"These new passenger Diesels," Mr. Norris said, "are tangible evidence of our determination to provide the best possible passenger service. Moreover they represent only one phase of a comprehensive modernization and improvement program, involving every feature of the Southern's freight and passenger service, and designed to keep pace with the fast-growing transportation needs of the South.

Mr. Norris explained that the manufacturer had promised to deliver the new Diesels last October but was unable to do so because of strikes and shortages of materials.

Other motive power on order and still to be delivered, Mr. Norris added, includes 24 Diesel 6,000-h. p. freight locomotives and 14 Diesel 1,000-h. p. switchers.

WOMEN OF AMERICA WILL YOU GIVE THAT THEY MAY LIVE

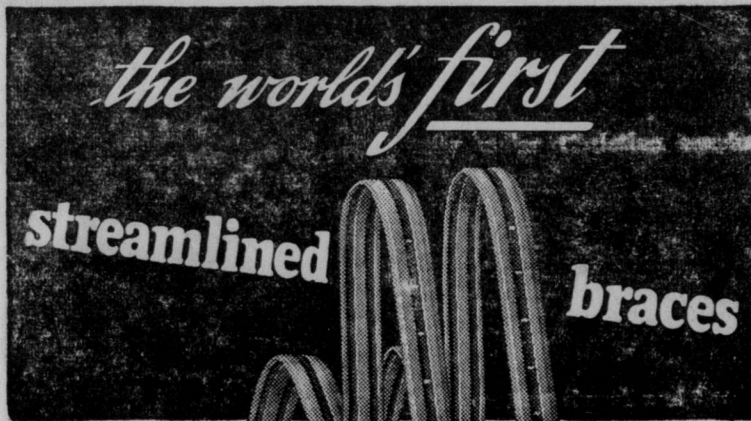

The Emergency Food Collection gives everyone in the United States a chance to make a personal contribution toward the relief of the starving people of Europe and Asia. Everyone is asked to give food canned in tin or money with which to buy food. The food will be distributed free on the basis of greatest need and without discrimination. Because of the difficulty of handling food for overseas shipment, the Emergency Food Collection can take only foods packed in tin cans.

The kind of foods needed are milk (condensed, evaporated, or dried), meat, fish, baby foods, baked beans, stews, soups, honey, fruits, juices and vegetables.

Cash contributions to the Emergency Food Collection will be utilized only for the purchase of food. No deductions are made from contributions for operating costs. Every cent of every dollar contributed will go entirely for the purchase of additional supplies.

Besides making individual contributions of food canned in tin or money to buy food, women can help by working with their clubs in staging collection projects, in giving social affairs to which the admission is a contribution of food. Women can solicit their food stores for cooperation; they can set up and manage collection depots for the local committees; they can solicit local theatres, or to run special performances to which the admission is food donations; they can organize squads to solicit banquets, luncheons, or to tour restaurants; they can write letters or make phone calls asking for aid; they can make pleas for contributions at public gatherings, at meetings, etc. They can write letters to their newspapers.

ELECTRICITY makes it possible in any modern home

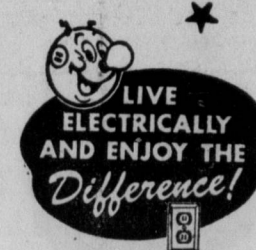

Yes, although she is a busy housewife, she has time for relaxation . . . time to read, or sew, or play with the children. She has time to visit friends, to shop leisurely, to go to the movies. Not just SOME days, but every day she has leisure to do the things she wants to do.

There is no mystery about it . . . any housewife can enjoy the same leisure time when she lets electricity do the tiresome, time consuming work in her home. It is called Electrical Living, and added leisure time is one of its brightest features.

For example, a new electric range with time and temperature controls will actually cook dinner for the entire family and have it hot and ready whenever it is wanted . . . Even though no one is in the kitchen all afternoon.

With electricity working for you in the kitchen, and throughout the house, you too will enjoy time for relaxation . . . time for the things you like to do. Plan now to live electrically, and enjoy the difference!
