Mr. Roy Taylor Legislature of North Carolina Raleigh, N. C.

My dear Senator Taylor:

The Asheville Citizen today prints a headline "Work on Col-iseum May Have Gone Too Far to be Halted" and in the article following discusses the project for an expenditure of $1,350,000.00 for an "ultra modern" stock judging coliseum at the State Fair Grounds. This announcement comes on the very heels of another head-line of a few days ago that state funds for the food in all state mental hospitals (and possibly others) are to be cut—and this in spite of the rising cost of food and over the protests of those who seek to operate these institut-

I do not have the details of either matter at my command. But it would take a terrific amount of facts or arguments or what have you to square the matter with decency or ethics or Christian "charity" that food for our mentally sick should be curtailed because of the budget demands, and a show-place for our animals be built instead. I cannot see any way to gloss over the inhumanity and paganism of such a deal. I wish to enter my protest as a taxpayer, to say nothing of doing it as a citizen and a Christian! I most earnestly urge you to

Nothing Better Than Good Food, Says Ohio Man

If a man isn't able to eat the foods he likes he's in mighty sorry shape—imagine going through life without being able to enjoy a fine big platter of bacon and eggs. That is the way Joseph N. Damillot, 3414 E.

5th Street, Day-ton, Ohio, used to be, but since he has been taking HADA-COL, he says he feels just fine and is able to enjoy lots and lots of fine foods. Mr. Da-millot found that taking HADACOL helped his system overcome a deficiency of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron.

Here is Mr. Damillot's state-ment: "My first bottle of HAD-AÇOL convinced me that HAD-ACOL was what I needed for the gas on my stomach at nights. I could not keep food on my stomcould not keep food on my stomache, but after the first bottle I was going great. Now I eat bacon and eggs, and other foods that never would stay with me. I also can sleep well at nights. Thanks to HADACOL. I will never be without it, and can recommend it to all who suffer with the above ailments that I with the above ailments that I had. I know because I have suffered for quite some time." @ 1950, The LeBlanc Corporation

From Page 1 Raleigh, the educational blasts are conspicuous by their absence. On Thursday morning of this week a public hearing will be held on a measure to payA-certificate teachers from $2400 to 5400. This is considerably higher than even the N. C. Education association has requested. The bill also provides that teachers cannot be dismissed without cause and gives them the right for a public hear-ing in the event of dismissal. It would also pay teachers on a 12-months basis instead of the present nine. Teachers would be glad to settle for $2200 (first year) to $3100 (maximum).

The pressure is beginning. Getting The Money — As the legislature completes its first month—and what many say is one-third of its time in Raleigh signs point to a re-examination of the $146,000,000 which taxes are expected to bring into the general fund next year. Times are better new than they were expected to be when the estimate was set last fall. The federal government plans to collect and spend more money than had been anticipated. January, which ordinarily is one of our poorest business months, is standing up well in most sections of the state.

The sale of liquor, always a good barometer, in North Carolina's ABC stores during December brought in nearly a half-million dollars mere than in December of 1949. Soldiers and marines, with money to throw away on week ends, are flooding into North Carolina from throughout the land.

So, in figuring where the state is going to get additional money to meet requests with merit, take another look at the $146,000,000. Don't be surprised if, in view of the business trend, the estimate of income is pushed up to $150,-000,000 or better. This will not happen within the next week or two probably, but it's coming.

protest against such action and to see that nothing of such second-ary or tertiary value be put in the state budget, if it means cutting down the funds or curtailing in any way funds for hospitals, and all institutions wherein the state of North Carolina has sick and unfortunate citizens, black or white, for whose care the state is responsible.

scene so dramatically set forth in Matthew come to my mind: "I was hungry—I was in prison—I was sick—and ye ministered unto me." Will we choose the leave value of caring for our live stock above that of human beings? I ask you - and the rest of the legislature that.

Very truly yours Edwin Michael Hoffman

NEWS FROM BROAD RIVER CHURCH

Communion service was observed at Broad River church at 11:30 a. m. Sunday. It will be observed the first Sunday morning in each quarter hereafter. Several members took part. The pastor spoke from the subject, "The Fruit of The Spirit" from the Bible text Gal. 6. The Rev. Dotson repeats as he said in his message, that he believes that the greatest need believes that the greatest need in our churches today is full con-secration and unity. So long as people cannot work together be-the question is asked in Amos 3: 3, "Can two walk together ex-cept they be agreed?" He feels that the people of Broad River church are in harmony, and the people have a mind to work. Even though some families of that community have so far failed to respond or offer any sign of inter-est in their church and its activities, there is a group who is interested and who, through all the difficulties back of this, have never proven unfaithful and who now have begun to see the fruits of their level. of their labors. It is in such homes as these men and women represent that church leaders of to-morrow are being reared and not in the homes that stay behind in God's work. The Rev. Doston states that this reminds him of when God told Gideon to take his chosen 300 out of the 32,000 to win the battle and he believes that we do have more than 1 per cent that will brave the battle and

The Sunday school attendance has been down due to the epidemic in and around Black Mountain and Broad River sections. It is hoped that it will soon start building back.

The Rev. and Mrs. Dotson wish to express their appreciation to Brother and Sister Luther Ledbetter for the delicious lunch last Sunday, and to all the others who have prepared meals for them because they see differently on their doctrines and beliefs, little can be expected of them because as Meets At "Overlook" Meets At "Overlook"
