spoiled the occasion by not showing up at all.

Tuesday the mailman dropped off a letter from Elizabeth Parker who said in part: "Please notify me at your earliest convenience whether or not Lula Lindsey has entered suit. If she hasn't, I'll do it myself. Yours for a hot lawsuit," Elizabeth Parker.

There is just one catch to the whole thing. We remember distinctly putting on our clean shirt, standing on the platform, and receiving our diploma at Biltmore along with Lou and Elizabeth. So if no one else sues us, we'll do it ourselves. Anyway, who would have thought that there was so much difference between one date and another.

When Jon Danenhower and Bob Rondel went to Bat Cave last week on a fishing trip, they had visions of the tasty meal which they would enjoy at noon. But when lunch time came—there was no meal. After all the time which Mrs. Harrie Danenhower spent in preparing the lunches, the boys and their chaperon, M. E. Rondel, walked off and left the packages sitting on the bedroom floor.

Cold trout make a poor meal, they decided.

While Sam Weatherly was driving along highway 70 the other night he ran over and killed a large muskrat. The skin is being prepared to make a pair of baby shoes.

Dr. Brake, the old sportsman, who had a way of drumming up more cage games for the Legion team than all the other boys together, is at it again but this time it's business not ball games. His new baby, only 2½ months old, has a tooth. Rumors say that Dr. intends to ask Roy Taylor to introduce a bill requiring that all children more than two months old have a set of teeth, either real or false.

Jack Milbee, Black Mountain boy, who is strutting his stuff with the Hendersonville entry in the Western North Carolina Class D league, did well against his old teammates from Biltmore college recently until Paul Harris, Ridgecrest man-about-town, came to bat. Harris, who is being counted on to fill an outfield post on the Black Mountain Merchants' nine once school closes, picked out one of Jacks' slants and blasted it out of the lot for a homer.

Jack was scheduled for only three innings but stayed in for six.

James Barnwell, serving his first year as head coach at Oakley high school, saw his cagers

The qualification for this honor is demonstration of superior or above average in one or more of the following fields of endeavor: scholarship, athletics, publications, (school newspapers, annuals, etc.), speech or the dramatic arts (debates, school plays, etc.), music or creative writing, leadership and service in school, church, or community activities, membership and offices held in school, school clubs, church and community organizations, useful and successful hobbies.

win 13 and lose two for the season. When the call is issued next season gone will be Todd, all-county forward, Calloway, Dillingham, and Ownby. He expects his girls to be better in '49 than they were this past season.

Right now Barnwell and his Oakley boys are engaged in base ball but later in the season the Black Mountain graduate hopes to have a field and track day for county schools.

league this summer, with Eugene Byrd as president. The next major project will be the installation of bleachers at the athletic field.

A nominating committee, headed by Al Garland, is busy studying the roster and will make recommendation for officers at the next regular meeting.

Walter H. Styles has served as president for the past year.

Hall Furniture And Home NOT For Sale

Clyde Hall, Key City Laundry employee, wishes it clearly understood that he has no furniture to sell, is not interested in selling his house, and is not leaving Black Mountain. And Mr. Hall is emphatic.

It all came about when Mrs. Paul Moore, who has her furniture stored at the Hall home on Montreat road, ran a classified ad in the NEWS and gave the Hall residence as her address. Then the trouble started. Besides being bombarded with questions regarding the furniture, some folks went further and began casting wistful glances toward the Hall abode.

But when employer Wade Rowland heard that Clyde was "selling out" that was too much.

"For Goodness sake! tell them that I have nothing to sell," Mr. Hall pleaded. "I AM NOT selling my furniture, AM NOT interested in selling my house, and AM NOT leaving Black Mountain."

And there you have it. If you value your life, don't proposition Mr. Hall to buy his house or furniture because he IS NOT interested in selling.
