Sports Chatter

By GENE BYRD

Well at last I got to see our local representatives play in the Moore General Softball League. I would like to venture the humble opinion that we have a good entry.

As a matter of fact the boys lost to the Swannanoa team by the score of 13-9, but they were leading until a succession of walks, errors and hits made one inning a nightmare in which Swannanoa scored most of her runs. Until he hit a wild streak and at the same time received a little faulty support, Stevenson, local pitcher looked like a million dollars. (I ought to get a quarter from that plug, Ev.) His work is backing up not only his basemen but also the catcher on one occasion was outstanding. "Chuck" Woodside made one beautiful play on a line drive by the opposing shortstop that appeared to be well above his head. "Chuck" soared into the air caught the ball, and then came down looking around to see where the ball was.

Norman Harris playing for the first time with the local team showed ability in going back under flies from his second base position. Manager Rudsill covered lots of ground at short and showed stuff as a relief pitcher. Brittain, leftfielder, made some nice catches and hit well. Medford is really a peppercot catcher and throws well to the bases. The team has a brother combination Glen Fortune playing first and Cecil playing centerfield. (A team with two "Fortunes" should be considered wealthy.)

Carroll Stevens didn't get to display the savage hitting that he is capable of and was replaced late in the game by Eugene Anderson who I didn't know was a ballplayer but who looked quite at home.

In regards to the veteran's baseball team that has been proposed Norman Harris is to attend a meeting Wednesday evening to see that Black Mountain's chances are for getting a berth in the league either this half or next. The chances are better for entry in the second half since several games would have to make up in the first half.

The American League lost two of its better known pilots last week when "Marsh Joe" McCarthy of the Yankees and Jimmy Dykes of the White Sox resigned. A well known sports commentator insists that they resigned under pressure. They were replaced by two of the most popular men in baseball, Bill Dickey and Ted Lyons. Dickey has long been a fixture of Murderer's Row for the Yankees and was the late Lou Gehrig's room-mate. Lyons never had experience in minor league ball, going straight from the campus of Baylor to the White Sox. Past forty he is still an effective pitcher but plans to be a bench manager.

Speaking of Dykes makes us think of the days when the Philadelphia Athletics ruled the roost before the venerable Connie Mack for the second time in his career broke up a world's championship combination. Let's see if we can recall some of the players on that famous team of '29, '30, and '31. You'll probably have to help me, fans. Cochrane was the catcher Grove, Walberg, Earnshaw and Ehmke were the outstanding pitchers, Jimmy Foxx played first base and Dykes played third, but who played short and second? Seems like a guy named Boley played short. In the outfield were Al Simmons and Mule Haas, but who was the other man? How about a little help sport fans?

There is a rumor that Norman Harris may go to Carolina instead of Duke. You remember that Billy Britt and Charley Justice have both enrolled at Chapel Hill, and Norman used to be their blocking back at Asheville High School. (Incidentally, one of the best in the Carolinas at the job. Answers to last weeks quiz:

Ruth was playing with the Boston Braves in the National League when he retired.

2. Joe McCarthy managed championship clubs in both the National and American Leagues the Chicago Cubs and the New York Yankees.

3. Jim Tharp was disqualified from the 1912 Olympics because of playing professional base ball they took away the medals that he had already won and awarded them to the ones who had placed second to him.

4. "Pop" Warner first coached the Carlisle Indians to fame.

5. A. A. Stagg well past eighty has been coaching successfully at a small Pacific Coast College. 6. Notre Dame could suggest only the famous Knute Rockne. 7. The coach of the famous 'Praying' Colonels was Uncle Charlie Moran, who later coached at Catawba College. 8. Check me on these coaches at Black Mountain High School. As I remember, Mr. Barton, Perry Priest, B. C. Wilson, Wayne Priest, Mr. Gouge, Paul Schachner, Mr. Pearson and last and least in that galaxy, myself. 10. Babe Ruth was the leading pitcher in the American league in 1915, batting champion once in the 20's and many times home-run king. THIS WEEK'S QUIZ. Let's try a few nicknames, who were these? 1. The gipper. 2. Indian Joe, "Not from Tom Sawyer." 3. Double X. 4. The Fordham Flash. 5. Iron Man Joe. 6. Rapid Robert. 7. Columbia Lou. 8. Jersey Joe. 9. Alabama Joe (and again). 10. The Yankee Clipper. (A little tip, this is Joe too.)

Local Team Encounters League Leaders

The Black Mountain "Black Hawks" will encounter the league leading Post Engineers in the feature game at Moore General tonight.

They will encounter Duty officers on Friday. At present the "Black Hawks" have a record of three wins and three losses. The remarkable thing is that each game they have outtied their opponents.

"Blackhawks" Suffered Their Third Defeat

The Black Mountain "Blackhawks" suffered their third straight defeat last Friday, in the Moore General Hospital Inter-Unit League, when they lost to Swannanoa by a score of 13-9.

Black Mountain apparently had the game in the bag until Swannanoa exploded with a six-run rally in the first half of the seventh climaxed by Sides home run with the bases loaded.

Black Mountain scored five runs in the second inning as a result of successive singles by Fortune, Stevenson, Woodside, and two Swannanoa errors. They tallied two more in the fourth when G. Fortune singled and C. Foster homered.

Other results of the past week were:

Post Engineers 8, Rudeen and Shirlen; Duty Officers 5, Denton and Fitzhugh. Postal Accounts 4, Morrison and Sain; WAC Detachment 6, Baumgardner and Thomas.

Ground Forces 9, Ashcraft and Ahearn; Swannanoa 3, Hardin and Sides.

Headquarters Detachment 7, Peacock and Krepmin; Duty Officers 6, Denton and Fitzhugh.

Post Engineers 7, Rudeen and Shirlen; Ground Forces 0, Faults, Ashcraft and Ahearn.

Keep Stock Away From Newly Painted Building

Hundreds of valuable cows and other livestock are killed annually by licking the paint from buildings. Cows seemingly have a craving for the lead which is an ingredient in most paints, according to the American Veterinary Medical association.

Herds have been known to dig down to the bottom of a trash pile to reach a discarded paint can with fatal consequences. After the paint is dry, little trouble will result.
