Garden Division Learns Value Of Garden Mulch

The regular monthly meeting of the garden division of the Black Mountain Arts Club was held June 11, 6:00 p. m., at the delightful new home of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Leitenberger on the Farm School road. After the members and their guests had inspected the wonders of Mr. Leitenberger's new mulch-making machine, they were invited to look around the beautiful home. The home is proof that a modern house can look at home and blend with the landscape of the woodlands. The division enjoyed a covered dish supper on the terrace, and as usual proved what hearty appetites gardeners have.

Under a fairly new moon and bright evening star the business meeting was called to order by H. McGuire Wood. The division decided to purchase a book on gardening place it in the Black Mountain library in memory of Dr. A. L. Hooker, late chairman of the division. The members went on record as approving the proposed reorganization of the Black Mountain Arts Club and made up a list of suggestions to be presented to the general Arts Club.

At the invitation of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bergthold the September meeting will be held at Chipmunk Lodge.

Fred Schnelz was appointed as a representative from the garden division to the Black Mountain Community Fair committee.

Mrs. W. H. McMurray, program chairman for the evening, introduced Mrs. W. H. Thorne who spoke briefly on how to present specimen blooms at a flower show. She brought out that reading and abiding by the schedule printed for the show was of utmost importance. If the schedule calls for three blooms an entry can be disqualified for having two or four blooms. Mrs. Thorne said that proper disbudding and care of plants is important and to always pick flowers with a long enough stem so it will catch the judge's eye and not be hidden.

Miss Mary B. Stephenson spoke on varieties of vegetables and planting dates best suited for this section of the country.

H. R. Leitenberger talked by way of his tape recorder on the advantages of garden mulch. He brought out that not only was mulch of benefit to the plants and soil, but that mulching was a great labor-saver. He said that mulch could be applied as soon as seed plants were put in the ground, leaving the mulch loose and then directly over rows. Care should be taken not to work the mulch into the ground as it will start to decompose at once and lose its value as a weed killer and moisture retainer. Some mulches take nitrogen from the soil as they decompose also. Anything of fiber content can be chopped up and used as a mulch. Mr. Leitenberger told how in the Penn.-Dutch section the farmers try to return to the soil all that their crops take from it by compost and mulch and that several hundred years of proof have shown this method to be very successful. Plants grown under these conditions are robust enough to combat insects and blight without the help of various sprays.
