

RIDGECREST ... ramblings

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Moore recently were Mrs. Moore's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Brown and daughters, Martha and Mary of Inman, S. C. Kathryn Copeland and Claire Deas of the faculty of Anderson College, Anderson, S. C., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Threll over the week end. Sarah Black, Thomasville, student at Mars Hill college, visited her sister, Mrs. Leonard Biddix, Monday. Cecil M. Perry returned Monday after spending a few days in an Asheville hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ward, Nashville, Tenn., spent a few hours with Dr. and Mrs. High C Moore Monday afternoon as they returned from Globe where they had attended the funeral services of a relative. Mr. Ward is with the department of the Baptist Sunday School board. Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Perkins, Bob Cole and her children, Edwin, Edward and Eleanor Virginia, left Monday for Keesler, Miss., for a visit with Lt. N. L. Perkins Jr., who is in the U. S. air force radar department. Mrs. Bob Cole, Baton Rouge, La., and children left Monday for her home after a visit of about a month with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Perkins at their cottage "Dream's End." Mrs. Sam C. Gill is in Donaldsonville, Tenn., visiting her brother and wife, the Rev. and Mrs. C. D. Pearson. Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Sexton and daughter, Deborah, Asheville, spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. George Allred. Friends here are glad to know that Ted Allred is recovering and expected to leave the hospital at Augusta, Ga., where he has been since he suffered a serious accident several days ago. Guests of the Rev. and Mrs. J. Binford recently were Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Roundtree of Buechel, Ky.

The Rev. Charles Jollay preached at the Craven Street Baptist Church, Asheville, Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Snypes and children, David and Doris, spent Sunday with Mrs. Snype's parents, the Rev. and Mrs. L. J. Rogers, Canton.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jollay Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. P. Fleming of West Asheville. Betty Allison was granted the citizenship award offered to girls in the Black Mountain High School this year. Congratulations to both these young people. This is quite an honor and one that is well bestowed.

Visitors to "Hills of Home," the residence of the Rev. and Mrs. Bert F. Hardin last week were the Rev. and Mrs. John D. McReady and little daughter Mary Eston McReady, Mrs. A. Martin, Mrs. J. P. Digh, Mr. and Mrs. T. Rockett and children, Jimmie and Margaret Ann, Morganton. The intermediate training union enjoyed a treasure hunt and ham-fry Saturday evening with the program ending at Lake Ridgecrest. Participating in the festivities were William Perry, Betty Turner, president of the union, Lavinia Hollifield, Joyce Belcher, Alice Turner, Donald Turner, Helen Turner, Charles Belcher, Margaret Denny, Wilford Johnson, Shirley Denny, Glen Hentschel, Herman Denny, James McMahan, and James Allison.

Our canine population is behaving very well indeed and only a few stray dogs are to be seen in the community from time to time. Several were vaccinated at the clinic held last week. Owners should see to it that all dogs are treated for rabies. Let none neglect this.

Worship services were well attended at the Baptist church here last Sunday evening. The pastor preached a mighty good sermon on "Daniel, as he did aforetime."

Our house is quiet, empty, hollow, a vacuum since our two grandchildren returned with their mother to Durham after a stay of two weeks with us. The father, James P. Morgan, returning from Andrews where he attended a regional training union convention last week end, gathered his family in his car and left Sunday morning carrying Elizabeth, Susan and Maxine with him to their home leaving the grandparents with an aching void in their hearts and a longing to go east, too.

Mrs. Harrison Leaves To Attend Meeting

Mrs. Ann Sharp Harrison, president of the Black Mountain Woman's Club, left Sunday to attend the North Carolina Federation of Women's Clubs in Charlotte this week. She will stop enroute for a visit with Mrs. Frank Wilson of Salisbury, formerly of Montreat. Upon her return she will visit Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Reid of Charlotte and Pineville. Mrs. Reid is the former Miss Nancy Lanier, granddaughter of Sidney Lanier.

Former Black Mountain Pupil Receives Honor

Nancy Ormond, a former pupil in the Black Mountain schools, whose poems have appeared twice in the Poet's Corner of the creative writing group, was one of the 31 winners of awards of the North Carolina high school creative writing contest which the North Carolina Educational Committee has sponsored for three years.

Top ranking stories, poems and essays were entered. The winning entries were chosen from 546 outstanding manuscripts, representing 54 North Carolina high schools. Forty-seven students received honorable mention.

Students in the high schools of Swannanoa Valley should let this be the incentive for them to strive to win not only in the contest sponsored by the creative writing group, but also, in the next composition committee contest of the North Carolina Educational Association.

Congratulations, Nancy. We are proud to know that you were ours. We still "claim you." Best wishes for future "laurels," Mrs. Anna K. Sharp, chairman, committee on creative writing group contest, said today.
