Frankie Sinkwich May Play Again.

It looks like Frankie Sinkwich of Georgia football fame, might play football again and for another college. This time it could be for Duke University. Indications point to the fact that he might be sent to Duke with the marines that are in training there. If the Southern Conference adopts a rule, and it probably will, the marines that are there will be allowed to play on the regular team. Four other members of the Georgia football team are already there and it looks like there will be enough football players, counting those of the regular team to make a splendid outfit for this fall.

Of course if the other schools in this section use the members of the armed forces that are training there you can watch out for some red hot ball games just as soon as frost gets on the pumpkin.

Personally the writer of this column favors the using of all players for football or any other sports that are in the school. If the boys are there you might as well let them play and you might as well let the people who are looking for some fun watch them play. After all the war will not last forever and after it is over all schools can return to their regular form.

Duke V-12 Students Assemble Thursday

Some 1,600 Young Men To Begin New Phase Of Education Careers; Will Live Under Navy Discipline.

DURHAM, June 30. — At their first assembly at 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening, Duke University's 1,600 navy V-12 students will get first instructions regarding campus life under navy rules and regulations.

In the Duke navy college training unit will be 600 marines and a number of coast guardsmen. Capt. A. T. Clay, U. S. N., is the commanding officer of the unit.

Duke's civilian students also will have their first assembly on Thursday night, at 8:30 P. M. The civilian and enlisted men's academic schedules will be parallel. (The Woman's College will open September 15.)

But the trainees, make no mistake about it, will be "in the navy." They'll wear navy uniforms, observe navy rules, regulations, and customs, be subject to military discipline and receive navy pay.

They'll get up at 6 o'clock (pardon, at 0600 o'clock) each morning to start what promises to be quite a busy daily routine.

They'll keep "in the pink" by participating in an adequate physical fitness program.

They'll say "Aye, aye, Sir," to and salute officers.

They'll bring no automobiles with them to college.

They'll care for their own rooms.

They'll pass their academic work — or else.

The navy considers discipline important in the College Training program, because the students as officer candidates will be closely scrutinized by the public and as potential officers are will receive educational training and must justify their favored status by maintaining the dignity of the navy uniform and general observance of discipline.

The Duke V-12 trainees will come from many colleges and universities, and the length of their stay will be determined by the kind of courses they take. There will be three 16-week terms each year.

Duke University's regular faculty staff will instruct the enlisted students just as they do civilian students. It is the navy's hope that as far as possible the normal pattern of college life will be continued. High academic standards will be maintained, and the university will keep scholastic and personnel records for each navy student as it always does for the civilian student.

Captain Clay is rounding out the complement of the Duke unit. In addition to his N. R. O. T. C. headquarters in the gymnasium, there will be headquarters in House P of Kilgo Dormitory Group for the V-12 program. The complements will be administrative, medical, physical training, supplies and accounts, and a marine detachment. Many of the men assigned here have already reported for duty.

Included in the training program will be the continued N. R. O. T. C. work, the basic training program, the engineers' program, the pre-medical program, and the special training program for medical students. The marines and coast guardsmen will receive the same training as the navy students.

A large portion of the University's facilities will be used under the V-12 program, with Craven and Kilgo Quadrangles, a part of Few Quadrangle, and Southgate hall to be used as dormitories. The union, library, classroom and laboratory buildings will be well used under the program.

On Thursday evening there will be two assemblies for civilian students, beginning at 8:30 P. M., one for upperclassmen and the other for freshmen.

On Friday and Saturday all freshmen will be sent through a series of tests, while advanced students, former students, and advanced navy students and transfers will register at this time.

Monday, July 5, will be registration day for freshmen.

Instruction will begin at 8 A. M. Tuesday, July 6.

Golf Tournament To Be Staged Monday, July 5th

Refreshments To Be Served After Playing Is Over

There will be a local golf tournament staged at the Roxboro County Club Monday, July 5th, and all club members are invited to participate in the tourney. Those members who are interested in playing are requested to go by Thomas ad Oakley Drug Store and check their name that will be posted there in a prominent place.

Refreshments in the way of food will be served to those who participate and all who intend eating are requested to bring a fork. A fee of $1.50 will be charged those who enjoy the food that is to be served immediately after the tournament.

Golfers are expected to tee off around 1:00 p. m. Monday afternoon. Those participating will be divided into two teams and everyone will be playing in a foursome. The tournament committee will decide who plays on what team. For illustration, four foursomes will probably play four other foursomes and those capturing the greater number of holes in two rounds will win the tournament. However the officials were careful to point out that the method of playing may be changed at the last minute.

Tournament chairmen are: Curtis Oakley, Bill Walker and M. C. Clayton. It is understood that guests not playing in the tournament will be welcome to the feed as long as they pay the required fee of $1.50.

SUBJECT: The New Pay-As-You-Go Method of Collecting Your Income Tax

Starting July 1st, both your Income and Victory Tax will be collected by an entirely new and more convenient method.

Under the old system, you were obliged every March 15th to pay either the full tax for the previous year, or a quarter of that amount. Under the new system, you will keep paid up from month to month.

After July 1st, your employer is obliged by the new law to withhold every month a part of your wages and turn the money into the United States Treasury as payment on your Income and Victory Tax.

Of course, the amount that your employer withholds will depend upon your pay and your exemptions. But this is the important point: For most of us, the amount withheld over a year's period will add up to the same that we're paying now—plus or minus a few dollars.

At the end of the year, we may owe the Government a few dollars or the Government may owe us. (See the tables below.)

You may have heard 20% mentioned as the proportion of your wages that will be withheld. Actually, this is incorrect. To figure the amount that will be withheld, take your total wages and subtract your allowance for exemptions and allowance for dependents; 20% of this lesser amount is the total that will be withheld.

Now please remember this: You must claim those exemptions to take advantage of them. Before July 1st, you must file with your employer an Exemption Certificate. If you do not do this, your employer will have no choice but to deduct 20% of your full pay check.

Here is how the new tax collection method will work: Let's say you are a working man earning $3,000 a year; that you are married, and have two children.

First of all, as a married man you are allowed a personal withholding exemption of $1,248, plus an exemption of $312 for each dependent (other than your wife). This makes a total exemption of $1,872 ($1,248 for yourself and wife, plus $624 for your two dependents), which is deducted from the $3,000 you earn before your tax is computed. You are thus paying tax on $1,128, of which your employer will withhold 20%, or $225.60 for the year. Therefore, in your pay envelope, after July 1, you will receive about $4.40 less each week.

In March, 1944, when you ordinarily would be faced with paying taxes on your 1943 income, you will file a return showing how much you have already paid, and how much your total tax actually amounted to. If, by that time, you have already paid more than your actual tax due, you will be given credit for the difference. If you owe more than you have paid, you will pay the difference.

Since this plan starts July 1, many wonder what happens to the tax payments they will already have made by that time—on March 15 and June 15.

For a great majority of people, here is what happens. . . . Your 1942 income tax is "forgiven" (either all, or most of it). The March and June installments which you originally paid on that 1942 income tax are credited, instead, as payments on your 1943 tax. With the result that on July 1st, with the year half gone, you have already paid tax on that half-year's income. In short, you are "paying as you go."

There is one thing more. Since this pay-as-you-go method leaves you just as much of your net income as you had before, you will probably find it possible to at least maintain your present rate of buying War Bonds. Do this by all means!

Taxes alone will not bring to the Treasury nearly enough money to finance the great invasion war that lies ahead. The war needs every cent of your money that does not go for the necessities of life.
