

DARKHORSES, SWANNANOVA MEET FRIDAY

Need For Home Training Cited By Guest Speaker

The young people of today are no worse than those of 30 years ago, despite gloomy predictions to the contrary, Judge Hubert C. Jarvis of the Buncombe County Domestic Relations court told members of the Lions Club and their guests at the Monte Vista hotel Thursday night. Judge Jarvis was secured for the occasion by Lion Herbert Sanders, program chairman for the evening.

While there are four or five per cent of the young people who may be considered to be serious problems for the probation officers or others in authority, the rest are either all right or need only proper guidance to help them over the rough spots, the visitor said.

Of the factors which can mean most in the development of desirable childhood habits, the speaker listed the home, the church, and the school. If the parents would do their job well, there would be no need for juvenile courts, he concluded.

Pupils Request Art Classes

"Teacher, Teacher, Teacher, Teacher!" sang the cloen-bird, encouragingly and persistently, as it pecked the berries on the dogwood tree. Interpreting this as a friendly reminder of the "call" from those pupils of our public school who had requested a special art teacher. The committee again bestirred itself. The name your own Miss Jessie Stockard having been mentioned as a possibility, an immediate call was made. The need was presented as such an urgent one, that Miss Stockard, modest and retiring as she is, was finally prevailed upon to accept responding, as always to any "community need," especially where children and young people are concerned.

Art has been Miss Stockard's avocation and hobby for years. She has had many pupils and is now teaching in Montreat. Interested in every "school" of drawing and painting in recent years, Miss Stockard has made a special study of the "modern schools."

And now, our cloen-bird sings out exultingly in his triumph and approval: "Teacher! Teacher! Teacher! Teacher!"

Byrdmen Win Fifth Straight Victory, 27-0

By Richard Capps

On a muddy, rain soaked field Coach Eugene Byrd's Black Mountain Darkhorses pounded out a 27 to 0 victory over the hard fighting Mars Hill eleven here Thursday afternoon. It was the fifth straight triumph for the locals. Every man on the squad saw action with the exception of first string halfback L. D. Turner who is out with a bad knee.

Mars Hill stayed on the defensive throughout the game. Through a series of kickbacks they managed to hold the Black Mountain gridders scoreless for the first quarter but in the opening minutes of the second canto the locals began a march which carried them over the double stripe.

Sparked by Everette Stephenson and Cecil Fortune, with a series of off tackle slants by Medford, the Darkhorses stayed on the Mars Hill side of the midfield stripe throughout the quarter and held a 14-0 lead at the half.

Luke Medford scored both touchdowns—the first on a ten yard off tackle gallop and the second on a five yard plunge. Marett tallied the first extra point and L. Barnwell the second.

The only threat by Mars Hill came in the third quarter when Bennett intercepted the pigskin and ran 70 yards from the Mars Hill 20 to the Black Mountain 10 before being knocked out of bounds by Reese. This threat was short lived and Mars Hill was compelled to punt. Here the running trio of Stevens, Fortune, and Barnwell got rolling and behind the remarkable blocking laid down by the line headed for paydirt.

After Stephenson had carried it over for Black Mountain Coach Byrd called on Jack Ramsey, the big boy with the "golden toe" and he connected for the third extra point with a beautiful end-over-end kick that sailed directly between the goal posts. The quarter ended with the Byrdmen leading 21-0.

The fourth quarter was scoreless until the closing minutes when good team work again spoke and the score became, 27-0. Outstanding during the period was the fact that the actual touchdown play was a pass from brother to brother. Ossie Osteen doing the tossing and brother Roland the receiving. It was a 30 yard pass which the receiver caught in the end zone.

Teams Primed For Renewal Of Grid Rivalry

One of the oldest rivalries in Buncombe county will be renewed here tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 when Coach Eugene Byrd's fast stepping Darkhorses take on the Swannanoa Warriors on the local field. Black Mountain will be shooting for their sixth victory of the season.

Although Swannanoa has yet to dent the victory side of the ledger, past performance shows that when these two teams come together records are left in the dressing room and matter but little in the final outcome. As an example, Darkhorse followers remember all too well the 1945 season when the team was sailing along at top speed and seemed headed for a sure championship, only to have the boys from Swannanoa come along and cut them down, 7-6, thus spoiling the season's record and knocking the hopes of a championship right out the window.

Judging from records alone, Black Mountain should win but Warrior supporters are quick to point out that they have played some of the toughest competition in this section. And while they haven't won a lot of ball games, they have played some close ones which could just have easily been decided in their favor.

Both teams will shoot the works and fans are sure to see plenty of good hard football before the timer's gun ends the battle out at the high school field tomorrow. A capacity crowd is expected to be on hand.

Probable starting lineups:

Black Mountain	Swannanoa
Brown LE	Harper
Morris or Barnwell LT	Creaseman
Padgett LG	Dunlap
Brittain (C) C	Vick or Hunsinger
Pence RG	Carroll
Sarti RT	Robinson

Warriors Seek To Spoil Record

By Quentin Enloe

The Warriors will be seeking to take up where they left off last year when they take the field Friday afternoon against the Darkhorses at Black Mountain.

The Key City gridders are unbeaten in five games this season. They disposed of Warren Wilson college in their initial encounter, and proceeded down the victory lane by taking games from Weaverville, Hot Springs, and Mars Hill. The Warriors have lost to Canton, Hendersonville, Sand Hill, and Brevard, but past performances go for naught when Black Mountain and Swannanoa collide.

The Swannanoa and Black Mountain teams have always displayed fine sportsmanship in their games of the past. YOU Be A Good Sport, and I'll see you at this same spot next week.
