GIVE TO CONQUER CANCER

Tens of thousands of families face cancer each year and triumph over it. This heart-warming fact is too seldom reported because a tragedy averted is not news. We rarely hear of the victories over this disease.

What most of know about cancer has been learned from advance cases where the disease reaches beyond the patient to his family and to his community. Months of care and treatment, heavy expenses, the pain and need may create cruel problems. The patient and all those near him share a terrible burden.

It is reassuring to us to know that we are not helpless against cancer, and that we need not feel hopeless and our wills need not be paralyzed when we face this picture. Medical men and scientists are working around the clock in an effort to find a cure for this disease.

You can help fight cancer by giving freely to the campaign which is now underway in this community. Sponsored annually by the Black Mountain Woman's Club, the drive will continue through the month of April. The quota for Buncombe county is $8,288.75.

In North Carolina 3,197 people will die this year of cancer. It is believed that one-third of these could be saved by early diagnosis and treatment. Your dollars, many dollars are needed. Give to conquer cancer.

Obituaries

MRS. JESSIE MARETT

Funeral services for Mrs. Jessie S. Marett, 56, a native of Clemson, S. C., who died Friday night at her home here after a long illness, were held Sunday at 3 p. m. in Black Mountain First Baptist church.

The Rev. Eugene Byrd, the Rev. J. N. Binford, the Rev. Thad McDonald, and the Rev. W. W. Preston officiated and burial was in Mountain View Memorial Park.

Active pallbearers were H. O. Bodiford Jr., J. P. Shelton Jr., C. L. Medford, Edward Reed, J. W. McAfee, and Bert Simpson.

Honorary pallbearers were members of the Order of the Eastern Star and members of the Black Mountain Masonic Lodge. The OES was in charge of the grave-side rites.

Harrison Funeral Home was in charge.

Mrs. Marett, a resident here 18 years, was a charter member and a former officer of Black Mountain Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star.

Surviving are the husband; three sons, Varden, Lee and Benjamin Marett of Black Mountain; three daughters, Mrs. G. L. Wheeler of Terre Haute, Ind., Mrs. E. G. Meisner of Pontiac, Mich., and Miss Betty Jean Marett of Black Mountain; two brothers, F. L. Shelton of Anderson, S. C., and P. H. Shelton of Clemson, S. C.; three sisters, Mrs. H. O. Bodiford of Clemson, Mrs. Ed Cohen of Rome, Ga., and Mrs. R. R. Bryant of Florence, S. C., and nine grandchildren.

Resolutions of Respect:

We the members of Black Mountain Chapter No. 200 O. E. S. do reverently and sadly record the name of Sister Jessie S. Marett with the others of our number who have passed on to the Grand Chapter above. She was a beloved friend and sister, loved and respected alike by all for her brave, beautiful spirit; strength of character; and infinite goodness.

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved:

1. That while we bow in humble submission to the will of our Heavenly Father, we pause to consider the extent of our loss.
2. That we extend to the family of our deceased Sister our deep sympathy and commend them to the Almighty Father for comfort and guidance along life's journey.

3. That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family; a copy recorded in our records, a copy sent to the Black Mountain News and a copy sent to the Tar Heel Star News.

DOGS QUARANTINED

From Page 1, this Sec. of rabies, the furious and the dumb. Usually in the furious form the dog will become nervous and easily startled by noises. Restlessness is common. Sometimes there is a tendency to hide. In a few days the dog becomes vicious and as a rule will run for miles, biting other dogs, animals or persons in its path. There is a definite mad look in his eyes. Then paralysis sets in, effecting the mouth with drooling, inability to swallow and affecting the hind legs, followed by complete paralysis. In the dumb form of rabies one or all of the early symptoms of furious rabies are noticeable but usually paralysis of the lower jaw and tongue are most prominent and first noticed. The lower jaw hangs down and the tongue out. Mr. Parris also cautioned against the handling of strange animals.

The May Faircloth-Dixon Humane Society is assisting the board of health in getting out the quarantine notices and information to the public. Mr. F. W. Dixon, president, said today that the Society will be glad to help in any way possible. Dogs should be confined so that they may get exercise, with shelter from the weather and with fresh water, Mr. Dixon stated.

THURSDAY AFTERNOON

The elementary P.T.A. will meet Thursday afternoon, April 19, at 3:15 o'clock in the school auditorium.
