VOLUNTEER RED CROSS WORKERS HONORED AT TEA

The pool in the garden of the recreation building at VA hospital was the setting for a lovely tea given by Special Services, patients, and members of the staff of the hospital Friday afternoon for the thirtieth year of service of the volunteer workers in honor of that organization. Decorations, prizes, and individual gifts for the group were made by the patients, who were assisted in the planning by Wallace F. Snow, chairman of Special Services, H. G. McFadden, assistant to Mr. G. Snow, and Mr. and Mrs. Ivar Richards, assistant executive officer of the Swannanoa division of the Oteen hospital.

In the corner of the pool a beautiful floral arrangement of rhododendron, peonies, azaleas, and lemon lilies formed an outer semi-circle, inside of which were white daisies surrounding the figure 30 fashioned of red roses and signifying the thirtieth anniversary of the volunteer workers. Red roses also encircled the fountain. Other decorations consisted of a huge bouquet of red roses on the table, and white bunting on which was stenciled "30th Anniversary." Gifts of one-half dozen cocktail napkins made by the patients were given to each of the workers, and prizes of a large red and white doll and a hand-painted picture were drawn by Mrs. Fred Dawson, and Mrs. Frank Buckner.

T. L. Immen, a patient, spoke of the patients' appreciation for the work of the volunteer workers and introduced Mr. Snow and Gen. John B. Wogan, manager of VA hospital, both of whom gave words of appreciation for the organization. Vocal solos by W. D. Braswell and R. K. Zimmerman, accompanied by V. R. McGowan, were enjoyed by all.

Patients who helped to plan and execute the affair were: Margaret Griffin, Sally Kulos, Margaret Rucker, Virginia Fox, Wilhelma Holt, Dorothy Cary, Ruby Lipscomb, Georgeen DeChow, Alva Wallis, Elizabeth Smith, and Mary Urbanek.

Volunteer workers present were Mrs. A. B. Whitt, chairman of the production volunteers group, Mrs. E. V. Gouge, Mrs. H. W. Baucom, Mrs. Shumate, Mrs. H. A. Kerlee, Mrs. Frank Buckner, Miss Lily Woods, Mrs. Kenneth Brown, Miss Beryl Fraser, Mrs. Olive Coleman, Mrs. Fred Dawson, Miss Laura Fleming, Mrs. Fred Perley, Mrs. L. C. Jumper, Mrs. Tippi Galumbeck, Mrs. Phil Zagier, Mrs. Hugh Huggin, and Mrs. Charles Roth.

Bergthold; and recording secretary, Miss Myrtle Johnson.

Miss Ruby Hall read a paper prepared by Mrs. Sharp on "Edible Wild Plants."

Guests enjoyed a covered dish supper, the landscaping and mountain views, and the cozy atmosphere created by the large out-of-doors fireplace where they gathered in front of a huge log fire.

MRS. WHITT HOSTESS TO VOLUNTEER WORKERS

Mrs. A. B. Whitt was hostess at an all-day sewing for the Black Mountain-Swannanoa chapter of Red Cross. The following women helped to make a layette: Mrs. Irene Patton, Mrs. Connie Patton, Mrs. W. B. Stone, and the hostess.

High School News

The Seniors had a hilarious time on the annual Senior picnic last week. Starting early Tuesday morning, accompanied by Mrs. McCoy and the Rev. and Mrs. McDonald, they went to Carolina Hemlocks for the day. It was a joyous outing for everyone because they swam, took pictures, and enjoyed a delicious picnic lunch.

Petra Brown, Larry Glenn, Joyce Gouge, Celeste Sabiston, and Dick Morrow had the round table discussion on "Youth Conservation" last Wednesday afternoon at the Woman's Club which met at the club house. The topic for the month was Youth Conservation.

Miss Hoyt and one of the students from Montreat college came to the school last week and talked to the juniors and seniors about Montreat college, their work and activities.

A representative from Enka came to talk to the seniors last week to see if they were interested in working at Enka after graduation. He showed some of the rayon and explained how rayon is made.

W. N. Carolina Loses $3,141.32

"Loss of benefits on account of delayed filing is a serious problem at this time," declared D. W. Lambert, manager of the Asheville Social Security Office, in a statement made for publication today.

Recently a widow in Western North Carolina found that she had lost a total of $3,141.32 in social security benefits for herself and two children, simply because she neglected to file a claim. She could have become entitled to benefits in July, 1943, when her husband died in the State of Washington, merely by filing an application. Unfortunately, the claim was not filed until February, 1948, with a resultant loss for the intervening months.

Explaining that benefit payments cannot be considered until an application is on file, Mr. Lambert emphasized a national need for understanding the program of insurance protection. "We have a slogan indicating there are 'Two Times for Action,'" he continued: "One is when the worker reaches age 65; the other, when a worker dies." In either event, the Social Security office should be contacted as soon as possible.
