Delmar Williams has gone back to service with the navy. Everyone enjoyed Delmar's visit. Jack Byrd is at home from Germany and is expecting to be discharged. The Misses Walters new house on Laurel lane is rapidly nearing completion, and McGuire Wood has finished another "Home Beautiful" with the help, of course, of an ingenious and versatile artist. Miss Propst had a painful accident the other day when she cut her hand with a fork while practicing culinary gymnastics.

Joe Bruner took a number of color pictures of the laurel blossoms. He is a member of the Marion camera club. William Brow and T. D. de Vore were also taking color pictures Sunday afternoon. Vaden Marret was very hoarse from a bad throat condition.

There is no more beautiful way of preserving the memory of our loved ones and maintaining the name of our family than with a beautiful family monument. Whether of marble or granite, it is a promise of everlasting time, a symbol of grandeur for the ages.
