Reflections

By JACK GREENWOOD

In the story of the Chamber of Commerce election last week, the name of M. E. Rondel was unintentionally omitted. Mr. Rondel was elected first vice-president. He and his wife are now on vacation in Miami.

When Irvin Willis, forward on last year's great Black Mountain team, entered the game for Gardner Webb college recently, he had plenty of supporters. Looking on were Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Willis, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Willis, Miss Susie Ensley, and Miss Weeta Simmons. Scott Uzzell is also a student at the college.

My friend, Martin Nesbitt, principal at the Oakley School, knows his basketball. Last week he picked the Swannanoa Warriors as one of the strongest clubs in the country. Just to show that Nesbitt knew the situation, the Warriors stepped out and handed the Oaks a twin trimming, and that's something that hasn't happened in many a moon, at least not often.

"Butchie" Brownback had one aim when he came to Black Mountain—he wanted to see a real, live honest-to-goodness Indian. As Oscar Tinney was the first person he saw, it was his lot to pinch hit for a Cherokee. "Are you an Indian," Butchie asked. "Why sure, I'm an Indian." Oscar came back. "Well, if you are an Indian, why haven't you ever been scalped and if you have been scalped, what are you doing with that hair?" Butchie wanted to know.

Sarge Brantley said that one of his friends went to town recently and purchased a new set of teeth. When he suddenly blossomed out as a talkative cuss, whereas before he had been meek and quiet as a lamb, Sarge and some of the boys investigated. To their horror—and surprise—they found that the gentleman in question had been given a set of women's teeth. (Editor's note—Those are Brantley's words. We have witnessed).

The local residents are taking advantage of the fine lectures being delivered each Wednesday evening at the Monte Vista by Dr. Herbert Miller. When he spoke on Russia last week a large, appreciative crowd was in attendance.

A noted lecturer, author, teacher, and world-wide traveler, Dr. Miller is well qualified to discuss the various countries of the world. It will be well worth your while to attend. Starting time is 8 p.m. and the admission is free.

The games Friday were two of the roughest seen here this year. The referees did not let the game come close to getting out of hand.

Adopt Palestine Partition Plan

NEW YORK—The Delegates who supported the adoption of the Palestine Partition Plan are shown as they gathered around and congratulated each other after the United Nations General Assembly approved the establishment of Independent Arab and Jewish States in the Holy Land by a two-thirds vote at the history-making session at Flushing Meadows. In the group, at upper right, Dr. Oswaldo Aranha, President of General Assembly, is greeted by Sir Alexander Cadogan, of Great Britain, who expressed hope that the British will be soon relieved of their responsibilities in the troubled Holy Land.

We Want Work; Sceptical? Then Call These Girls

The W. W. W. club of the eighth grade would like to have work in the afternoon in the evenings, and on Saturdays. We will tackle anything but the jobs we are most capable of doing are shoveling snow, chopping wood or kindling, cleaning house, babysitting and washing dishes. We are available for babysitting on Sunday. The following are available for work:

Peggy Gibbs, Connie Dougherty, Margaret Harrison, Carolyn Dinurddie, Rita Gasperson, Gary Lee Biddix, Doris Higginbotham, Barbara Allred, Phyllis Cordell, Bobby Allison.

We are hoping to take an educational trip to Washington when school closes if we can raise the money.

Youth Fellowship Wins Banner

The Youth Fellowship attended the Asheville sub-district meeting at the Biltmore Methodist church Monday evening at 8 o'clock. The local delegation won the banner for having the largest number in attendance. This was the first meeting of the group since it joined the sub district conference last month. The leaders and members plan to keep the attendance banner.

Those attending included Wilma Justus, Pat McDougale, Jody Atkins, Bub Gaskins, Thelma Brooks, Joyce Gniw, E. Jackson, Edwin Smith, Arietta Burnette, George Godfrey, Norma Justus, Frank Melton, Garland Bryson, David Longcoy, Mark Shuford, Alvis Osteen, Paul Shinton, Jackie Atkins, The Rev. and Mrs. Thad McDonald, and Mrs. Douglas Jones, Counselor for the group.

Jaycees Seek Revenge In Lions Grudge Battle

Jaycees, your chance for revenge is at hand.

After suffering a humiliating defeat at the hands of the Black Mountain Lions in softball late last summer, the Junior Chamber of Commerce members have been itching for revenge. They'll get their opportunity next Monday night when they come to grips with the Lions on the basketball floor at the high school gym. Joe Mackney, in charge of details for the affair issued a statement this morning in which he declared that nothing will be barred but the strangle hold and gouging. "This is necessary," Mackney explained, "in order that the match may not terminate too quickly." He didn't make clear just whom he expected to win—if the officials agreed to suspend the rules for the evening and allow—anything.

After Lion President Ronald Finch has rolled out the first ball, the plans call for District Governor Herbert W. Sanders to be rolled around the court in a wheel chair—in case he doesn't feel he can walk that great a distance on his own. Lions Bill White, Roy Taylor, T. Greene, and Charlie Spencer will be present to give the Governor their moral support. J. O. Williams has agreed to pass the hat and will no doubt be aided by Frank Buckner, Will Holman, and Roy Alexander. Head Tail Twister Will Holman held a meeting of all assistants early this week and issued orders that any Lion found cheering for the Jaycees was to be fined for the maximum right on the spot—in cash.

For the Jaycees Walter Styles president, has been driving his men hard this week and reported shortly before press time that they were cocked and primed for the court battle of the century. "You can

The basic aim of education should include moral and spiritual training as well as book knowledge. Dr. Arthur Bannerman of Warren Wilson college told members of the Black Mountain P.-T. A. at their regular meeting last Thursday. Mrs. A. F. Tyson, Jr., president, presided. Miss Susan Currell led the devotions.

Those present were informed that the school dentist, Dr. Dudley, has completed his examination of the children's teeth and has made his recommendation. The P.-T.A. urges all parents whose children need dental work to have it done immediately.

Silk Shop Now Open For Business

The Louise Ellis shop, located in the Key City Cab building just above the bus station on Cherry, is now open for business. Business hours are from 8:30 to 6:00.

Owned by Mrs. Louise Ellis, the new store is managed by Miss Virginia Morrison, who was formerly of the promotion department of Montreat college. Featured will be silks, satins, cotton materials, drapery material, suiting, thread, buttons, and novelties. The public is cordially invited to visit the new store.

Arts Club Group To Hear Decorator

An interesting meeting has been planned for February 5 at Assembly Inn at 8 p. m. The Interior Decorating and Needlework group of the Arts club will sponsor a talk and demonstration on interior decorating by Mrs. Wiggins, interior decorator of Bon Marche department store, and her assistant. She will suggest
