Sell Nearly 300,000 Pounds Here On First Three Days

Highest Average And Quality First Day But Trend Upward Again

Rain Causes Slowness On Roxboro And Other Old Belt Markets Tuesday.

Estimated average for the first three days of the Roxboro market is placed at $38.78 for 279,192 pounds sold for $99,902.23, with largest sale of 155,410 pounds on the opening day, Monday, when average was close to $40 per hundred pounds.

Lowest sales were on Tuesday, a day of heavy rain, when only 56,878 pounds were sold, but the climb upward began again on Wednesday, with 66,904 pounds.

Price averages on Tuesday and Wednesday were lower, but so was quality, that at the beginning was described by George W. Walker, board of trade secretary as "medium to fair."

Sales are being held each day in each of the four houses in Roxboro, starting on the opening day at the Pioneer, where about 86,000 pounds at a $39.75 average was reported.

Associated Press in a story from Winston-Salem said Tuesday that Old Belt growers are pleased with what they got on the opening day and that no reports are being received of "tag-turning," the method used when growers show dissatisfaction with prices.

Lightness in weight, plus poor quality of some offerings, has pulled the price this year below the opening average for last season, but these were expected factors and warehousemen are expecting both prices and quality to be higher here from now on.

Heartening factor in the Old Belt season is the fact that prices in general are better on it than they have been in the Middle Belt.

Good, likewise, in Roxboro, is the fact that stocks on hand are being taken care of each day. Co-incidental with the opening of the market here is a noticeable increase of trade in stores, a trade that merchants are prepared to handle despite admitted shortages in certain lines. Person growers and many from other towns are this year coming to Roxboro.

Olive Hill PTA Hears Burns And R. B. Griffin Speak

Olive Hill school had its first PTA meeting of the year in the school auditorium last Thursday night.

After a discussion concerning opening of the school cafeteria, R. B. Griffin, Person Superintendent, was presented who gave a talk on the Third War Loan drive, for which he urged full cooperation.

Griffin then introduced the speaker of the evening, Robert P. Burns, who gave an informal talk about school and parent problems.

Following the business session a very pleasant social hour was enjoyed by all.

Direct Appeal For Third War Loan By Farris Humphries

Quiet, But Sincere War Bond Appeal Made By Person Pearl Harbor Veteran

Humphries Says Men React To What Folks At Home Do With Bond Program.

"I am sure you are all interested enough to know the importance of buying Third War Loan bonds, but I don't think you are fully aware of the effect the sale of Bonds has on the morale of fighting men and I believe I can tell you just that," said Sgt. Farris Humphries, Person Pearl Harbor veteran, at first meeting of the Parent-Teacher association of Roxboro Central Grammar school Tuesday.

Introduction of Humphries, who as a returned veteran is a member of Lester Blackwell Post of the American Legion, was by Gordon C. Hunter, Post Commander, who is also district chairman for the Third War Loan. Presiding was Mrs. H. C. Kynoch, PTA president, and devotional was by Miss Claire Harris, of the faculty.

Hunter in his introduction, described the circumstances under which Humphries was wounded and he also gave an urgent appeal for War Bond and stamp support, saying that raising of the Person and Roxboro quota (turn to page eight, please)

HOW HERO LOOKS WHEN HE COMES HOME TO PERSON

Sgt. Pullium Wears Cover-Alls And Keeps His Modest Grin.

How a hero looks when he comes home: Staff Sergeant Lewis E. Pullium, 22, of the Air Base, Blythe, Calif., and Roxboro, who about two weeks ago was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross in a formal ceremony, was on the street in Roxboro yesterday. He wore a pair of brown cover-alls, they have a fancier name for them in the Army, with a below the knee pocket on one leg.

The pocket, says Pullium, is handy, especially, when sitting down in a plane. Plainly visible was a pack of cigarettes, tucked into the space with a few greenbacks. Here for a visit with his parents and his wife, Pullium still had his engaging, modest grin, and in his hands a freshly wrapped box of shoes, probably for his wife.

The medal ceremonies at Blythe, says Pullium, were quite in (turn to page eight, please)

TRINITY CHURCH NOT TO OBSERVE RITES THIS TIME

Service Will Be Delayed Until October, With Love As Speaker.

Fourth Sunday afternoon preaching services for the Trinity Methodist church, of the Brookdale Charge, will not be conducted next Sunday, September 26, because the pews have been removed from the church auditorium and the floor has been varnished in preparation for the new pews and pulpit furniture. The new pews and new pulpit furniture will be installed in the church the first week in October to be ready for the regular second Sunday's preaching service.

Second Sunday in October is to be observed as Home Coming Day for the church, with the District Superintendent, the Rev. F. S. Love, of Durham, to be present to preach at 11:00 o'clock and conduct the fourth Quarterly Conference for the year. Picnic dinner will be served on the grounds and a special afternoon service conducted. It is to be a special occasion as it marks the completion of what is regarded as one of the finest rural churches in Person County. Special notice is given that the service (turn to page eight, please)

CARLTON AGAIN REMINDS PUBLIC ABOUT CHRISTMAS

Attention of the public is again called to the importance of mailing all Christmas packages to our armed forces overseas by October 15th and not later, if such packages are to be delivered by Christmas day said L. M. Carlton, Roxboro Postmaster, today.

Special attention should be given to size, weight and packing and addressing. Full information will be given at the postoffice so that the laws and regulations of the Department may be complied with and no delay made in dispatching. Extensive preparations have been made by the government to take care of these Christmas packages which will be sent to every part of the world, but strict compliance with the regulations and prompt mailing is required if this service is to be rendered. The sooner you mail, the better, said Carlton.

Women Plan Start Of Service Club Work In Roxboro

Joint Committees Meet In Chamber Of Commerce Office On Tuesday

Hotel To Take Names Of Soldiers Wanting Places In Private Homes. Women Expect To Be At

Mrs. Beth Brewer Pridden, president of Roxboro Business and Professional Woman's club, together with Misses Mildred Bass, Billie Vogler, members of the club's military service committee, met this week with members of similar committees from Roxboro's Kiwanis and Rotary club to plan an established Military Service program. Also at the meeting was Farris Humphries, as a representative of the American Legion, and Wallace Woods, of Chamber of Commerce.

Under plans made at the meeting Mrs. Pridden is to name a committee to be at Hotel Roxboro on week-ends to direct men who need rooms to available quarters in private homes. It has been suggested that majority of men wish to pay for their rooms, but that in instances where charges are not made, the men will be given an opportunity to contribute to a fund for establishment here of a USO headquarters.

Also discussed was a plan of using an uptown building or the American Legion but as USO headquarters, with majority sentiment favoring an uptown building because of inaccessibility of the Hut, which is rather far out on Court Street. It is hoped that ultimately a separate USO building can be established here.

Sentiment was expressed that soldiers who do stay in private homes want rather to be let alone than to have an excess of planned entertainment. Rotary committee representatives present included R. B. Griffin, Gordon C. Hunter and Tom Shaw, while Kiwanis representative was Dr. Robert E. Long.

Being planned for this Saturday by Dr. Long, Lawrence Featherstone and others is a Service dance at Roxboro high school. The Tuesday meeting was first organized effort made here to establish a service program.

Schoof And Taylor Make Malaria Tests

State Department Makes Immediate Response To Request For Investigation

Malaria Report Can Be Expected In Few Weeks Says Richardson.

H. F. Schoof, of Raleigh, of the malaria control division of the State Board of Health, assisted by Winston B. Taylor, Person sanitarian, has completed an examination of malarial conditions said to exist at Chub Lake and is expected to make a report in a few weeks, according to Dr. W. P. Richardson, of Chapel Hill, director of the tri-county health department.

Dr. Richardson, here yesterday for a regular departmental visit, quoted Schoof and Taylor as saying that in certain spots in the Chub Lake area the incidence of the disease is rather large and Pullium Humphries, Reade And Others Will Participate. Harris, Hunter And Griffin Urge Public Support.

Person and Roxboro "Sacrifice Day," when a special effort to reach the Third War Loan quota of $567,000, will be made, will be observed here on Wednesday, September 29, when a War Bond auction, preceded by a Camp Butner argued parade, will be staged at two o'clock in the afternoon at Person Court House.

Tentative plans for the program, revealed today by Gordon C. Hunter, district chairman for the Third War Loan, call for parade participation of a full company of soldiers from Camp Butner, with their band. Butner participation has full approval of Gen. Edwin P. Parker, who is extending all possible cooperation.

The soldiers will bring with them full equipment and a demonstration of its use will take place on the Court House lawn. The auction, according to Hunter, will be in charge of Temple Brothers, of Danville, Va., well-known auctioneers, who will be assisted by Guy Whitehurst, of Roxboro.

In the parade, which will start from Central Grammar school at two o'clock, will be Sgt. Farris Humphries, Pearl Harbor veteran and winner of the Purple Heart, and Sgt. Lewis E. Pullium, who last week came home from the Air Base at Blythe, Calif., where he recently received the Distinguished Flying Cross from Gen. Newton Longfellow, commander, for exploits as tail-gunner in North Africa and Europe.

Also in the parade will be members of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars, Boy Scouts, representatives of the Red Cross and other war activities and Person and Roxboro public school pupils. W. F. Reade, 97, of Mount Tirzah, only surviving Person Confederate veteran, is also being asked to be in the line of march. (turn to page eight, please)

Roxboro Country Club Members Meet Tonight

Members of Roxboro Country club are requested to meet tonight at 7:45 o'clock in the grand jury room at Person County Court House, where club affairs of importance will be discussed. President is J. S. Merritt, who announced the meeting.

In numbers of samples of the Lake water malaria-bearing mosquitoes were found.

Schoof is now completing his survey, having taken with him to Raleigh a number of blood-smears and slides. Actual checking of breeding conditions for mosquitos at Chub Lake will not be particularly effective before next Spring, according to Richardson, but officials are going to do what they can now and will be most certainly ready to do good work by Spring.

One aspect of the survey is an attempt to discover cases of malaria not yet on file in office of local physicians, it being said that many citizens are victims of malaria without being fully aware that they have the disease.
