

NEWS FROM
BROAD RIVER CHURCH

It was announced last Sunday that the regular Sunday afternoon singings would begin again, now that the church has new song books and most of the people around Broad River like to be able to get together and sing. The writer is delighted with the fine turnout during the past few Sundays. We think people are becoming more and more concerned about the work.

The new pews are coming along fine. We have almost one side of the auditorium seated now.

There is an all-day working set for Saturday, August 4, at the church for the purpose of clearing out some underbrush and building new picnic tables now that the "old fashioned homecoming and decoration day" is coming up soon. August 12 to be exact. A big day is expected. The Rev. W. C. Huntley of Balfour, N. C., will be the speaker in the afternoon. Some special singers will be there too.

We are still in need of means to continue our work on the church house and pews, and we believe there are people in the Broad River section who want to work and give, so let's be prepared to make a nice contribution on the "Big Day," August 12. Everyone is invited to bring a well-filled basket and come. All special singers are invited. This invitation goes for our editor, Mr. Greenwood, too. Bring your camera and come enjoy the goodness of the Master with us.
