This means that we have gone a long way toward conquering childhood ailments, thus permitting people to get into old age so that the degenerative diseases can have a chance at them. It's like that old song of World War I days: "If the Camels don't get you, the Fatimas must."

Of course, State Health Officer Roy Norton, from whom we got these figures, says the health people and physicians have about stamped out communicable diseases and will now turn to a more detailed study of the degenerative ones. Well, Doc Norton, there's no time to waste getting started on this new project. We are all heading for old age and attendant diseases fast, every day we live. Frankly, we don't see how you can win out, to save your life—or ours either.

Take, for instance, Uncle Arnie Smith's wife. She warned him soon after they were married that he was going to kill himself eating. He didn't say a word except "I believe I'll have another piece of pie."

Well, of course, Uncle Arnie's wife was right, for at the age of 89 he "just laid right down and died."

Hard To Find — In proportion to salary received, the work of an assistant attorney general here in Raleigh is about the most difficult going. It is no secret that Harry McMullan's office is short-staffed. He just doesn't have enough assistant attorney generals to attend to all the multitudinous duties now assigned to that office. Somehow, through sharp organization and long and tedious hours, it gets done.

But that is one reason it isn't going to be easy to find a capable attorney to succeed Hughes Rhodes who died three weeks ago.

Questions on a wide variety of matters which come into McMullan's office every day would test the mind of a Solomon. It's a good place to learn law, but hardly a nook to sit down for a nice, comfortable old age existence. Positions in the office carry some prestige and sometimes lead to lucrative jobs with corporations able to pay better salaries than the state.

Now and then one gets promoted with the state—as George Patton of Franklin, who was an assistant attorney general, then attorney for the State Highway Commission. From there, he became a special superior court judge at the hands of Gov. Cherry in 1947. He was reappointed for another two years last week by Gov. Scott.

B&PW Club Makes Plans For State Convention

The Business and Professional Women's Club met May 28 with Mrs. Alice McBride at Camp Merri-Mac. She was assisted by Mrs. Mary Beth Gudger, Mrs. Elaine Clark, and Mrs. Bessie Carr. Mrs. Gordon Greenwood, president, presided during the business session. Miss Lou Stanfield, Y. W. C. A. activity and recreational director of Asheville, was a guest at the meeting. She assisted in making plans for the state convention to be held in Asheville, May 8 and 9. The Black Mountain group will serve as hostess at a coffee hour Saturday morning, May 9, at the George Vanderbilt hotel. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Members present were: Mrs. William Hickey, Mrs. Charlene Maydwell, Mrs. Edith Holcombe, Mrs. Billie Burgess, Miss Pauline Tipton, Miss Sarah Kitchen, Miss Sarah Thompson, Mrs. Madelon Parks, Mrs. Harrie Danenhower, Mrs. Florence Melton, Mrs. Francis King, Mrs. Greenwood, Mrs. Nancy Wyly, and the hostesses.

Memo from the U. S. A.

We Americans don't get mad easy.

But when we do, look out!

We pitch in and turn out guns, tanks, planes and ships faster than anybody else on earth.

But nobody boots us into line. No commissars. No bayonets. No slave labor. We just get to work—because we've got something to work for . . . our liberties and our freedoms.

And back of our men and machines is electric power--as much as all the rest of the world has.

It's steady, dependable power--the kind provided by our business-managed electric light and power companies--the kind that helped perform production miracles in World War II. Today, these companies have doubled the supply of electric power available before that war--and they're stepping it up all the time.

Yessir, we have power--with more on the way--and we know how to use it. That's a good thing for everybody to remember right now. And it's a good thing for some people here at home to remember when they say "the government" could do a better job of running the electric light and power business.
