Cake at Its Best Depends on Your Care
(See Recipes Below)

Parade of Cakes

you long to make a cake tender to the touch, feathery in texture, and delicate to the taste, then success is yours if you measure carefully, use good ingredients and bake carefully.

Maybe yours is one of those cakes where the week-end does not begin unless there's a luscious cake reposing on the cake dish. If so, you'll want variety in addition to goodness, and there will be different cake here for several week-ends, if you just clip out these recipes and use them as you go along.

This orange cake may be frosted with either orange or chocolate icing depending upon your taste:

Orange Cake.
(Makes 2 8-inch layers)

- 2 cups sifted flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 3 tablespoons grated orange rind
- 1/2 cup orange juice
- Sift flour, measure, then sift again with baking powder and salt. Cream shortening, add sugar gradually until cream is light and fluffy.
- Add well-beaten eggs and cream thoroughly, then add orange rind.
- Put dry ingredients alternately with orange juice, blending thoroughly after each addition. Bake in two layers in greased pans or as cup cakes or loaf cake. Use a moderate oven (350-degree) for 30 to 35 minutes.

Orange Butter Frosting: Cream together 1/2 cup butter with about 1/2 pound of powdered sugar (3/4 cup sifted). Add a few grains of salt. 1 1/2 teaspoons grated orange rind and 1 teaspoon lemon juice. Add enough liquid to make of spreading consistency.

Chocolate Butter Frosting: Use the ingredients as above omitting orange and lemon juice and add 1/4 cup cocoa. Substitute 1/2 cup of cocoa for powdered sugar and enough milk to make of spreading consistency. Flavor with 1/2 teaspoon vanilla.

Chocolate Spice Cake.
(Makes 1 9-inch tube pan)

- 1 cup flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup butter
- 1/2 cup cocoa
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1/2 cup oil
- 1/2 cup molasses
- 1/2 cup coffee
- 1/2 cup vanilla
- 1/2 cup nutmeg
- 1/2 cup cloves
- 1/2 cup allspice
- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup eggs
- 1/2 cup squares unsweetened chocolate
- 1/2 cup milk
- Sift flour, measure, then sift again with baking powder, salt and spices. Cream shortening, add gradually the sugar and cream together until light and fluffy. Add well-beaten eggs, then chocolate which has been melted and cooled and beat until smooth. Add dry ingredients alternately with milk,

LYNN SAYS:

When You Bake Cakes: Use these tips to make your work more efficient:
Oven should be heated to desired temperature before placing the cake within it. A good work order to follow is to lay out your utensils and ingredients, then light the oven, and then mix your cake. In this way you don't have to stop during mixing to light the oven.
The cake is done when it is lightly browned, and when it springs back lightly as touched. It may show very slight shrinkage from the edges of the pan.

PAUL MAKES A NEW START

LESSON TEXT—Acts 26:9-18; I Corinthians 15:8-10.
MEMORY SELECTION—This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptance, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners.—I Timothy 1:15.

All that a man has by nature is not enough. We saw last week the preparation by heredity, education and environment which Paul had for a place of leadership. But it was not enough. The capable, well-born, well-trained young Jewish aristocrat had to be born again spiritually before he could do God's work.

Careful Bible students regard the conversion of Paul and the resurrection of Christ as the two outstanding events of the New Testament. Without the resurrection of Jesus, the conversion of Saul of Tarsus (whom we know as Paul the apostle) would not have been possible, and at the same time his conversion is one of the strongest proofs of the resurrection.

We find him in three relationships.

I. By Nature—Contrary to Christ (Acts 26:9-12).

It is not enough, as some of us suppose, that a man be sincere. Paul was entirely sincere in his conviction that he ought to persecute the Christians. He did it with a good conscience (Acts 23:1), for a man's conscience commends him for doing what he believes to be right, even though he may be wrong in his thinking.

He was sincere, but he was anti-Christian. By nature man is at enmity with God. No good thing dwells in the flesh apart from the redeeming grace of God (Rom. 8:7; James 4:4; Rom. 7:18).

Stricken, probably by the faithful testimony of Stephen, to even greater zeal against the followers of Christ, Paul had to find new worlds to conquer, so he set out "breathing out threatenings and slaughter to destroy the church in Damascus" as he had sought to do in Jerusalem.

He was a bold persecutor, doing all he could "contrary to the name of Jesus" (v. 9), until he met the Lord himself on the Damascus road. Ah, that meeting made him a different man and he became

II. By Faith—Converted to Christ (Acts 26:13-18).

Stricken down by a brilliant heavenly light, he found himself talking to the Lord Jesus. He heard from his holy lips the solemn indictment of those who persecute God's people—"Why persecutest thou me?" He who lays unkind hands upon, or brings untrue accusation against, God's children had better beware, for so closely is our Lord identified with his people that when they suffer, it is he who bears the hurt.

In a single sentence the Lord disposed of the persecuting zeal and the sinful skepticism of this proud young Pharisee, and Saul entered into Damascus not as the haughty persecutor, but as a man trembling and astonished. He spent three days shut in with his own soul and God; not seeing, not caring to eat, but entering into communion with God. By God's grace the old life was pulled up by the roots as it was displaced by the new life in Christ Jesus.

God had a great commission awaiting Paul as soon as he was ready for it (vv. 16-18). He was to be the apostle to the Gentiles, and that includes so many of us. The gospel which had come first to the Jews, was now to go out into all the world and to all people.

The change in Paul was a drastic one. He was as one who was alive from the dead. It was not a case of adjusting or refurbishing the old persecutor Saul—here was a new creature in Christ, ordained to good works (Eph. 2:8-10).

III. By Grace—Confessing Christ (I Cor. 15:8-10).

Twenty years had passed since Paul's conversion. He had been out serving Christ, in season and out of season. He had known persecution, suffering and opposition. Now he was writing, by inspiration of the Holy Spirit, about the resurrection, telling of those who had seen the risen Christ. He included himself as one born out of his time.

It is a personal vision of the living Saviour which vitalizes the spirit of a witness and makes his testimony ring true. Paul saw Christ. We too may see Him with the eye of faith, and by His grace become witnesses.

Effort and labor are involved. This matter of witnessing is not something which automatically does itself. "I labored more abundantly," said Paul, and yet he knew that it was the grace of God in him which accomplished the result (see v. 10 and Phil. 2:13).

That is it! The grace of God working on and in and through a man. And at the same time, that man laboring diligently that the grace bestowed upon him should not be found vain. It is in this manner God's work gets done on earth!

Thousands Claimed Each Year By Careless Hunting Mishaps

The hunted animal is not the only victim during the hunting season," says Julien H. Harvey, managing director of the National Conservation Bureau. Each fall thousands of men and women who go into the woods to hunt are carried back out wounded, dying or dead. Scores of others are luckier—they are merely maimed.

"This needless destruction of human life can be prevented," the chief of the accident prevention division of the Association of Casualty and Surety Executives declares. "Our hunters must decide whether or not human life is of more value than one or two extra deer or partridge.

"The hunter who blazes away whenever he hears a sound or glimpses a movement in the underbrush is criminally careless. In fact, carelessness and over-enthusiasm lie at the root of most of our hunting tragedies.

Hunting Precautions

"If all those who go on hunting trips this Fall would observe the following few simple precautions our 1946 hunting accident carnage will be greatly reduced," Mr. Harvey said.

1. Wear clothing whose color contrasts as much as possible with the foliage. Red has been proven the best color. A red cap, jacket, or shirt may save your life.
2. Don't drink while you are in the woods. Liquor and firearms don't mix.
3. When climbing fences or other obstructions either unload your gun or be sure the safety catch is on. Always unload a shotgun.
4. Keep your gun pointed away from your partner or companions at all times. When walking with a group carrying your gun over your shoulder, muzzle upward, instead of slung in the crook of your arm.
5. Protect your general physical health while outdoors. Don't over-exert yourself, change wet clothing promptly, and get plenty of sleep at night.
6. Don't snap-shoot on the spur of the moment. Every time you fire your gun, know beyond doubt what you are shooting at. It is better to come back to camp minus a deer than carrying a wounded man over your shoulder.

ERECTION OF SIGNS ON PARKWAY CONSIDERED

Question of whether informative road signs will be permitted along Blue Ridge parkway has been referred for study and recommendation to National Park service regional headquarters in Richmond, it was learned in Washington recently.

The proposal to erect parkway signs which would indicate facilities available to visiting motorists, along with mileage to various towns in the parkway area, was advanced recently by North Carolina Travel council and has received the active backing of Senator Josiah W. Bailey, Senator Bailey's office has been advised by P. P. Patraw, acting director of park service headquarters in Chicago, the whole matter has been

TWO SUSPECTS FLEE IN MILK CART; IT'S TOO SLOW

NEW YORK.—A horse and wagon getaway attempted amid a flurry of bullets shattered Brooklyn's morning quiet but the escape tactics were too slow for modern vigilantes in a patrol car. The chase began when a policeman spied two men descending the fire escape of a loft building. The men fled and Patrolman William Griffiths gave pursuit, firing as he ran. Police said the fleeing pair jumped on a horse-drawn milk wagon and, at gunpoint, forced the driver to give them the reins and whipped the horse into a gallop.

NATURE STUDY

By Mrs. Thomas S. Sharp

Appreciation of Extended Courtesies

Many nature lovers of our community and among our summer guests have expressed their appreciation of the opportunity to enjoy and to study the N. C. Wild Flower and other "local" displays exhibited in the window of the Black Mountain Drug Co., during the past year. These "tributes" have come from widely scattered areas,—Canada, England, Hawaii.

We wish, especially to thank Mr. and Mrs. Carter Uzzell for having given us this opportunity and pleasure.

Later in the window, may frequently be seen, as several times within the past twelve months, copies of noted paintings and pictures of famous buildings, with descriptions, and explanations if the purpose and idea of the artist,—all to acquaint our young people with the arts of the masters, to help them in their mental travels.

"Never lose an opportunity to see anything beautiful. Beauty is God's handwriting." Chas. Kingsley.

passed on to the regional office in Richmond, with instructions to report recommendations.

JAPANESE LEADERS SEEK TO DODGE ALLIED CHARGES

TOKYO.—Japan's indicted wartime leaders sought to blot out many of the Allies' war crimes charges by contending that their nation did not surrender unconditionally.

The Allies' chief prosecutor contended just as strongly that the surrender was "utterly without conditions."

Chief Defense Counsel Ichiro Kiyose argued that, under conditions of the surrender, only violators of international law as it then existed would be brought to trial.

Japan's top statesmen agreed to surrender, Kiyose said, in the belief they would not be prosecuted as war criminals.

Kiyose also contended that because Japan did not surrender unconditionally she was not required to observe every order of supreme headquarters "but only those which are in accord with the Potsdam declaration."

Thus he challenged the tribunal's authority to try the defendants on charges of crimes against peace and crimes against humanity.

Farmers To Get AAA Payments

Farmers producing small grain cover crops under the AAA program will receive payments for establishment of a satisfactory winter cover from seedings of wheat, oats, barley, rye, or mixtures of these crops made in the fall of 1946 it is announced this week.

The small grain cover crop in the 1947 program has been informally approved and payment practice which is to be included at the following rates will be made: wheat, rye, or mixture of wheat and rye, $2.50 per acre; barley or mixtures of barley, wheat or rye, $1.50 per acre.

A satisfactory cover will be considered to have been established when the land is uniformly covered with a growth from which a reasonable tonnage of forage could be harvested. The crop however, must not be harvested for grain or cut for hay, it was stated.

THAT'S ONE WAY

A candidate for the police was being interviewed and given an oral examination. "If you were by yourself in a police car, and were being pursued by a gang of desperate criminals in another car, doing 40 miles an hour on a lonely road, what would you do?"

The candidate replied promptly, "Fifty."

B. F. GOODRICH SILVERTOWN OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES

Shipments of the new B.F. Goodrich Silvertown are arriving regularly, and we may have your size. But there's more demand for some tire brands than others, and the big extra demand is for Silvertown, the tire that outwears prewar tires—even at high speeds. There's a reason! The new tread design is wider, flatter and puts more rubber on the road. More and stronger cords support this tread—give it extra resistance to bruising and blow-outs. Please check your needs well in advance. Talk to us. We'll do our best to keep your car rolling until we can get new tires for you. 1610
