The only big City close to Camp Hale is Denver and Mitchell, who has been there and to Colorado Springs, has praise for the kindness and consideration of Western citizens. He has the same good word to say for the people of Illinois, at Camp Grant, where he was first stationed after leaving his Southern induction center.

He'll have to leave Roxboro Monday and take four more days of his precious fifteen day furlough to travel back to Camp Hale. It means days and nights of riding on crowded trains, of standing up, or maybe, sitting on the floor and glad to do that, but he will not mind. He accepts such situations calmly.

Soldiers, he says, like college boys of other days, frequently travel on short rations as far as money is concerned. He, himself, left Camp Hale in such a hurry that his coin was really limited, but all along the way he found people who are willing and glad to help young soldiers.

AMERICAN HEROES BY LEFF

Captain Anthony Hollub manned the top turret guns of his grounded plane to return the fire of the Jap air attack on Clark Field in the Philippines. Exposed to strafing planes, the New Mexico captain ran across the field for more ammunition when it was exhausted. He was ready to sacrifice his life to keep his guns blazing. How much can you invest in Payroll Savings to help heroic fighters like Hollub to keep firing?

U. S. Treasury Department

spect to Camp Hale, Mitchell has highest praise for Camp Grant, near Rockville and Chicago. It is a beautiful camp, with green grass and trees, neither of which is common at Camp Hale, a spot that is some ten thousand feet up in the mountains. At Grant there is really a colony of Person and Roxboro boys, about thirty in all and among them, Bert Dark, of Roxboro and Siler City, but in the whole of Camp Hale there is, besides himself, only one other Person man.

Mitchell, who admits to having goat meat once in a while, says the Army really feeds well and he looks it, well filled out, but not fat. In a medical detachment ever since he went into the service, he is a graduate of Roxboro high school. He knows of no particular reason why he was assigned to the ski-troopers, but he knows they are a bunch of picked men, with a future job to do, although he will not say where.

He likes being at home, of course, but he is one young soldier who seems to be enjoying his new life. Civilians used to pay fancy prices to go to places like Sun Valley, Idaho, to learn to ski. He gets his free. It is an interesting life and different, says Mitchell, with plenty of thrills as well as spills on snow-covered mountain sides.

DAUGHTERS AT ROTARY CLUB GAIN APPROVAL

Another skit was put on by baby members of the Club; C. J. Fox and Collin Abbitt, who were each furnished a bottle of milk with a nipple on it. Abbitt, the one who consumed the milk the quickest was declared the winner.

The third and final skit was a music fable in which Mrs. Wallace Woods played the bars of several songs to fill in missing links in a narrative. Daughters present named the songs to complete the fable.

Between dinner and desert, the whole group participated in singing a number of selections from new song sheets just off the press.

A Silver Loving Cup was awarded with appropriate words by Rodrick Griffin to Ray Parrish, to be delivered to his son, Ray Parrish, Jr., who was born on August 2 at Community Hospital. Ray, Jr. is the first Junior Rotarian born in the new Rotary year.

The Club expressed its regrets at losing one of its members, Glenn Stovall, to the Navy.

Meeting next Thursday, will be in charge of Joe Blanks, Co-Chairman of the Attendance Committee, and the following Thursday will be in charge of Earl Bradsher, a member of the Finance Committee.

Members were handed the first copies of ROTARY RUMBLINGS FROM ROXBORO, a publication of Club events that is to be edited monthly.

WORK OR FIGHT ORDER STANDS

2. Minors 16 and 17 to work on shifts for nine and 10 hours per day except between midnight and 6 a. m., with one and one-half times the usual compensation per hour for all time in excess of nine hours in any one day.

3. Minors 14 and 15 to work until 9 p. m. in non-manufacturing and service establishments.

4. Girls 14 to 18 to carry news papers in neighborhoods in which they live, but they may not work between 6 p. m. and 7 a. m.

5. The commissioner of labor to issue permits for employment of male minors 16 to 18 at such jobs and at such hours as are considered helpful to the war effort.

"Work or Fight"

War Proclamation IV provides for organization of a Labor Mobilization Board in each of the 100 counties of the State in the drive against "idlers and loafers." Duties of the board are to inventory and plan for mobilization of male labor between 18 and 55 and to report to the U. S. Employment Service all such persons not gainfully employed. The proclamation empowers the county board to subpoena persons for investigation and makes it a misdemeanor for any unemployed persons to refuse employment offered by the Employment Service.

15-Year-Old Drivers The Third proclamation made law as War Proclamation V, permits 15-year-old drivers to operate motor vehicles weighing up to 10,000 pounds. The 1943 General Assembly passed an act permitting 15-year-olds to operate motor vehicles weighing up to one and one-half tons, the purpose of the act being, according to the Governor, "to alleviate the effect of the manpower shortage." A petition was filed recently, however by the State Highway and Public Works Commission and the commissioner of motor vehicles stating that the weight limit set up in the act makes the act ineffectual and asking that the weight limit be raised to 10,000 pounds.
