A THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful.

This Week's EDITORIAL

Announcement by the city council that plans are under way to double the capacity of the present water system comes as welcome news to Black Mountain residents who have been forced to curtail the use of water except for domestic purposes.

Termed by permanent residents as the worst drouth seen here since 1925, the long season without rain has brought the first serious water shortage here in many years and clearly demonstrates that the present system is inadequate to meet the demands of a growing town.

The mayor and members of the council are to be commended for their foresight.

The Black Mountain fire department is sponsoring Fire Prevention Week, which is being observed October 6-12. Every year fire kills more children than polio and destroys more property than war, and the great pity of the whole thing is that a great many of the fires could be prevented—in other words they are the result of carelessness.

Be careful with fire and save lives and property.

Dr. Cooley To Study Medicine

Dr. Samuel S. Cooley left Tuesday to enter the graduate medical school of the University of Pennsylvania where he will take a course in internal medicine. He expects to return to Black Mountain in June.

Mrs. Cooley has already gone to Philadelphia where the boys are enrolled at the Germantown Friends school.

Dr. E. E. Corcoran from Moore General Hospital will be in Black Mountain to care for Dr. Cooley's patients as soon as his discharge comes through. He will remain until June.

Miss Thelma B. Triplett of Hazard, Kentucky is expected in Black Mountain for the week-end.

Mrs. James Tucker, Statesville, N. C., has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Gaither in Black Mountain.

Home Ec Plan F. H. A. Meeting

On Saturday, October 5, at 10:00 a. m., the Vocational Home Economics Department will hold a district meeting to make plans for the Future Homemakers Association.

The district rally will be in Morganton, November 9, at which time several home economics students will attend as delegates.

Newly elected officers of the F. H. A. Club are: President, Jean Atkins; Vice-president, Carolyn Smith; Sec-tres, Alice Whitaker; historian and reporter, Georgia Sneed.

Mrs. Edward Behan with Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Behan of Hoosick Falls, N. Y., are visiting their husband and son, at Moore General Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. George Seamer of Indianapolis are visiting friends in Black Mountain.

WHITES RETURN FROM TRIP

Interesting features of a trip recently made by Mr. and Mrs. Morris W. White in celebration of their tenth wedding anniversary were visits to a former slave plantation near Conover, and to the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett E. Barringer, Hickory, and Mr. and Mrs. Troy White, Lenoir.

Owned by Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Dellinger, the 600 acre plantation is 150 years old, has eight slave houses still standing, and has been inherited from one generation to another. As Mr. Dellinger has no close relatives, he is the last of his generation.

Unique in the Barringer home is a folding stairs which fold or unfold at the press of a button.

Mrs. White is the granddaughter of Thomas L. Stradley, who, desiring freedom of worship, came here from Sussex, England and founded the first Baptist religion in North Carolina.

Mr. White is a native of Black Mountain and a veteran of World War II.

MRS. JOHN HOLLETT GUEST OF MRS. WILL WHITEHEAD

Mrs. John Hollett of Indianapolis, Indiana, was a recent guest of her cousin, Mrs. Will Whitehead. During her visit Mrs. Hollett was taken as a guest to a meeting of the North Carolina branch of Penwomen in Asheville.

A feature of the meeting was a talk by Mrs. Frank Richardson, Black Mountain Penwoman, who related the experiences which her son Howard had in getting his play "The Dark of the Moon" accepted on Broadway.

F. S. CUNNINGHAMS VISIT IN KENTUCKY

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Cunningham went to La Grange, Kentucky, Friday to visit their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fenton Cunningham, Jr., and their grandson, Fenton III. Mrs. Cunningham will remain in La Grange for two weeks.

TEA AND TOPIC CLUB TO ELECT OFFICERS

New officers will be elected for the coming year when the Tea and Topic Club meets Friday at 8:00 p. m., at the home of Mrs. W. W. Phillips, Jr., on Newbern Avenue. Mrs. A. P. Tyson Jr., president, will preside. Mrs. Roy Taylor will have charge of the program.

Mr. and Mrs. August Meyer, 5131 South Rockwell Street, Chicago, Illinois, are visiting their son, Willard Meyer at Moore General Hospital.

Miss Mary Jane Shelley of Montreat enjoyed a visit from her father of Carlisle, Pennsylvania, last week-end.

Homer Tyson of Charlotte, N. C., visited Betty Epting at Montreat last week-end.

Martha Talley of Greensboro, N. C., and Charlotte Roth of Cuchoo, Va., students at Montreat College, visited and shopped in Asheville Saturday.

Miss Martha Talley plans to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Talley, at Greensboro this week-end.

Black Mountain Arts Club

"At his easel, eager-eyed
A painter stands, and sunshine at his touch
Gazes upon his canvas, and life glows."

Wm Cullen Bryant.

Arrangements are being completed for a special art teacher for the eighth grade as these pupils have made this request. Next week we expect to be able to publish full information.

Circles are now being formed so that those interested in certain phases of the arts may study together thus gaining help and inspiration. Mrs. E. J. Anthony is chairman of activities. Please notify her in regard to your "pet hobby." Each group will have a qualified leader whose names will be published next week.

Within the next month, we will mention the works of the artists who, at the request of the Club, so graciously and generously offered their pictures for our enjoyment and instruction, during the Arts Festival.

Miss Jessie Stockard of Montreat exhibited two unusual pictures having the "modernistic touch." One that drew much attention was a "Still Life" quickly assembled from nearby material so as to demonstrate how attractive and effective, "ordinary things" nearby become all depending upon artistic arrangement and color.

A blue pottery bottle stood on a table that was draped with gray sateen. The background, three panels of old gold, was repeated in one table leg. One leg was dark blue-green, and another, light blue-green—all to harmonize with the satin drapery, and yet to give the startling "modern dash" of mixed colors. On the table was a ripe banana, likewise repeating the yellow of the background. Under the skillful hand of the artist, the sateen assumed the sheen and texture of finest satin, and the colors glowed with warmth and brilliance.

Last Spring, this picture was selected by the Art Faculty of the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina, for exhibition in the Witherspoon Art Gallery.

Another "study" by Miss Stockard was that of bronze and purple Dutch iris in a mahogany colored glass vase that reflected all lights. This vase was placed on a table cover of crumpled tan tissue paper. With remarkable artistic insight, Miss Stockard arranged a silver gray and tan gray striped background so that all of the colors, even those of the iris, were reflected in the vase.

These "studies" showed what a real true artist can accomplish with the simplest and most uninviting materials, the common place things of life, and, may it be written reverently, even as Christ can touch the most sinful and ugly life and make of it one of beauty, an utter transformation.

Mr. A. F. Pickard, citrus fruit grower from Lakeland, Florida, and his wife are at the Monte Vista for a few days. En route they spent a week visiting their daughter in South Carolina.

Mr. and Mrs. Pickard have been coming to the Monte Vista for many years and report that they like it very much.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Robbs of Gaffney, S. C., visited their daughter, Betty Jean Robbs of Montreat College last Sunday.

THE BIBLE IN THE SCHOOL

Is America A Christian Country. America is considered the most Christian of all the nations in the world. I do not think the American people do as much for the aid and security of some of its most needy as could be done.

America has educated and sent missionaries to all countries to help the people to learn the Christian way of life and to help them to live like the American people. We have been most helpful in sending food and supplies to those who are starving and cannot clothe themselves.

"All have sinned and come short of the glory of God," is a very good Bible statement that can be applied to Americans as well as to others. In other words, none of us is perfect and many of us could go to church more often, visit the sick, and always, "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

Katie Dalton.

—The Honorable L. A. Oates, British Consul, and his wife visited last week at the Monte Vita.

—Mrs. Eugene Shaver from Jackson, Kentucky, is visiting her husband, Pfc. Eugene Shaver of Moore General Hospital.
