotted manure, and cover with a layer of sand to hold the soil in place.

BAPTIST HOUR

Dr. Robert G. Lee, Memphis, Tennessee, pastor of Bellevue Baptist church, will deliver the last of three messages over the Baptist Hour Network Sunday morning, March 21st at 8:30 A. M. (EWT.) His subject will be "Paying the Price to Follow Christ," and will be heard over WPTF, Raleigh, or WBIG, Greensboro.

ROBBERY CASE

Desdee Cannady, 22, and June Ragland, 20, both Negroes, will be given preliminary hearing Tuesday in Recorder's Court, on charges that they allegedly robbed Quincy Lawson, 27, another Negro, of $113. Cannady and Ragland both have previous police records.

The robbery, Police Chief George C. Robinson said this morning, occurred Monday night but the men were not arrested until Tuesday.

Miss Barnette's Wedding Date Announced By Mother And Aunt

Honoring their daughter and niece, Miss Annie Laurie Barnette, March bride-elect, whose marriage to Joseph Macon Beasley, of Louisburg and Baltimore, Md., will be solemnized in an afternoon ceremony on Saturday, March 27, at Roxboro First Baptist church, Mrs. Sam E. Barnette and Miss Mamie Love Barnette, at the Sam Barnette residence, Reams avenue, entertained Friday at an evening party.

Rummy was played at four tables, with Mrs. Wallace Harris winning top score and Miss Zelda Holleman second. Gift to the bride-elect was silver in her wedding pattern. Spring flowers were used throughout the house and miniature corsages at each plate when refreshments were served bore a card, "Annie Laurie and Joe, March 27, 1943," thus giving date of the wedding. Refreshments consisted of an ice course with wedding cake in bridal colors.

Guests, in addition to Miss Barnette, the honoree, included Mesdames Wade Gentry, T. C. Brooks, W. E. Stewart, W. Wallace Woods, J. J. Winstead and Walter Woody, and Misses Mary Gentry, Jeanette Wrenn, Marion Bradsher, Anita Kirby, Frances Wood, Zelda Holleman, Meriel Rimmer, Dorothy Taylor, Hazeline Yarbrough, Nellie Scott Featherston and Anna Catherine Barnette, the last named a sister of the honoree.

Many other social functions are planned for the bride-elect and her fiancé. She is an alum-

Victory Gardens Take Less Time Than Food Shopping

A Garden Like This Will Save $58 to $100 a Year in the Food Bill, on Prewar Price Basis.

How much money can a Victory Garden save in the family budget? That will depend on how high the prices of fresh vegetables, on which there is so far no ceiling, are allowed to go.

Even before the war, careful tests and studies made by the School of Living of Suffern, New York, established that a vegetable garden can save the average family from $58.48 to $100.11 a year, at the same time providing over 400 pounds more vegetables than are consumed by most city families.

In a bulletin detailing its studies of this subject the following statements are made: "A century ago home vegetable gardens were the rule. Today not only city families but millions of families living in suburban and country districts buy their vegetables in retail stores."

"This habit was acquired presumably because the public had been led to believe that it is cheaper as well as more convenient to buy vegetables than to grow them. But careful studies show that this is not true; that shopping and marketing not only take time and energy which might be used to grow them, but that purchasing vegetables is an expensive luxury."

"The studies of the school show that the quantity of vegetables now purchased by the typical American family, including canned, bottled and dried, can be grown and harvested in less than two weeks' time per year. Actually the total amount of time necessary for planting, caring for and harvesting a vegetable garden is less than that commonly occupied in shopping in the retail market."

"It is estimated that the average American woman shops for food at least 120 times a year. The purchase of vegetables at reasonable prices is an important part of each shopping trip, an adventure which ordinarily consumes a couple of hours. Yet a total of approximately two hours' work weekly throughout the year suffices to produce all the vegetable needs of the family home."

As to the quality of home grown vegetables, compared with those obtained in the market, the bulletin states: "You learn what really fresh vegetables taste like. Peas, corn, lima beans, string beans and the rest of the vegetable family lose more than half their delicious flavor a few hours after picking. 'Half an hour from vine to pot' is a wise saying of country folk whose meaning has been entirely lost to the modern race of city and country buyers of so called 'fresh' fruits and vegetables."

Details of the tests upon which these statements are based are given in the bulletin. To produce 1,740.7 pounds of fresh vegetables required a total of 94 hours and 17 minutes' work. The total cost, including taxes and interest but not labor was compared with the market cost of the vegetables, and showed a saving of $58.48, which figured out as 62 cents for each hour's work required; and besides, says the bulletin: "You not only experience the pleasures of planting and tending a garden but profit from the exercise involved."

State College Hints To Farm Homemakers

By Ruth Current N. C. State College
You've heard about packing thoughts into a nutshell. Well, two words that pack a good deal of meaning about our supply of food are: produce and conserve. The food that a family grows in one garden may not look impressive. But add up food on 6,000,000 farms, and 12,000,000 to 15,000,000 Victory Gardens in na of Louisburg College, Louisburg, where Mr. Beasley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Lee Beasley, live. Now in Baltimore, the bridegroom-elect, a graduate of State College, is connected with the Glenn Martin Aircraft corporation as an assistant supervisor in the finishing department.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Women at War today are saving for Women at Peace when the War is won. They are buying War Bonds as thrifty housewives, saving to buy those handy, convenient and necessary electrical appliances when their Bonds mature.

Women know that money saved now will help win the peace, putting their menfolks to work in our domestic factories when the war is over. They know purchase of War Bonds today will help their family and the whole country tide over the readjustment period from War to Peace.

backyards and on vacant lots. Do that, and you have a good total of food for war needs and for home needs.

As for conserving, every homemaker can help make the food supply go further and put the food she has to good use. A homemaker is conserving when she plans balanced meals. She is conserving, when she shops with her eyes open and buys foods that give good value in nutrition. And, she is conserving when she sees that nothing goes to waste. She is conserving when she cooks meals well, so the family get all the good from food. And she is conserving, of course, when she preserves food for the future.

Proper posture greatly improves the general appearance. You can make progress, if you think of your posture at all times and make a conscious effort to improve it. To stand straight and tall, keep your feet parallel, with toes pointing straight ahead. Keep your knees slightly bent and relaxed, with the abdomen flat (held up and in).

Keep your hips pulled down, in the position that you naturally take when you make yourself small to squeeze through a narrow space, with your buttocks muscles tucked under.

Keep the shoulders level, swinging free and relaxed. The chest and ribs should be held up in any easy position. Keep your head well up and perfectly balanced; your chin level with the ground; and your body parts balanced directly one over the other. Always watch the ear-to-ankle line—a straight line drawn through the lobe of the ear, the tip of the shoulder, the hip, and the ankle bone.

Vulcanizing and Recapping Service

WITHOUT CERTIFICATES!

It is no longer necessary to obtain a certificate to have passenger car tires recapped. This also applies to commercial units where passenger tire rubber is used. We are in a position to take care of your needs for this service almost immediately and we strongly urge that you get this service when your tread design is worn off. Do not wait until the fabric is showing, since this will mean a weaker tire.

Remember This . . .

All recapping is NOT the same; a good job is dependent on three things:

1. Good Equipment
2. Good Workmanship
3. Good Materials

All recapping plants do not offer this. Our equipment is modern, we employ only competent and dependable workmen and use only the highest grade materials.

Have us take care of your recapping service and get the best.
