

Reflections

By Jack Greenwood

You've been wondering why the tigers blow their horns and every time they pass Ike here's the inside story. Clarence Cook was married recently, his father (Ike) let borrow the family car, a new push button Buick, to visit of the hot spots around and elsewhere. While Clarence and his bride, the former Westall, were having a with friends, some culprit and wrote "Just Married" all over the car, both sides, and back. Although the instrument left the impression of chalk, it must have a sand paper finish. Now the new Buick is destined to the honeymoon message for to come. If Ike ever catches a guy or gal who did that trick, she will carry marks as as the car.

At the installation ceremony of the Lions Club in Jackson county, retiring governor of 31A: man died and woke up in looked to him like paracertainly didn't know when was going to look so like Jackson county," said departed one to the keeper the gate. "Man, what are you talking about?" the gate keeper exploded. "You're not in heaven." All dents and former residents Jackson county please note: it's just a story and the dents aren't mine.

Today an employee got 50 too much in his pay envelope. didn't say anything, but during the week the cashier noticed mistake, so on the next payhe deducted 50 cents. Then employee complained that he 50 cents short. "I said the cashier, "you complain last week." "I," replied the employee. "I mind one mistake, but I feel bound to say something when there are two in succession."

The mighty hunter looked admiringly at the large tiger skin in front of the fireplace. "Yes," he told his wife, "it was either me or the tiger." "Oh," said his wife, "I'm so glad it was the tiger." "You are, darling?" he exclaimed.

"Yes," she replied. "If it had been you, dear, we wouldn't have this lovely rug."

The stranger ambled into the farmyard and was greeted by the farmer. The visitor produced his card and remarked: "I'm a government inspector and am entitled to inspect your farm."

Half an hour later the farmer heard screams from his pasture, where the inspector was being chased by a bull. Leaning over the gate as the inspector came by, the farmer cried: "Show him your card, mister—show him your card."

His Honor: "My good man, under the American system of jurisprudence you are presumed to be innocent."

Defendant: "Then why all the effort to convict me?"

The easiest way to figure out the cost of living is to take your income and add 10 per cent.

A money-grabber is anyone who can grab more money than you can grab.

H. B. Craven and son, James, attended the funeral services held in Durham one day last week for their cousin, J. Edward Pegram. Burial was at Trinity, several miles from Durham.

The Rev. and Mrs. J. J. Johnson came up from Washington, N. C., a few days ago to be at their cottage on Royal Gorge road. Mr. Johnson returned to preach at his church Sunday but will be back the last of the month for several days. Mrs. Johnson will be here all summer.

Friends of Mrs. George W. Davis regret to learn that in an accident which occurred as she stepped from the family car at the Langren hotel, Asheville, one day last week she suffered a broken arm.

Our neighbor, W. L. Snypes, foreman in the gluing department of Morgan Manufacturing company, Swannanoa, recently made an airplane trip to Oshkosh and other points in Wisconsin, and Chicago, in the interest of his company. He returned last Friday from Washington, D. C., where he spent a week in training at the timber engineering laboratory which is sponsored by the National Lumber company and other large interests. Now he thinks he can get in a few more hours of spare time on those two rooms he is building for Mrs. Snypes, Doris and David.

Emily Hollifield, Lynn Morgan and Jean Phillips attended the Girls' auxiliary conference held at Mars Hill college last week.

Doris Snypes was hostess to the local G. A. meeting Tuesday afternoon. The chapter has a membership of about 15. Their meetings are always interesting. Mrs. Elbert F. Hardin is their leader.

It was the privilege and pleasure of this correspondent to attend worship services at Spilman Lodge, Camp Ridgecrest, Sunday morning and hear a splendid sermon by pastor Wylie Peebles, from Philippians 2: 5-11. "The Name of Jesus" was the sermon topic which appealed to all of us and which was effectively developed and presented to those in attendance.

The vacation Bible school at the local church closed Friday afternoon with exercises awarding diplomas to the children who attended. Enrollment for the school was 43. The average attendance was 38. Refreshments were served at a picnic at the close of the school. One little fellow said: "Do we have to stop today, I wish we could go on another week." In charge of the school were the Rev. Cecil M. Perry, pastor of the Ridgecrest church, and a faculty composed of members of the Ridgecrest assembly staff. Larry Power was principal, Sue Eller served as superintendent of juniors, Barbara Potts superintendent of beginners, Zoe Harmon superintendent of primaries. All these workers were volunteers and said they received a great blessing from doing the work.

The boys at Camp Ridgecrest entertained the girls of Camp Merrimac at an informal party at Spilman Lodge on Thursday

Mrs. Simons Honors Son On Birthday

Mrs. Wilbur J. Simons entertained with a lovely dinner at her home Friday evening, July 6, in honor of her son's, Sgt. Wilbur E. Simons, birthday anniversary. The table was most attractive with a brown cloth and chartreuse napkins, centered with an arrangement of pink and purple larkspur and shasta daisies.

Those enjoying the evening were Sgt. Simons, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Eckles III, Mr. and Mrs. Robert May, Miss Nina Bramwell, and members of the Simons family.

Evening of last week. About evenly matched in number, it was no trouble to match boy with girl and girl with boy at refreshment time. Punch and cookies were enjoyed as the group consumed the same in adequate quantity. They had a lot of fun. And why shouldn't young people have a grand and good time at camp and in the right sort of way.
