Mrs. Pakh Gives Report On Korea

Mrs. Induk Pakh, native Korean lecturer, spoke at the Black Mountain Methodist church at the Sunday morning service on "What It Means to Me to Be a Christian" and in the evening under the auspices of the United Council of Church Women, on "Economic and Political Conditions of Korea." Mrs. Pakh's charming personality and her brilliance as a speaker won her over completely to the congregations. She is proud to be a Christian.

When Induk Pakh was a little girl her mother heard about God and became a Christian. Girls didn't have schooling at that time so Induk dressed as a boy and went to the boy's school. She was not "stupid with less brains than boy as Koreans believe of girls" so learned quickly. Her higher education was received at Ewha First Methodist missionary school and college for girls in Korea, and in the United States.

Korea now needs, she believes, more young girls educated. The communists in the north of Korea need not be feared if the people in south Korea can hold on to their democracy and they are trying hard to do this now. At the recent election 95 per cent of the Koreans voted, 50 per cent being women.

Mrs. Pakh was entertained in Black Mountain by Mrs. C. E. Keith, Dr. and Mrs. H. A. Miller, Miss Margaret Hay, Mrs. George Stone, and Mrs. S. S. Cooley.

Parking Meters Are Out; Save Your Nickels

It has been called to the attention of the NEWS that visitors are still using the parking meters, which were voted out by the city council at a recent meeting. Although it may be some time before they are actually removed, the meters will be taken out by the company that installed them.

There is no need now for anyone to use the meters. The money deposited must all be turned over to the meter company. Save your nickels.

Lucille DuBose Is Montreat Dean

Dr. J. Rupert McGregor, president of Montreat college, announced two appointments to the faculty of the college today. Miss Lucille DuBose, sister of Dr. Henry Wad DuBose, president of the Assembly's Training School, Richmond, Va., will become dean of women when the college opens this fall. At the same time, Miss Carolyn Fields, Lamar, S. C., will become head librarian.

Miss DuBose served the Church several years as director of missionary education on the staff of the Assembly's Executive Committee of Foreign Missions, and during that period she spent eight months in Africa visiting the mission station of the Church. She received her BA degree from Ky., and has done graduate work at Biblical Seminary, New York, and at Columbia University, and at Hartford Foundation, Hartford, Conn., where her work was in sociology and Bible, and where she specialized in Family Relations, writing a thesis on "Strengthening Family Ties."

Ridgecrest Staff Has Christmas

In accord with the Ridgecrest tradition, the staff members observed their annual Christmas in July on Sunday, July 25. Following the evening services, a pageant "Christmas Blessings" was given, emphasizing pictures, words, and music. Miss Emily Kunkel, director of staff dramatics, and Miss Maxie Cleere, director of staff choral music, directed the pageant presentation.

The Christmas party was held Saturday evening with Santa Claus presenting gifts to the staffers. By observing Christmas in July, the staff members celebrated one of the most important dates in Christendom.

All-Stars Lose One-Hit Game

The Black Mountain All-Stars lost a 1-0 heart-breaker to the Enka nine of the City softball league last week in a game played on the Moore diamond. There was only one hit in the entire game.

Hurling for the winners, Nazi Miller did not allow a safety and struck out 21 men in seven innings. Everette Stephenson, who tossed Friendship to a first half title in the Church league, allowed only one hit. Both pitchers were bearing down and had the batters swinging like a rusty barn door all evening.

China Will Remain Free: Dr. Chen

The Chinese government is determined that the country will remain free of the communists and their agents, Dr. Chen Chih-mai, counsellor of China to the United States, told the Black Mountain Lions and their guests Wednesday night. Dr. Chen, who is the author of several books and articles in Chinese, received his Ph. D. at Columbia. He was made available through the courtesy of International Counsellor Hugh G. Mitchell of Statesville.

Dr. Chen, whose brother died in a Japanese prison camp during the war, described the resistance with which the Chinese met the Japs and told of the dire threat of starvation which faced the millions of refugees who swarmed into the cities ahead of the invaders. The diet which the government could provide for these people was enough to maintain life for a person who remained absolutely quiet and in bed but not enough for an active person. Three years after the close of hostilities there are still more than 40,000,000 refugees in China.

Although the communists and their agents are always a threat to the country, the government is determined that the nation shall remain free, the speaker declared.

In addition to Hugh Mitchell and other members of the Statesville Lions club, Dr. Chen was accompanied by his wife, whom he met as a refugee during the war, and his two children who were born in Chungking. The oldest child was flown out of China via the Hump when the Japs threatened central China.

Arts Club Will Hear Miss Perley

The annual meeting of the Black Mountain Arts club will be held at Hilltop, home of Dr. and Mrs. F. H. Richardson, on Wednesday, August 4 at 3:30 p. m. Those attending should use the first road going up.

The program will consist of selections by Miss Marian Perley, harpist, and something from each activity group of the club.

VISIT BUCKNERS

Mr. and Mrs. Shelley B. Caveness of Greensboro, N. C., spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Buckner. Mrs. Caveness and Mrs. Buckner are sisters.

Watch For The Tithing Sign On Montreat Road

"The Tithing Peaches" project has been adopted by the congregation of the Friendship Presbyterian church as a means of raising money to make necessary repairs to the church and to install a bathroom.

By this method a bushel of peaches is donated each week and folks are asked to take what peaches they want and to pay for them any amount they wish. Adrian Hardwick donated the first bushel which brought in $15.53 during the first day. The contents of the box will be counted each Saturday morning at 9 o'clock and the amount reported to the Black Mountain NEWS as long as the project lasts.

The peaches are on sale at the Whitaker and Jones Fruit stand on Montreat road. The officials ask the cooperation of all concerned in making the project a success.

Old Fort Bans Youth Meetings

At a special meeting called by the local town board on Thursday an ordinance prohibiting children under 15 from congregating on the streets of Old Fort, attending any place of amusement, church, or any other public or private place where people congregate, including playgrounds, baseball games and picture shows, was passed.

As a precaution against polio, cooperate limits of Old Fort, including immediate environs, were sprayed on Thursday evening with DDT and an anti-polio solution by a corps of workers supplied by the Old Fort Rotary club with the assistance of all business men of the town. As further protection, garbage will be collected twice weekly, and containers sprayed, according to a statement from Mayor Ashby Robinson.

NOTICE! SHOOTING ILLEGAL

Shooting of guns within the city limits is prohibited by law and offenders will be punished, according to a statement issued by the city clerk's office. This applies to airrifles and 22s as well as any other type of gun.
