Legion Downs Candler 17-12

Aided by home runs by Jack Milbee and Dr. Brake, the Black Mountain American Legion baseball team won over Candler here Sunday afternoon in a Buncombe County League game, 17 to 12. The locals gathered 18 hits to 15 for the losers.

Candler jumped off to a five run lead in the first and scored again in the top of the second. Black Mountain tallied four times in the last of the second and tied it up at seven all in the fourth. Two runs crossed the plate in the fifth then in the sixth the Legion sewed up the game with a four run splurge.

Leading hitter for Black Mountain was Medford who collected four for four. Carpenter struck out six men.

"HOMEMADE"

Those who attended the spring fashion show given Thursday afternoon, May 15, in the school auditorium were pleasantly surprised at the expert workmanship displayed. Under the guidance of Miss Doris Whitesides, home economics teacher, each girl had an opportunity to model dresses and other articles which they themselves had made. Shown here as they faced the footlights are, left to right, Marylin Cook, Dana Gilliam, Celeste Sabiston, Ora Hollifield, and Petra Brown. (Photo by Tom Walters, Ridgecrest.)

OVER THE MOUNTAIN

By Alice Rondthaler

Black Mountain college is one of the few colleges in the United States to be owned by its faculty and entirely controlled by its teachers and the student body. The faculty has ultimate control of college property and educational discipline. The college has neither trustees nor the usual administrative officers, such as president and deans. The faculty elects from its membership a board of fellows which administers the finances and makes faculty appointments. Student officers attend faculty meetings dealing with the general affairs of the College.

To take the place of a board of Trustees, such as most colleges have, there is an advisory council, the members of which function not on legal but merely in an advisory capacity. There are twenty members of the advisory council. At least once during each year, a meeting of the council is scheduled at the college, though because of the fact that its members are from far distant places, visits are usually made when individuals find it possible to come.

Several members of the advisory council are expected to visit the campus this weekend. One member, Mrs. Anna D. Jamieson of Newton Centre, Massachusetts, arrived on Monday and is spending the week, visiting classes, talking to faculty and students, keeping in interested contact with the development of the college. Another member, Fred Wale, representative of the Rosenwald Foundation of Chicago, is expected on Friday. Dr. Erwin Straus, formerly teacher of psychology at the college, now Director of clinical psychology at the veterans' hospital at Lexington, Kentucky, hopes to visit the college soon. For many years John Dewey, professor emeritus of philosophy, Columbia university, and well known for his work in progressive education, has been a valuable member of the advisory council. Mr. Dewey now over ninety, would like to visit the college again, but is uncertain as to when he and Mrs. Dewey might be able to come. Black Mountain itself is represented on the advisory council of the college by Dr. Samuel S. Coolley and Herbert W. Sanders.

Other members are Arthur S. Adams, assistant dean, college of engineering, Cornell university, Ithaca, New York; Mrs. Ethel C. Amory, Cambridge, Massachusetts; Francis F. Bradshaw of New York City; Fernando de los Rios, former minister of foreign affairs, Spanish Republic, now of New York City; Adrian J. Dornbush of Washington, D. C.; Ethel E. Dreier, of Fort Salonga, New York; Josephine W. Duvencek of Los Altos, California; Sarah Goodwin of Concord, Massachusetts; Walter Gropius, chairman, School of Architecture, Harvard University; Joseph Katz, president, Joseph Katz Advertising company, Baltimore, Maryland; Walter Locke, editor, Dayton Daily News, Dayton, Ohio; Herminio Portell Vila, Instituto Cultural Cubano-Norte Americano; and professor of History, University of Havana; and Karl Terzhagi, professor of soil mechanics, Harvard University.

—Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Frady and son Bryan and Mr. and Mrs. James Hyatt and son Harold visited in Asheville Sunday, also in Swannanoa with Mrs. Hyatt's sister, Mrs. Paul Wagner. Mrs. Wagner and new daughter Rebecca Sue came home Sunday from St. Joseph's hospital.

—Mrs. Faye Hamby and children, Alice Faye and Ken, spent Wednesday with Mrs. Clarence Frady.

—Miss Doris Oates of Gerton, N. C., spent Thursday night with Mrs. William Holcombe.

Disabled May Enlist In Grade

First Lt. Thomas H. Suydam, Commanding Officer of the Asheville Sub-Station of the United States Army Recruiting Service, announced today that the deadline for partially disabled combat wounded veterans of World War II to enlist in the Regular Army and retain the grade held at the time of discharge has been extended from March 31 to June 30.

This new directive will apply to all former Enlisted Men wounded during World War II, who submit applications for a three year enlistment on or before June 30, regardless of the time that has elapsed since they were discharged. After June 30, it will be necessary for these men to apply within 20 days of date of discharge in order to retain their grade.

Miss Virginia Weest of Had-donfield, N. J., was an overnight guest of Mrs. Harrie Danenhower Wednesday night. Miss Weest is enroute to her home from College in Tennessee.

—Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Terrell and daughter Jane and Mrs. Barbara C. Hiltz visited Mrs. Terrell's mother in Tazewell, Va., over the past week-end. Mrs. Terrell remained in Tazewell and will return to Black Mountain Friday.

—Mrs. Albert Garland and son Marshall, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Braswell of Charlotte.

—Mrs. A. J. DeWitt and children, Kathie and Allan of Cornelia, Georgia, have returned to their home after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Mumpower.
