Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

Attention Carl S. Geary:
Sir, we do argue but have you seen many ball games in which there were no arguments? If so, the umpires were paid well and the players were not too interested in the outcome of the game. Our umpires are unpaid, consequently, decisions are made which the players (and fans) can not agree with. It is only human nature for us to argue. We're buddies after the game, regardless of how fierce we may appear during it. Whatever led you to make the statement that we are not good sports was probably our competitive spirit. Webster will enlighten you concerning "sportsmanship" and "competition." Your wires are crossed, Sir. No players have been spiked or run down.

I am a newcomer to Black Mountain, not a summer tourist, and find the people to be most hospitable, friendly and definitely good sports. If they weren't, competition among the various organizations and churches would not be so keen. This, I believe, is admirable for a town the size of Black Mountain. Therefore, please don't try to destroy what makes it the town it is. You can not condemn the entire population of a town for the dastardly act of one individual!! If so, no town would be "clean." Come see our games, or stay away—but first, I ask again, refer to Webster then note our real sporting attitude, not our arguments.

Gilbert E. Hoschar,

Friendship Shows Class In Taking First Half Title

A smooth working team from F. C. won the first half championship when they beat back the challenge of the Methodists with a 14-6 victory. Friendship opened up with a seven run blast off Whitaker in the first inning and were never headed. Myers with a three for three for the evening at bat led the F. C. hitters. Whitaker fared better as a hitter than pitcher getting three for four with a triple and double.
