

Parolees and Their Problems Theme of Address by Howard

Commissions Field Worker Agency Guest

Says Rehabilitation Important Factor In Restoring Persons From Prisons To Society.

"Whom to parole, and when and where to send them" were described yesterday by B. J. Howard, of Chapel Hill, of the Field Staff of the State Parole Commission, as problems confronting parole workers called upon to investigate cases of prisoners seeking executive clemency. Howard spoke at April session of the Person County Council of Social agencies held at Hotel Roxboro as a luncheon.

Howard, who was introduced by Mrs. T. C. Wagstaff, program chairman, paid high tribute to Mrs. Wagstaff's work in the Person Welfare department among parolees, of citing a particular case in which a parole violation was adjusted.

Howard stressed the fact that more than 95 percent of prisoners win a release at some time, either by parole or by serving out sentence, and said that not more than three percent die in prison. He described further the rehabilitation program of par-

WAR SERVICE WINDOW PLANNED BY ROSE'S STORE

C. J. Fox, Manager Of Roxboro Unit, Wants Photographs Of Person And Roxboro Fighters.

C. J. Fox, manager of the Roxboro unit of Rose's 5, 10 and 25 cent store, today announced plans for establishment of a "War Service" window in his store, feature of which is to be photographs of Person County and Roxboro men and women who are serving their country in the army, navy, marine corps or other service units.

Fox desires that these photographs be brought to him at Rose's store, in any size, in frames or in folders, with name and rank of the subject and with address of the owner of the photograph.

It is planned that the display will occupy one whole window or more, increasing in size as photographs are turned in. Photographs will remain the property of the owner and will be returned to him or her after the display is closed, although it is expected that the window will be for many months on display as a photographic record of Person men and women who are in military service.

The number of such men and women already is large and is constantly growing. Interested citizens are invited to send or bring their "War Service" pictures to Rose's store at once. A display will be arranged as soon as the number on hand is large enough to be attractively presented.

FRED FOX NOW IN LAS VEGAS, LIKES SALT LAKE

Former Rose Department Store Man Now In Air Corps.

Private Fred H. Fox, who has been stationed at Lowery Field, Colo., has graduated from the Armament school there and has been sent to Las Vegas, Nev. He will be stationed in Las Vegas five weeks. While in Roxboro he was connected with Rose's Department store.

In command at Lowery Field, near Denver, was Brig. Gen. Early E. W. Duncan, Person County native and University of North Carolina graduate, although he has now been succeeded by Brig. Gen. Sneed, according to Fox.

Fox, formerly a resident of Bethel Hill and a graduate of Bethel Hill high school, is now in the Air Corps and expects to receive his wings at Las Vegas. While at Denver, where his wife spent some time with him, he was greatly impressed with the scenery, but that was before he saw Salt Lake City, Utah, during a stop-over on the way to Las Vegas.

Thing that impressed Fox most in Salt Lake City was the great Mormon temple, with hand-carved stone walls, sixteen feet thick at the base and tapering to six feet at the top. Also beautiful are the lake and the State house and tower, as well as the flowers and the mountains.

Fairchild Builds New Type Plane

Furniture Workers Writing Another Chapter In Aviation History. Some Commute From Roxboro.

Burlington, April 29.—Forty years is a long time to remember details, but there seems to be little doubt that on December 17, 1903, Alpheus Drinkwater was handed a message which said "Testo successful. Will be home by Christmas," signed Orville and Wilbur. Alpheus Drinkwater at the moment was about to freeze to death, because he had tapped the coast guard telegraph line out on Kitty Hawk beach, and set his key up on a box. The wind was sweeping the beach like nobody's business.

Romancers have it another way, but the fact is that Alpheus and his telegraph machine were out on the beach because one of the navy's first submarines had come to grief on a sand bar off the Carolina coast, and Teddy Roosevelt was demanding almost hourly reports on efforts to refloat her.

Everybody knows, of course, that the bicycle makers from Dayton were still fooling around on nearby Kill Devil Hill, and Dale county had become used to their strange construction. But in

In Senate Race

Clyde R. Hoey

Hoey Will Be Seeking Senate Seat

Former Governor Will Oppose Robert Rice Reynolds In Democratic Contest.

RALEIGH, April 28.—Former Gov. Clyde R. Hoey late Tuesday afternoon declared unequivocally his candidacy for the United States senate. He said it in an easy 10 word telegram, writing his announcement on a pad while the photographer caught him in pose and repose.

Governor Hoey then talked informally and briefly to newspaper and radio men expressing his amazement at the number of long distance calls, telegrams and letters which have come to him since Former Gov. Max Gardner took himself from the same race.

It was known by many newspapermen that Hoey had been memorialized anew to get into the gubernatorial race and when Judge Warlick left that contest the set conference of candidate and scribes had double interest because it might produce an angle on the governorship, but Governor Hoey settled that in a few seconds. He will make the senatorial race no matter who else runs.

During the day Ex-Congressman W. B. Umstead, of Durham, was asked if he considers the senatorial race as candidate. He declared that he might be interested if neither Hoey, Morrison, Warlick, McLendon nor any other strong man would undertake it. Congressman Umstead is very

MAY DAY DREAMS OF YEARS AGO HAVE COME TRUE

New Wonders Seen In Exposition Of Half-Century Ago

Chicago, April 29.—Fifty years ago this May Day a dream city—the World's Columbian Exposition—opened its gates on the shores of Lake Michigan.

They thought in those days we soon would be talking with Mars on a beam of light.

They thought mothers would no longer be needed—the incubator
