

FACTS NOT FICTION

BY H. L. FRACHISEUR

W. H. ANDERSON, PRES.-TREAS., ASHEVILLE CONTRACTING CO. INC.

W. H. Anderson, president and treasurer of the Asheville Contracting company, Inc., general contractors, located London Road, Biltmore, is one of Greater Asheville's most outstanding and leading citizens.

Mr. Anderson's success in the general contracting business is due to his own personality, which appeals to one not only for what it appears to be but for what it is, unlike most men he does not play a part, he is himself.

He has advanced to the front in the business world because he is always looking ahead; to him an opportunity is a responsibility. He is led by logic and not by emotion, by fidelity and not by ambition. He supplements leadership with cooperation and sets his compass not for today only but also for tomorrow and for a course beyond the horizon.

As a citizen, Greater Asheville has every reason to be proud of W. H. Anderson for he is always ready and willing to give valuable suggestions that will benefit the people as a whole. Indeed he can be counted upon to give his full support to any project that will be of a benefit to not only Greater Asheville but also to our great state and its people. Mr. Anderson has a wide circle of friends in this area and takes an active part in making North Carolina a better place in which to live and work. All the citizens are greatly benefited by his many kindly acts, we congratulate him upon his success and prophesy continuance of his success in the future years.

JOHN NEAMAND, MGR. ROCK BIT SALES & SERVICE CO.

As a citizen of Greater Asheville, John Neamand, manager of the Rock Bit Sales and Service company, manufactures of Hollow Drill Steel for detachable bits, moil points and chisels, all types of electric welding, 350 Depot St., has an abiding interest in the welfare of his city and its people. We observe with admiration his success in business and civic affairs. He is a leader that men and women point with pride to his enviable record of full cooperation in the movements that are of a benefit to his city and fellowman.

Mr. Neamand manifests his wholehearted support in his city. It is easily and readily recognized, that no business has made a more profound and valuable contribution to the improvement of Asheville than the Rock Bit Sales and Service company.

We attribute Mr. Neamand's record of achievements to his foresight and ability, and also to the all important fact that his organization is placing primacy on the human values of their employees to the extent of producing a better way of life for many. He is not only a successful business leader, but he is helping build a finer citizenship for his city and state.

Mr. Neamand is a very loyal friend and a most upright and useful citizen, efficient, untrifling and kindly in all of his dealings with the public. One of his outstanding traits is that of rare quality of always being pleasant and greeting his fellows with a smile. We sincerely wish for him every success in the years to come.

L. ALLEN KOONTZ, PRES., ASHEVILLE TYPEWRITER CO., INC.

L. Allen Koontz, president of the Asheville Typewriter company Inc., authorized Remington Rand Agency, typewriters, adding and calculation machines, sales and service, 24 Wall Street, is an enthusiastic and patriotic citizen. He is deeply interested in all municipal affairs and is always to be depended upon for full cooperation in any movement looking to the betterment of conditions in Greater Asheville and our state.

Indeed Mr. Koontz is interested in the betterment of civilization in general, he is a lover of progress and prosperity. His interest in living conditions finds fulfillment in his helping others, and he is ever ready to extend a helping hand to his fellow citizens.

Fearless but fair in all of his dealings, ever tolerant or human traits and the shortcomings of those less fortunate than himself, Mr. Koontz has built a reputation that has endeared him to everyone with whom he comes in contact. Ever ready to contribute his share to any forward and progressive movement for the betterment of the people, this loyal citizen is worthy of the admiration and respect of all the citizens.

In the administration of any of the multifarious duties of his business, Mr. Koontz brings the whole force of his mind to bear upon the matter at hand. The consequence is that whatever he undertakes to do is sure to be well done. It has been such men as Allen Koontz that have helped make Asheville what it is today, one of the most outstanding cities and we do wish for him a full measure of success in the years ahead.

JACOB F. WEAVER, JR. MOUNTAIN CITY LAUNDRY

Jacob F. Weaver, Jr., general manager of the Mountain City Laundry, one of Asheville's oldest and complete laundry service, located 207 Coxe Ave., phone 5301, is not only one of the leading business executives but also a great civic worker and business man who has devoted much of his time to the welfare of the people, he is indeed an outstanding citizen.

Entering the laundry business several years ago, Jacob F. Weaver, Jr., has devoted much of his time to hard work in this field and he is one of the most widely known figures in the business and has won the esteem and respect of his many friends and acquaintances for his honest advice in business affairs and for his willingness at all times to cooperate in any activity which is a benefit to his city and his state as a whole.

Although Mr. Weaver has always given the closest attention to his business responsibilities, he has had time for other interests, both civic and social, and through these he has broadened the scope of his influence in the life of his city and trade area. Along with his strictly business activity, Mr. Weaver has shown himself to be actively interested in the welfare of all the people.

In this review of the prominent leaders, we are more than glad to compliment Jacob F. Weaver, Jr., upon his success in the business world and Asheville has every reason to feel justly proud of this gentleman. We do indeed wish him every success in the future years.

R. G. "DICK" MOONEY, OUTSTANDING BUSINESS LEADER

It can be said without contradiction that the growth and success of any business can be traced directly to the ability and skill of its executives. R. G. Mooney, "Dick," as he is affectionately called, by his friends, is one of Asheville's outstanding and leading business executives.

Mr. Mooney is owner of three popular eating places, The Canteen, 2 Coxe Ave., Dix Grill, 47 Biltmore Ave., and Dixie Lunch, 13 Rankin Ave., and at these leading concerns you will always find the finest of food and service that you will not forget. Western steaks, grilled chops, chicken, oysters and hot biscuits for breakfast also wine and ice cold beer.

Mr. Mooney is recognized as a man of ability and sound judgment and is respected for his high ethical standards. The managing of his business, handling the many foods requires a high degree of intelligence and executive ability and Mr. Mooney possesses these qualities in a high degree.

One of Mr. Mooney's prominent traits—a jewel in any man's character—is his loyalty to his business and his devotion to the interest and happiness of his many customers and friends. He discharges the functions of his business with much ability and scrupulous fidelity and zeal. Even the most discriminating person is satisfied with the food and service received at Mr. Mooney's concerns. We congratulate "Dick" Mooney upon his success and wish him continued success.
