New Asheville Station On Air

Western North Carolina will hear a new and powerful radio voice on July 31, when WLOS and its sister station WOLS-FM go on the air. WLOS will be powered with 5,000 watts (day) and will be a member station of the Mutual Broadcasting System, the world's largest.

WLOS will be locally owned and locally operated, concentrating its programs and power for the local audience.

Executive personnel will include the following personalities, all young men with recognized reputations in their respective tasks: General Manager Charles B. Britts, graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (B. S. E. E.). During the war, Charlie was an Air Corps Major with the R. A. F. on Detached Service from the Air Attache' at the American Embassy in London, and at Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio, in the field of radar, research and experimentation.

Commercial Manager William Hendon seems to be as well known around these parts as the City Building and hardly needs introducing. Bill, as most folks know, is District Commissioner of the Boy Scouts of America, and heads the Daniel Boone Council. He is also a member of the Jaycees and the Kiwanis Club here. Before Bill joined WLOS he was Public Relations Director in this zone for the Coca Cola Company. Welcome to WLOS, Bill!

Program Director Bernie Barth comes to Asheville as a young man most likely to continue to succeed. Bernie has just turned a hoary twenty-eight, but this string of radio trophies is as long as Beaver Lake. A few of these would include: (a) An acclamation in 1937 by Radio Mirror magazine as "the youngest allied radio field man in the United States." (b) Writing three "soap operas" concurrently for the Ralph Jones Advertising Agency of Cincinnati. (c) The highest "Hooper" rating of any newscaster in Philadelphia. This was in 1944. Bernie will apply these success formulas to WLOS.

Engineering Director Palmer Greer is also a young radio veteran whose technical background is particularly impressive. Palmer directed the construction of the transmitter and studios of WLOS from blueprint to red paint. Palmer's record emphasizes particularly his sixteen years of radio experience, his war work as a Western Electric Section Chief of radar installation, and the two articles on radio that he wrote. The first appeared in the October, 1937, issue of "Commercial Broadcast Engineering" and the second was published a year later in "Broadcast News." Palmer is an associate member of the Institute of Radio Engineering. We join Engineering Director Palmer Greer in welcoming all of Western North Carolina to 5,000 "great, big, beautiful watts."

Mr. and Mrs. John Stepp of Marion visited Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hinkle Sunday. Mrs. Stepp is Mrs. Hinkle's sister.

Baucoms Honored With Special Program

A large crowd of friends and well wishers attended the program held August 8 at the Black Mountain First Baptist church at which the Rev. and Mrs. H. W. Baucum were honored for their service and inspirational leadership to the community. The Rev. Mr. Baucum retired July 1 as local pastor, following several years' service.

After W. I. Willis, chairman of the board of deacons, had extended his welcome, he introduced Roy A. Taylor, state representative, who outlined the work which the Baucoms had accomplished in Black Mountain and he told of 21 religious films which the church has presented to the local school in their honor. These will be used in the Bible training courses.

In the response Mrs. Baucum thanked those present for their courtesy and was enthusiastic in her praise of the gift of films. Speaking briefly, Miss Susan Currell, Bible instructor in the Black Mountain schools, commented on the usefulness of the films as training aids, two of which were shown by C. J. Rich. Singing was led by Dean Willis and two girls from Ridgecrest entertained with songs and music.

In appreciation for their faithful and loyal contribution to the development of the church and community, the board of deacons of the First Baptist church of Black Mountain has issued the following resolutions:

First Baptist church of Black Mountain Resolution:

WHEREAS the Reverend H. W. Baucum has faithfully served this church as Pastor, member and friend for many years prior to his retirement on July 1st, 1947; and

WHEREAS Mrs. Baucum likewise has been inspirational in her leadership and service.

NOW THEREFORE, be it resolved by the Board of Deacons of this church for and on behalf of its members in meeting duly assembled on July 29th, 1947 that we express by appropriate resolution to Mr. and Mrs. Baucum our heartfelt appreciation for their faithful and loyal contribution to the development of this church and community.

W. I. Willis, Chairman, Board of Deacons, First Baptist Church, Black Mountain, N. C.

Legion Nine Wins Seventh Straight Game

With the opening of the second half the Black Mountain American Legion nine has taken on new life and has been setting the county league on fire. The local club has won its last seven strats and is leading the pack.

After tying with Barnardsville Wildcats in a recent contest, the Legion outfit came back to win the play-off 7 to 1 behind the two-hit pitching of Carpenter. Outstanding hitter in this game was June Harris. Jack Milbee started on the mound against Skyland but was relieved by Jean Smith in the fifth who received credit for the 10 to 9 win.

In other games Candler was soundly whipped, 18 to 7, Flat Creek 8 to 1, and Leicester 5 to 3.

Outstanding features of these victories were the pitching of Carpenter who struck out 11 men as he tossed a six-hitter at the Candler boys, and his two hit performance against Barnardsville.

Norman Harris, hard hitting catcher, has showed up well behind the plate while the infield composed of Marrett, Stephenson, Rudisell, and Gene Smith has come through with fine support in the pinches. Gene Smith, Harry Gray, and Luke Medford in the outfield form a trio that lets but few hits fall safely in the outer garden.
